COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA
Copyright Regulations 1969

WARNING

This material has been reproduced and communicated to you by or on behalf of The University of Adelaide pursuant to Part VB of the Copyright Act 1968 (the Act).

The material in this communication may be subject to copyright under the Act.
Any further reproduction or communication of this material by you may be the subject of copyright protection under the Act.

Do not remove this notice.

External Copyright permission (if applicable) - permission received 2006.

For personal use only.

Further information about the conditions of use of this item is available from Special Collections at the Barr Smith Library.
ON TUESDAY, 20th APRIL, 1937

MEN’S UNION
THE NEW POLICY

Those who were present at the meeting of the Men’s Union, held in the Golden Hall of the Students’ Union, last week, were surprised by the energetic policy of the new Men’s Committee. The new committee has been formed to deal with the management of the new Men’s Union activities, and to bring the organization of the union into line with the requirements of the University. The committee is composed of five members, and is under the chairmanship of Mr. T. H. Black. The committee will meet regularly, and will discuss all matters relating to the activities of the union. The committee is under the guidance of the new Men’s Union officers, and will be responsible for the organization of the union. The committee will meet regularly, and will discuss all matters relating to the activities of the union. The committee is under the guidance of the new Men’s Union officers, and will be responsible for the organization of the union.
Students and the Amateur Theatre

How much support are University people giving amateur theatrical companies in Adelaide? For too little—say we no protestation. Professor J. M. Stewart has steadily galvanised some of his bright, young, intellectual people into some little interest, and has imposed a paternal load on his shoulders. But do not the University men realise that at least four groups are bringing in Adelaide, every month or so, plays which otherwise we could not hope to see? Yes, but in the past Sturt Society work did well with "Night Must Fall," the Independent Theatre is giving us "As an Orange Tree" and "The Madwoman of Chaillot," the Reedy and Parnell are on the stage, and the Theatre Guild has a new production of "Major Barbara." After years of starvation we promise of a good theatrical season. Whether production and acting comes anything looks or not, this year we feel the whole show is going to be a fine one, and to enjoy ourselves. Let's see these ventures "flourish" if want of "Varsity supports. Take the fair with the good, and make your years brighter by encouraging the continuance of our most excellent work.

Scotland Calling!

We have received from the Student Representative Council of Edinburgh University an attractive little publication, "Consecrating their Careers in 1898," by Robert M. Stewart, and we quote from it as follows:

"Dear Mr. Stuart,

In the critical times we live in, when old ideals are being thrust aside, it is admirable to look back to the strength and spirit of the British Constitution. Would it not be better for poor misguided, frustrated students like us? Our feelings are not unfriendly to them."—Letter to "Advertiser," 24/3.

The Church and the Modern Woman

The Church, modern, is fighting a modern life battle with a modern young lady who is finding an open-air life too much for her physical and moral recuperations. —News item in "Advertiser," 26/3.

This World of Ours

For the first time in their history the Chrysler Corporation produced 70,000,000 cars and trucks in one year. The confident outlook contrasts sharply with the depressed situation of 1929, when 4,500,000 firms were liquidated and 10,000,000 people were unemployed. —"Motor," January 5.
A SPANISH Muddled P.R.C. CROWD

Most people turned to be be "Spanish youth" published in the P.R.C. paper, but no serious attempts were made to represent the Spanish people as living under the domination supported by Catholic opinion. It is not. The truth of the "Spanishness" lies elsewhere, whether or not he be "Spanish". A Catholic is not known any more to have practiced that Tregu's "Keya" (Keya is not a Catholic's work). This description is typical of Communist propaganda.

Typically, also, in the way which all the elements fighting against the foreign error are deliberately confused under the common name of "Spanish", and thus make objects of suspicion. Passion has always played a negligible part in Spanish politics, and Fascism is a very small proportion of Spanish forces.

It would be said that the "Daily Telegraph" has one of the largest circulations in Spain, the "News Chronicle" on the other hand, is not reported by the foreign press, outside its own country. The "News Chronicle" is, of course, a newspaper that follows the policy of the Spanish Communist party, and it is destinied to the class of the workers and the people.

On the few instances it has been possible to read its articles, it is clear that some principal ideas like Cordova, who wrote of the Spanish Communist party, and other old men, now are more prominent in Spanish politics, and Fascism is a very small proportion of Spanish forces.

On the few instances it has been possible to read its articles, it is clear that some principal ideas like Cordova, who wrote of the Spanish Communist party, and other old men, now are more prominent in Spanish politics, and Fascism is a very small proportion of Spanish forces.

On the few instances it has been possible to read its articles, it is clear that some principal ideas like Cordova, who wrote of the Spanish Communist party, and other old men, now are more prominent in Spanish politics, and Fascism is a very small proportion of Spanish forces.

On the few instances it has been possible to read its articles, it is clear that some principal ideas like Cordova, who wrote of the Spanish Communist party, and other old men, now are more prominent in Spanish politics, and Fascism is a very small proportion of Spanish forces.

On the few instances it has been possible to read its articles, it is clear that some principal ideas like Cordova, who wrote of the Spanish Communist party, and other old men, now are more prominent in Spanish politics, and Fascism is a very small proportion of Spanish forces.

On the few instances it has been possible to read its articles, it is clear that some principal ideas like Cordova, who wrote of the Spanish Communist party, and other old men, now are more prominent in Spanish politics, and Fascism is a very small proportion of Spanish forces.

On the few instances it has been possible to read its articles, it is clear that some principal ideas like Cordova, who wrote of the Spanish Communist party, and other old men, now are more prominent in Spanish politics, and Fascism is a very small proportion of Spanish forces.

On the few instances it has been possible to read its articles, it is clear that some principal ideas like Cordova, who wrote of the Spanish Communist party, and other old men, now are more prominent in Spanish politics, and Fascism is a very small proportion of Spanish forces.
Libraries in South Aust.

One of the topics of discussion at the recent meeting of the South Australian Library Association was the question of University libraries and the possibility of their representation on the Committee of the State Library. The association of such libraries with the State Library has been a matter of discussion for some time, and the idea of creating a separate body for the representation of university libraries has not been entirely without advocates.

The meeting heard that one of the most important objections to the proposal was the lack of adequate legal provision for the establishment of such a body. It was suggested that the matter should be referred to a committee for further consideration.

Dr. Price's report

The report of Dr. Price, the Librarian of the South Australian Library, was received with interest. He said that the Library had made good progress during the past year, and that the activities of the Library had been of great benefit to the community.

The Memorial Library

Dr. Price also commented on the Memorial Library, which had recently been established. He said that the Library was well on the way to becoming a real institution, and that it would provide a valuable resource for the community.

The Public Library

The report also included a section on the Public Library, which had been opened recently. Dr. Price said that the Library was already well used, and that it was proving to be a great success.

Dr. Price's resignation

It was announced that Dr. Price was resigning as Librarian, and that a search for a successor would be undertaken. The search would be conducted by a committee appointed by the State Library Council.