

12th. March, 1929.

Gerald Heard, Esq.,
25 Victoria St.,
London,
S.W. 1.

Dear Heard,

The best of luck to your new paper.

If I wrote on population, just now it would be somewhat on the lines of my review in last week's "Nature", under "Population and Depopulation?" Perhaps you have seen it.

I should like to do more justice to this point of view in an expanded form, but it would need a good deal of work, which I should not like to start doing at once.

Are you a quarterly, if so would October suit you?

Yours sincerely,