COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA
Copyright Regulations 1969

WARNING
This material has been reproduced and communicated to you by or on behalf of The University of Adelaide pursuant to Part VB of the Copyright Act 1968 (the Act).

The material in this communication may be subject to copyright under the Act.
Any further reproduction or communication of this material by you may be the subject of copyright protection under the Act.

Do not remove this notice.

External Copyright permission (if applicable) - permission received 2006.

For personal use only.

Further information about the conditions of use of this item is available from Special Collections at the Barr Smith Library.
Summer Sport, or Better Late than Never.

The winter is over and past, the velocity of the earth is slowing down, and our sports (outdoor) are quickly to begin.

The Players Association has ordered the preparation of its ground; grass and volunteers are to be spent on troweling, fertilizing, and sodding; and, although, laborers have been engaged to help get the Victoria and tennis courts in good order, the match and practice sessions will be in full swing in a few days from now.

The Victoria club is buying new tennis, the west club ships, balls, other clubs are also making preparations for the season. The local club is nothing but a wall and plans to provide weekly practice for as many men as can be taken up to the club. The queen and wrestling club will continue the coaching and practices that have so far been held on with enthusiasm and success.

The men's and women's swimming clubs, which have later, "Tavador," here at the end of the season, are undertaking an activity that has not been seen on with enthusiasm and success.

The two clubs that play at the University, the Victoria and the swimming clubs, will be ready for action in a few weeks, and will be able to offer a fine array of sports to the attention of the students.

The University Association begins to exhibit a new and active spirit, and, to come in the point, seems to have large numbers of students for the season. Men, for the first time this year, are engaged in the sports of the Association, and this should make the University Association the most successful of the season.

About 80 per cent of the women, studied by the writer, are not ready to do their work, but are deciding what the activities of the next season will be. All fall sports are, and are to be, held at the University, and will be supervised by the Victoria and swimming clubs, and are able to provide a regular schedule of outdoor sports for the University, and in the best possible conditions, to as many graduates as possible, so as to help them.

The Victoria and swimming clubs are not only engaged in their usual practice, but also in the preparation of their grounds, and are able to provide a regular schedule of outdoor sports for the University, and in the best possible conditions, to as many graduates as possible, so as to help them.

Although an active spirit is exhibited by the Victoria and swimming clubs, the Victoria and tennis clubs, and the University Association, and the women's association are planning to get the privilege of holding some of the events of the association, and these come, in the point, seems to have large numbers of students for the season. Men, for the first time this year, are engaged in the sports of the Association, and this should make the University Association the most successful of the season.

About 80 per cent of the women, studied by the writer, are not ready to do their work, but are deciding what the activities of the next season will be. All fall sports are, and are to be, held at the University, and will be supervised by the Victoria and swimming clubs, and are able to provide a regular schedule of outdoor sports for the University, and in the best possible conditions, to as many graduates as possible, so as to help them.

The Victoria and swimming clubs are not only engaged in their usual practice, but also in the preparation of their grounds, and are able to provide a regular schedule of outdoor sports for the University, and in the best possible conditions, to as many graduates as possible, so as to help them.

Although an active spirit is exhibited by the Victoria and swimming clubs, the Victoria and tennis clubs, and the University Association, and the women's association are planning to get the privilege of holding some of the events of the association, and these come, in the point, seems to have large numbers of students for the season. Men, for the first time this year, are engaged in the sports of the Association, and this should make the University Association the most successful of the season.

About 80 per cent of the women, studied by the writer, are not ready to do their work, but are deciding what the activities of the next season will be. All fall sports are, and are to be, held at the University, and will be supervised by the Victoria and swimming clubs, and are able to provide a regular schedule of outdoor sports for the University, and in the best possible conditions, to as many graduates as possible, so as to help them.
AULSS.

The last debate for this year took place on Tuesday, September 19, on the question being an interesting constitutional one set by Prof. Campbell. Miss MacGregor, assisted by Mr. Allen, was the negative side, while Mr. Thompson, assisted by Mr. Mackay, was the positive side. The debate was conducted in a most orderly manner, and the audience was greatly interested in the discussion. The question was resolved in favor of the positive side, it being carried by a majority of 4 to 3.

Editor "On Dit".

Dear Sir,-I recently read in your column a small piece about the habit of lecturers and teachers to take the attention of the audience by means of "laddering" or "hanging." I felt that this habit is not only unnecessary but also misleading. It is true that some lecturers and teachers do have a habit of "laddering," but this should not be encouraged. The audience should be given clear and concise information, and not be left to guess what is being said. The habit of "hanging" is also a bad habit, as it is not only distracting but also irritating to the audience. I hope that you will raise this matter in your column.

Yours faithfully, STUDENT.

Yamanouchi, September 19.

Yoo-Yo, My Lady, Yoo-Yo.

Last Friday "Yoo-Yo" people were busily wondering whether they were going to be allowed to dance or not. The"Yoo-Yo" club was closed last week, and the final score of 3-15 was given to a good piano player. The club room was then opened to the public, and a great many people gathered to hear the music. The piano was played by a very good piano player, and the audience was greatly interested in the performance. The"Yoo-Yo" people were then allowed to dance, and the evening was spent in merriment.

On Sunday morning S.C.M. people entered the"Yoo-Yo" club for a council. There were two editions of"On Dit" on this occasion. One edition of"On Dit" was printed, and the other edition contained the addresses of the members of the S.C.M. The council was held on the second floor of the S.C.M. building, and the addresses of the members of the S.C.M. were read. The council was conducted in a most orderly manner, and the members of the S.C.M. were greatly interested in the proceedings. The council was adjourned after a short discussion.

The Harriss, Puna, Corner Street, Adelaide.