CORRESPONDENCE.

The Editor

Sir,

Would you allow me space to criticize the whole University, past and present? I cannot

The Editor

Sir, I fear that the letters of an anonymous correspondence are not as rare as some people think. I am afraid that many students are not aware of the many positive things going on in the University. I think that we should encourage this kind of communication and continue to support the efforts of all those who are working to make the University a better place.

The Editor

Sir, I was very pleased to receive your letter. It was a thoughtful and well-written article. I believe that this kind of feedback is essential for the improvement of any institution. I hope that we can continue to have such positive contributions.

The Editor

Sir, The May issue of "On Dit" was a very interesting read. I particularly enjoyed the article on the importance of environmental sustainability. I think that this is a topic that needs more attention in our society.

The Editor

Sir, I want to express my appreciation for all the hard work and dedication that goes into running this publication. I believe that "On Dit" is an important resource for students and alumni alike.

WHAT OF PRIVATE PROPERTY?

On Friday, July 1, Mr. Blaggs addressed the S.C.M. on "What of Private Property?"

We had not heard recently (Jf), said, to criticize the order in which we live, and that kind of criticism didn't pay. Robert Owen had felt that out. Twenty years we shall, most of us, have accomplished and adjusted ourselves to the ways of our "fate," that is, if it is any "fate," for we don't like that word straight without it to be in the present tense. We must, we said, face the problem that we have a nation and that we can't play at being "happy," law giving the law and the"...

The Library Clock.

Returned Mr. Blaggs—it gives me to commit.

Now it would have been a good idea, on an egg.

Or even a small clock, if no better we don't.

If you're getting this one petition to the ears

Perhaps they'd ring it 2 o'clock when we just.

I'm sure if that real you they

They'll something do to save us from a terrible a false.
