Waltre Research Institute.

In the Bill to be presented to Parliament to aid the agricultural research work being conducted at the Waltre Research Institute, it was proposed that the Government should make a money grant for each of the next ten years, beginning with £5,000 for the first year... until it reached £15,000 a year.

The Research Institute and its connection it would be provided that the State should be made responsible for the money which was to be spent... for the year 1927-28, the total amount would be £200,000.

Mr. Spifford said every building in the State produces much more than its fair share of the wheat crop... 22,500,000 as the result of one season's operations.

and her voice was heard to great advantage in the solo numbers, and the choruses. Her singing was of an extremely attractive tone. Her performance, in which the children and themselves for a shorter until the Sandman comes and she awakes in the morning and sings their evening prayer before settling down to thought in their fearsome and unaccounted for by them. Her impressive Miss Bantche Snider, as the Golden Witch, who confronts the lost children throughout were of an exceptionally high standard. Her work was directed by Miss Clive Cary, with Mr. H. Winslow Hall as musical director.

Miss Marie Purdie and Alice Morgan were the pianists. Miss Denise Barry was at the drum, Mrs. M. Skinner as the Sandman, Miss Isabel Burton as the Red Fairy, and Miss G. W. W. as the singing and musical accompaniment. The production was directed by Mr. H. Winslow Hall, with Mr. H. Winslow Hall as musical director.

The Conservatorium Hall held a large audience on Monday evening, when members of the staff gave the ninth concert of varied character. An excellent programme was given by the school. Miss Sylvia Whittington and Mr. George Pearce were associated in the opening of the concert.

Some good solo work was submitted by Miss Sylvia Whittington in a group of six variations of well-contrasted variety. The programme was given with brilliant technical facility. Miss Maude Paddy charmed with her exquisite interpretation of a bracket of pianoforte numbers playing with peer-like clarity of sound and technique. Miss Hilda Gill afforded great pleasure with her intelligent rendering of a group of British songs and two by French composers. Miss Aven and Mr. Pearce shared the evening's accompaniment duties effectively.

The Conservatorium student opera class produced its most ambitious venture in the King's Theatre on Thursday evening last. The result was a performance of Humperdinck's fairy opera "Hansel and Gretel". The opera is a delightful thing, founded on one of Grimm's fairy tales, and makes a special appeal to young people. Too often it is acted by mature artists who have a reputation on the stage. The students' performance had the merit of the student atmosphere of youth and spontaneity which it retains.

With the bright and tuneful music of the young people did exceedingly well, and Mr. Winslow Hall wielded a guiding baton. The musical score was compressed into two parts for two pianos, drums and some other instruments. The performance was well received for excellent effects, and did not tend to obscure the voices.

Mr. Clive Cary was the producer, and the performers showed evidence of careful training.
