

MAWSON EXPEDITION committee in conference in Melbourne. Standing (from left)—Mr. J. L. Mulrooney, Mr. F. Strachan, Major R. G. Casey, Dr. A. C. Rivett, Mr A. V. E. Neill. Seated (from left)—Captain McKenzie, Sir Douglas Mawson (leader of the expedition), Mr. E. J. Holloway, Sir David Orme Masson, Rear-Admiral Kerr, Sir Edgeworth David, and Mr. MacPherson Robertson. Adelaide photos by Krischock.

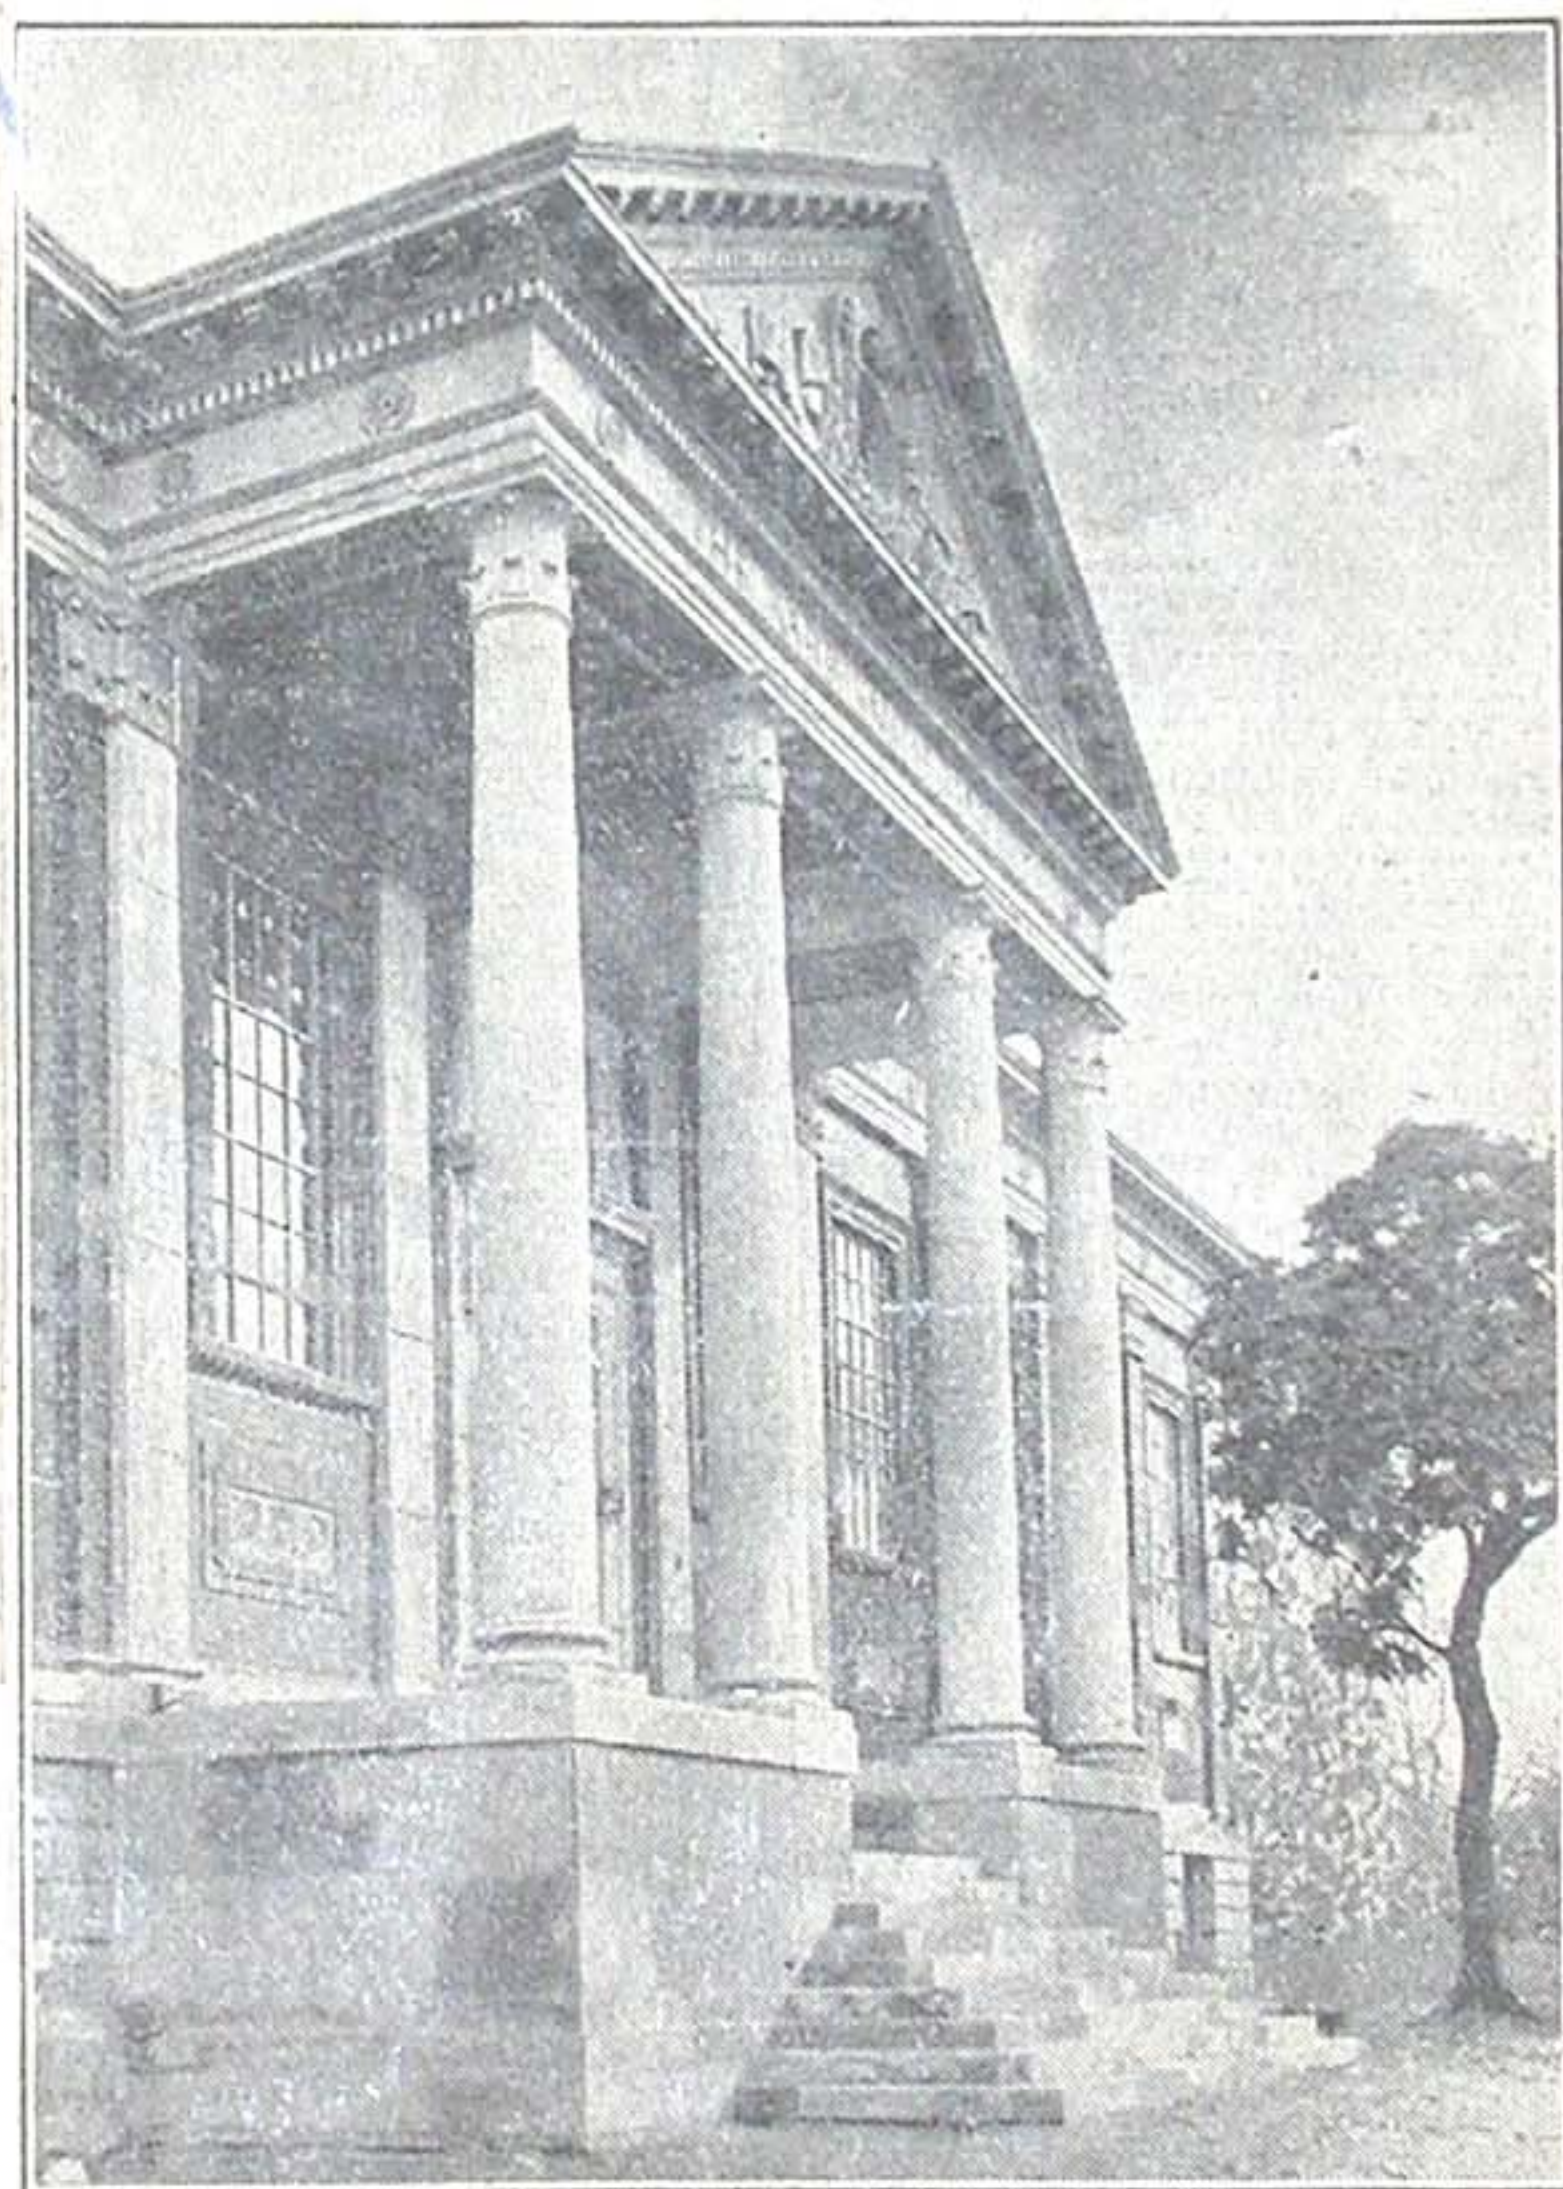

News 10-4-31

Adv. 25-6-31

FOR BUSINESS PEOPLE AND UNIVERSITY STUDENTS—Mr. Orner, F.R.C.O., L.R.A.M., of Elder Conservatorium, at the organ Hall, upon which he will perform each Thursday during the lunch. The popularity of these recitals during the past three years has led him to increase their number to 20 this year.

Adv. 29-7-31

THIS HANDSOME ENTRANCE to the Barr Smith Library nearing completion at the University is English Renaissance in style. Porticos of this type are very suitable for buildings in this State because of the shade given. The columns and sub-structure are of Murray Bridge freestone.

News 10-9-31

THIS CLOCK KEEPS TIME. It will be controlled at the Radio Show at the Exhibition Building from the University. Above—Mr. L. T. Bath and Professor Kerr Grant.

BOTH SIDES of the Sir Joseph Verco Medal, which will be presented tonight on behalf of the Royal Society of South Australia, to Sir Douglas Mawson for his exploration work. It has only been awarded on two previous occasions.