New Entrance Gate to Jubilee Oval

WORKMEN PUTTING FINISHING touches to the new big entrance gates to the Jubilee Oval and Barr Smith Library today.

A FIRST GLANCE AT THIS PHOTOGRAPH may suggest an unusual view of a shooting gallery, or perhaps an upward glimpse in the inside of a tall building in the course of construction. But it is neither of these. What the photograph really is of will be discovered if the reader will look at the top right picture in this page.
