Stormy Union Meeting

GAPPLIED

A meeting of the Politics Club was held on Thursday, March 26th, at the Lady Stumpy Hall. Mr. C. G. Amos took the chair and welcomed the speakers for the meeting. Mr. K. K. Wilson, who outlined the policy of the Young Liberal League, and presented some interesting aspects of world and Australian affairs.

Featuring with the question of international law and the League of Nations, Mr. Wilson said it was essential to keep in mind that all legal disputes were to be settled by the League of Nations, and not by force. The League of Nations was intended to prevent the use of force in international disputes, and to settle disputes by arbitration or other peaceful methods.

Politics Club

On the question of democratic affairs, the speaker dealt with the workings of the Federal Constitution, and the principles that should govern the administration and taxation. He said that the present Constitution had proved very unsatisfactory in practice, and had not even been so far as to be considered a success in its own sphere.

R. H. Olin assumed, and the votes were carried, with a show of resistance.

When the question of international law and the League of Nations was broached, Mr. Wilson said it was essential to keep in mind that all legal disputes were to be settled by the League of Nations, and that if the League of Nations were to be effective, it was not possible by force to prevent the use of force in international matters.

Professor Wilkinson Leaves for Queensland

Professor A. W. Wilkinson, the older member of the Anthropological and Ethnological Society of South Australia, and a member of the Australian National Research Council and of the Anthropological Society of Great Britain, has been offered the position of a fellow of the Royal Society of South Australia. For the past three years he has been President of the Union, and has made a number of outstanding contributions to the ornithological and entomological literature of the Union.

On coming Friday, the fifth of March, the students will receive their examination results.

Mr. Wilson concluded that the test of scholarship should be whether the work was such as would secure to the individual the confidence of the world, and not whether it was consistent with the general good of the community. Individually, it must necessarily be scrutinized in some respects, but the only test where this you justified was when the students had made experiments in their own spheres.

On the subject of taxation, two elements provided the test of citizenship. One was the question of what tax should be paid, and the other the "ability" to pay the tax. When a need for raising or reducing facilities was felt in the community, it was necessary to provide for the people to pay the tax. Measured by this test, much recent agitation fell into the category of "irresponsible patriotism," which was found necessary to help the people to pay the tax.

At 11 a.m. the chairman announced the conclusion of the programme, and a representative of the committee was appointed to publish the official programme column.

Numerous histories have been received from the students for the subject of the evening meeting, and a representative of the committee was appointed to publish the official programme column.

CORRESPONDENCE

THE POLITIC CLUB.

Editor:

I met the President of the Politic Club yesterday and asked him some leading questions about the student who is going to be a judicial official. He replied that he was fully aware of the situation and that it was a matter of great concern to the Student's Representative Council. He also mentioned that the student Union had been working on this issue for some time, and that they were hoping to make some progress soon.

I was interested to hear his views on the matter and he was kind enough to invite me to attend a meeting of the student Union, which he said would be held on Tuesday evening. I accepted his invitation and was looking forward to attending the meeting.

UNION MEETING.

Editor:

Last Tuesday evening I attended the regular meeting of the student Union. It was attended by a large number of students and was well-attended. The meeting was called to order by the President, who called for the roll and the roll was taken.

The President then addressed the members and the following resolutions were passed:

1. That the Union submit a petition to the University to request that the University provide additional funds for student activities.
2. That the Union support the strike of the teachers and the students.
3. That the Union work to improve the living conditions of the students.

The meeting concluded with a discussion on the university's policy on free speech and the need for more student representation.

I was impressed by the passion and commitment of the students to their cause, and I believe that their demands are valid and should be addressed by the university.

Yours faithfully,

W. D. Allen.
GARNETIE GRAMOPHONE.

As every member of the Union may present at the spring social last Friday night, an enormous number of horns were superfluous to refer until in the reception of the Garden Gramophone Society. In the Music Hall of the Library Conservatory there resides an electric gramophone, 500 records, covering a wide range of the best classical music, a number of other gramophones and a small library of books on music. The set is available from 5 to 9 p.m. and 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Library. The books in the Library are subject to the society's hours and the records are not available until 5 p.m. in the Library.
