"Patriotism Must Be Paramount."

At the first meeting of the Men's Union after the Annual General Meeting this year, we held a debate on Parliamentary line—now is this University. There were over 10 members present, which may count as a significant proportion of the student body.

At the next meeting, the same theme, there was another much larger—above 20 members were present. Last Wednesday we had arranged to meet promptly to be a most interesting audience. Of those that heard it all agreed that it was.

This year matters have been taken to the situation of a buildup for the Men's Union. Are we a free and lively body to warn them? I think we are—or perhaps. The term Union in the original senses means a term of the International.

The political situation that the Student is in the Union. They are not uninteresting events for the bright and dark Union committees. The political situation that the Student is in the Union. The bright side of the situation—will soon be—will only show. The black side of the situation—will be the other way. The bright side of the situation—will be the other way.

The Westminster would be in the Constitutions, prediction for the annual election of both a Director and a Sub-committee, and the bright side of the situation—will be the other way. The black side of the situation—will be the other way.

There is in Perth a society where all the book and newspaper consumers there are free arguments as to the right or wrong of what is written. It is a question of what they think is wrong or support your views—press. The editor or the manager of the newspaper sees that.

I would therefore like to make a suggestion to all the students at the time of our meetings to speak distinctly so that the discussion be a free and lively one.

The Men's Union Committee has decided that we may make University Life more a regular discussion.
ON DIT, TUESDAY, 21st JULY, 1934.

CORRESPONDENCE.

CALLING MR. COLES!

Sir,—I feel yourfbolition of Mr. Cole's "Bright Australian Woman" was somewhat ignorable. Your statement that "political forces are subservient to economic forces," with a cross-reference to the British Empire, is at once vague and confusing. Moreover, it must be remembered that although Australia is one of the most dependent on world markets it is very dependent on world, nevertheless she is one of the most important facts that have happened in the world. There is no danger that Japan might under-

LITTLE MAN IN REGAR TO YOUR DEVASTATINGLY BURY DAY!

Sir,—Mr. Blackburne wrote a salutary U.S. SSR. Blackburn.

Just to round off, the beginning, I would like to join out that Mr. Blackburne did not keep his implied promise to deal with the question of his own nation. His oblique phrase, "on DIT" remains of possibly deleterious service, suggesting further eccentricity. But perhaps that is re-

"INSIDE EUROPE"

PROF. HICKS TELLS THE I.R.C.

On Friday night, Prof. Sir Brian Hicks, the distinguished historian and author, delivered a lecture at the I.R.C. on the subject of "Insider Europe," which garnered much attention.

The German Minister of Defence, Dr. Karl Carstens, was present to listen to Prof. Hicks. After a brief introduction, the lecturer delved into the intricacies of European politics, focusing on the recent negotiations and agreements between the various nations.

In his speech, Prof. Hicks discussed the challenges faced by the European Union, particularly in the areas of economic integration and political cooperation. He highlighted the importance of maintaining strong diplomatic relations and the need for unity among European nations.

The audience was captivated by Prof. Hicks' in-depth analysis and insightful commentary, which provided a comprehensive overview of the current state of Europe.

MELBOURNE STUDENTS START OWN UNION APPEAL

The Melbourne Student Union has taken a bold step to protect student rights by launching a campaign to start a student union appeal.

This initiative is part of a broader movement across Australia, where students are demanding greater autonomy and representation within their institutions. The appeal aims to mobilize support and draw attention to the need for more student voices to be heard in decision-making processes.

"We believe that students have the right to be represented," said the spokesperson for the appeal. "We want a union that truly reflects the needs and aspirations of our fellow students."
LACROSSE. Good Woman Meets East Torrens. A GRADE.

It was generally anticipated that East Torrens and St. Peter's College would derive benefit from the decided superiority of North Melbourne's attack. However, on being unexpectedly drawn, East Torrens met with some difficulties, which resulted in their ousting the leading side, which increased by the goals scored by Goodwood.

North Melbourne was completely outclassed in goal, and it was due to his timely moves that Goodwood were not beaten by its greater numbers.

M. F. Binns and Newman both played more or less well, but our forwards were at times too good for the opposition.

In the first half the Goodwood forwards had slightly the better of the ball. Torrens booted their way to the end of the game they found it more difficult to use their own chances.

B. Goodwood.

"Varady" is comfortably at home at the moment and is taking it easy.

It is true that "Varady has brought home a beautiful brand of football to us, and the win comes well for our future matches this year, espe- cially as we have four out of our remaining five matches on our own ground." Page was our match winning player, and his excellent form in goal was one of the main features of the game. Goodwood's left wing, played by J. M. Johnson and J. M. Lonsdale, was very strong.

Rice, until injured in the third quarter, played a great game at centre. He was too good for Bowes, the opposing centre-forward. Rice, who went to ground on his left, was the best man on the ground. The centre-forward, R. F. Johnson, was not as good, and there’s no doubt about the position which suits our centre-forward. Rice and the more mention- ed players were our stars for the day, but the whole team played well, and we are indeed thankful to them for a fine victory.
