COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA
Copyright Regulations 1969

WARNING

This material has been reproduced and communicated to you by or on behalf of The University of Adelaide pursuant to Part VB of the Copyright Act 1968 (the Act).

The material in this communication may be subject to copyright under the Act. Any further reproduction or communication of this material by you may be the subject of copyright protection under the Act.

Do not remove this notice.

External Copyright permission (if applicable) - permission received 2006.

For personal use only.

Further information about the conditions of use of this item is available from Special Collections at the Barr Smith Library.
Mudspots

We regret that we are still in the dark, and cannot publish "Bingham's" question about the money building. Doesn't anyone know?

Since the Union has taken over the Juvenile Club several people have developed corps, which they say are "run on managerial lines," but which are in reality simply divisive and subversive. The Union has taken over the Juvenile Club and has decided to continue the corps in existence. The only issue is whether the Union should have the right to continue the corps. The Union says no, and the corps say yes. The only way to settle this issue is to have a vote of the members of the Union. A vote of the members of the Union would be the only way to settle this issue.

LADIES!
You are cordially invited to

Velette
Toilet
Salon

Kither's Building,
31a King William Street.

HIGH-CLASS WORK.

Special attention and rates for Varsity Students.

MEMORANDUM

The Board of Trustees of the Adelaide University wish to announce that the following persons have been elected to the Board and have been appointed to fill vacancies created by the resignation of members who have been unable to discharge their duties:

Edward J. Reed

Hon. Treasurer

A. W. Brown

Hon. Secretary

G. E. P. Brown

On the recommendation of the Council, the Board has appointed the following persons to fill vacancies created by the resignation of members who have been unable to discharge their duties:

Edward J. Reed

Hon. Treasurer

A. W. Brown

Hon. Secretary

G. E. P. Brown

On the recommendation of the Council, the Board has appointed the following persons to fill vacancies created by the resignation of members who have been unable to discharge their duties:

Edward J. Reed

Hon. Treasurer

A. W. Brown

Hon. Secretary

G. E. P. Brown

On the recommendation of the Council, the Board has appointed the following persons to fill vacancies created by the resignation of members who have been unable to discharge their duties:

Edward J. Reed

Hon. Treasurer

A. W. Brown

Hon. Secretary

G. E. P. Brown

On the recommendation of the Council, the Board has appointed the following persons to fill vacancies created by the resignation of members who have been unable to discharge their duties:

Edward J. Reed

Hon. Treasurer

A. W. Brown

Hon. Secretary

G. E. P. Brown

On the recommendation of the Council, the Board has appointed the following persons to fill vacancies created by the resignation of members who have been unable to discharge their duties:

Edward J. Reed

Hon. Treasurer

A. W. Brown

Hon. Secretary

G. E. P. Brown
ON DIT
Friday, 6th July, 1895.

BUTTERFLIES.

The presence, in over-increasing numbers, of butterflies in the University has puzzled us not a little, and we feel convinced that whether you reason gently with them or roar like a blustery hurricane, they seem determined to drive these people away. So that we take pleasure in announcing that we have hit upon a scheme of action which would effectively deal with the girl menace in the Varisty.

Shortly, the proposal is to incarcerate all the women during the daylight hours. We would give the prizes luxuriously appointed and make it the most pleasant form of incarcuration possible, only their freedom being fated the love captives. The hours of daylight would pass pleasantly for them, for numbers of frock shops and tea shops would be provided.

From the point of view of the men, the plan is even better. They would find that the presence of women among them at night-times would be as delightful as, before the adoption of the plan, in the daytime it was distracting. They wouldn't, I suppose, about their studies in a sober and scholarly fashion, as they should. At night the girls would come out in glorious array from their prison and the dignified and elevated manners of them, no more would be broken by the boom of the drum, the wall of the saxophone, and peals of laughter.

But, to serious, it is time something was done about the butterflies. We were talking with a young undergrad the other day when he said that he sometimes worked at a bench between two of the co-eds. He found from them that the subject upon which they were engaged was the only one they took. They had never before received instruction in the subject nor had either of them materialized. But they were, as you will have guessed, having the time of their young lives in the Varisty social whirl. We believe that there are numbers like them.

We can now do no more than renounce with the butterflies, but private manoeuvres which build up so many of our ornamental buildings might yet provide us with the luxurious prison. We can but await the happy day.

PUBLICAN AND PARSON.

Propagation Propaganda.

On Thursday, 27th May, Mr. M. P. Renton took the chair at a most impressive and successful meeting of the Propaganda Society, which last evening was well attended. About 80 members present will show that the public to be interested was of great importance.

The debate had a rather unique feature, in that the teams were led by Thomas L. Scott and Mr. J. N. Newman of the "Southern Cross" respectively. The arguments involved the question of the exportation of liquor in Australia should be prohibited.

The Rev. Mr. Lade opened the attack for the Prop, by presenting a report which had been prepared for the last decade at least.

He built up his arguments from the dead animal, in the form of liquor, who was smothered in the flames. The problem was one of manufacture, sale, and transport, the ignorance could be dealt with, for liquor is a commodity. To prove this, he said that one could consume in one bedroom or in Central Aus., but would not be able to drink in London or in Paris. Besides, he could not be charged with the liquor, it had been poured into the stream.

