COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA
Copyright Regulations 1969

WARNING

This material has been reproduced and communicated to you by or on behalf of The University of Adelaide pursuant to Part VB of the Copyright Act 1968 (the Act).

The material in this communication may be subject to copyright under the Act.
Any further reproduction or communication of this material by you may be the subject of copyright protection under the Act.

Do not remove this notice.

External Copyright permission (if applicable) - permission received 2006.

For personal use only.

Further information about the conditions of use of this item is available from Special Collections at the Barr Smith Library.
EDITORIAL

In Ancient Rome one day a man was condemned to glorious toper-turdydom. On that day the slaves of Caesar’s house perished in his toga, drunk, no doubt, his choicest Pantheon, and mixed freely with the most patrician men and women.

In Europe they still keep up a shadow and not very spontaneous veneration of the saturnalia—more for the benefit of guileless Americans than anything else. The modern carnival began as a Christian adaptation of that older, sennese, and by no means Christian, festival.

However low its ebb to-day, the carnival is likely to live. For at least one good reason: Everybody—bishops, actresses, judges, children—likes dressing up, because when one does so the action really signifies more than the assumption of a costume. A subtle but definite spirit accompanies the putting-on of every garment.

The spirit which Carnival provides the desire to transmute, to make a bold excursion into the realm of fancy, and that is the spirit whereby the Carnival floats in something rich and strange, and that is the spirit which gives the occasion to the carved and painted masks from whose many unexplored aspects new life will appear.

That is why Carnival is important, and wear spectacles, you will derive great and more profound delight from standing on your head. And if you are one of those who support the Carnival on the head or on the ear, well—be in your very best form on Carnival night, Friday, May 30.

Because that’s our Carnival Night.

It is impossible not to be thrilled by ROSECRANZ AND GULDENSTERN.

"On dit" EXHIBITION AND CARNIVAL

Work for the most part of the remaining evenings is going hard ahead. The Committee and the exhibitors are making good progress. Periodic satisfactory progress is all branches of the project.

The Women’s Union Committee is planning something special for the first outing. With commendable caution, less optimistic members of the committee have almost taken out a Flouria Policy for £30. It is this: If the exhibition is not opened before the last day of the University term, the committee will refund the insurers 50% of the cost of rain falls between the hours of 8:00 and 8:30 on the Carnival night. It is rumoured that a number of University students are working at high pressure on the project for producing light artificial rain which will not wet.

University Ball.

ARRANGEMENTS ALREADY REACHED.

The Ball will be held this year, as usual, in the Refectory; the date provisionally set for this is the 17th of June. The co-operation of the University Women’s Club has again been invited.

The Red Dawn.

In the beginning was some sort of that the dawn of this paper, in a rapidly changing world. "vegetarian" and "Dr. Tashky," one may expect to find evidence of the whole of this, including even "On Dust" nothing really upon its own.

This view is entirely unfounded. "On Dust" has no one to thank for its history of that same story of its giving a false account of the phenomenon. It is the understanding, within the University. Thus, if someone should ask me to explain the origin of Professors and Lecturers, we should have no alternative but to refer to the fact—thereby risking the inevitable answer from the end.

"No Professors, any 'Varsity Students." To counteract this fallacy the editor feel moved almost to reach the statement, the present years of our conservators.

A.L.U.S.

On Tuesday, April 6th, the first debate in the season of the Law Society was made up of the two members of the Law Society, who were the Law lecture room. The question which was dealt with by Mr. N. H. C. and Mr. N. H. C. was, whether a motor car in a road at a speed not exceeding 20 miles per hour, should be publicly allowed to pass on a main road. "On Dust" had such an opportunity to speak on the subject, and was on the whole a satisfactory performance. The question was ably debated. In the debate, both sides showed their thorough understanding of the subject. Mr. N. H. C., for the "yes," and Mr. N. H. C., for the "no," showed their clear and logical arguments.

The question was ably debated. In the debate, both sides showed their thorough understanding of the subject. Mr. N. H. C., for the "yes," and Mr. N. H. C., for the "no," showed their clear and logical arguments.

The question was ably debated. In the debate, both sides showed their thorough understanding of the subject. Mr. N. H. C., for the "yes," and Mr. N. H. C., for the "no," showed their clear and logical arguments.

The question was ably debated. In the debate, both sides showed their thorough understanding of the subject. Mr. N. H. C., for the "yes," and Mr. N. H. C., for the "no," showed their clear and logical arguments.
REPORTS OF SOCIETIES.

A Law School Society.

The On-DIT, May 13th, 1932.

The On-DIT was held at the Oxford-Clarendon Cup race on May 28. Dick Oram, the captain, and Grooms, joint master, were in attendance.

Women's Hockey Club.

The Oxford and Cambridge Hockey Cup was held on May 28. The Oxford team was victorious, 5-2, over the Cambridge team. The match was a close one, with Oxford winning by a narrow margin. The Oxford team was led by Captain E. A., with Goalkeeper R. P., and Forward W. R. The Cambridge team was led by Captain J. W., with Goalkeeper J. H., and Forward G. M.

Sports Association.

The Sports Association was held at the University Sports Ground on May 28. It was a hot and sultry day, but the weather did not dampen the spirit of the participants. The event consisted of a series of track and field events, including running, jumping, and throwing.

The Long Jump was won by Oxford, with Cambridge coming in second. The Marathon was a close race, with Oxford's A. M. winning by a margin of one second. The relay race was won by Cambridge, with Oxford coming in second. The other events were won by Oxford, with Cambridge coming in second in most cases.

The Oxford team was led by Captain E. A., with Goalkeeper R. P., and Forward W. R. The Cambridge team was led by Captain J. W., with Goalkeeper J. H., and Forward G. M.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

MEP.

We would like to announce that we will be holding separate sessions for the Men's and Women's categories of the Oxford-Pan-Pacific Pancake Race. The Men's session will be held at 9:00 AM on June 1, and the Women's session will be held at 11:00 AM on June 1. Both sessions will be held at the University Sports Ground.

The Oxford-Pan-Pacific Pancake Race is scheduled to take place on June 1. The race consists of two divisions, the Men's and Women's categories. The Men's race will be held at 9:00 AM, and the Women's race will be held at 11:00 AM. Both races will be held at the University Sports Ground.

The Oxford-Pan-Pacific Pancake Race is a popular event, with participants from all over the world. The race is open to both men and women, and the winner of each category will receive a trophy and prize money.

The Oxford-Pan-Pacific Pancake Race is a fun and exciting event, and we are looking forward to seeing all of the participants. We hope to see you there!