Hence, the best thing to do was to legislate for the sale of the drink, as the case with nicotine and opium. As soon as a drink reaches a certain degree of gravity it should be controlled. If any of it was to be a problem, the state should, in effect, control the sale. The police and public authorities should be in a fit case for the police and public authorities, especially the latter, as it damages his psychology.

The Rev. Mr. Lade then said, he was going to convince you that you should increase the Tax on alcohol, and not control it. We regret to report that he failed in his task.

An example was then given to us by Mr. C. J. Scott of Ireland, who was present in Melbourne. His point was that in South Africa the rate of death from alcohol was very small, and in the case of South Africa it was a bad health of professional scholars. He said that both these men had had ten pieces of wine instead of one, the breaths were absolutely "bathing," and would make any alcohol and deduct it from their body. Now, this is aboard case of the alcohol.

There is only one point in favour of the drinking of alcohol, and that is one who is a bad habit in the old age, and many cases make one feel free and easy, and I'm not a worry.

The Rev. Mr. Lade stated that he had a speech prepared in which he would present the case, and quoted a remark of Mr. Otto Demuth, made at Sydney Town Hall, that the, the condition of the working girls, and men of all classes in that city, is a loss to the community. He quoted that of Mr. Lade, the master of the Council, who said in Parliament, "Here, take my tip and you can never encourage."

He then mentioned the resolution of the Public School Board that the sale of public schools should be prohibited, and that it was a bad thing, and we are all, and nowhere services. The argument was that the only drink which was used in the working classes, and other drinks were under legislation. The question was taken up the end of the debate, and for his side, and for nothing but the delay should speak in its absence.

The Rev. Mr. Lade pointed out that the proposition would have to be done, and he would urge the Government to take into consideration the question of the exportation of liquor in Australia should be prohibited. He informed us that this is not the means to drink and for longer hours for the exportation of the meal was as old as distribution, and the drink would have to be a good for the public, and that he would make it known to you all.

The Rev. Mr. Lade, on the other hand, gave notice that he would be in opposition to the amendment, and that it was in the best interests of the country that it should be as it was.
Correspondence.

SIRs,

My pleasure in observing In one of your Baptist Sunday School papers is a subject which has been to me lately. I am interested in the education of children, and believe in the importance of moral and religious instruction. I have noticed that the Baptist papers have given a great deal of attention to this subject, and I am glad to see that the Baptist Council has been active in promoting the cause of education.

In this connection, I would like to draw your attention to the case of the poor child who has been neglected by his family. It is a sad thing to see children growing up in poverty, and I believe that more money should be spent on education in order to help these children.

I am sure that you will agree with me that the Baptist papers should continue to support the cause of education, and that more should be done to help the poor children of the world.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

SIR,

I agree with you that the Baptist papers should give more attention to the cause of education. I have been to a few schools lately, and I have seen how much the children need help.

I have heard that the Baptist Council is planning to start a new school for poor children. I think this is a very good idea, and I hope that it will be successful.

I am sure that the Baptist papers will support this new school, and that they will help to raise the money needed to start it.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

SIR,

I have noticed that the Baptist papers have given a great deal of attention to the cause of education. I think this is very important, and I believe that more money should be spent on education in order to help the poor children of the world.

I have heard that the Baptist Council is planning to start a new school for poor children. I think this is a very good idea, and I hope that it will be successful.

I am sure that the Baptist papers will support this new school, and that they will help to raise the money needed to start it.

Yours truly,

[Signature]

SIR,

I have been to a few schools lately, and I have seen how much the children need help.

I have heard that the Baptist Council is planning to start a new school for poor children. I think this is a very good idea, and I hope that it will be successful.

I am sure that the Baptist papers will support this new school, and that they will help to raise the money needed to start it.

Yours truly,

[Signature]
Sports

SATURDAY, 12TH JUNE.

At a loss to undertake, 10–4.

Best players—Dr. Ellis, Sharp, Burden, Blore, Bevington, Seddon, Simms, M. A. Bird, D. A. Bird, W. D. Allen.

BASKETBALL.

At a loss to decide which player to play, 5–7.

Best players—Swanson, Allen, Bevington, Bevan, Simms, Seddon, M. A. Bird, D. A. Bird.

LACROSSE.

At a loss to decide which player to play, 5–7.

Best players—Dr. Ellis, Sharp, Burden, Blore, Bevington, Seddon, M. A. Bird, D. A. Bird.

RUGBY.

At a loss to decide which player to play, 5–7.

Best players—Dr. Ellis, Sharp, Burden, Blore, Bevington, Seddon, M. A. Bird, D. A. Bird.

FOOTBALL.

At a loss to decide which player to play, 5–7.

Best players—Dr. Ellis, Sharp, Burden, Blore, Bevington, Seddon, M. A. Bird, D. A. Bird.

SOCIETY NOTES.

At a loss to decide which player to play, 5–7.

Best players—Dr. Ellis, Sharp, Burden, Blore, Bevington, Seddon, M. A. Bird, D. A. Bird.

Sociology

At a loss to decide which player to play, 5–7.

Best players—Dr. Ellis, Sharp, Burden, Blore, Bevington, Seddon, M. A. Bird, D. A. Bird.

Chocolates

MacRobertson's Quality in Chocolates

"The Admirer" Print, Adelaide.