HAVE YOU GOT T.B.?

OUR DUTY TO OURSELVES AND THE COMMUNITY

By A. McF. THOMSON

Here few people, even amongst University students, realise the appalling havoc that is wrought by T.B.

It is not only death in many cases, but that they die so young, just at the prime of life, when they are beginning to earn, to get married, and to take their place in the life of this world.

And for every one that dies, twenty more are rendered unfit for useful life. This is most distressing to think, and I am not satisfied that South Australia alone has five people die every week of T.B., mostly between the ages of 15 and 25. We have, in every single case, five people pick up the stigma which leads to their death or partial disfigurement.

The cost in money is enormous. In one family alone, in three generations, T.B. has cost the State in money something like £2,500, in labor values even more, and in suffering—who can tell?

The point is that every bit of it is ABSOLUTELY UNNECESSARY.

You may get T.B.!

Yes, you and your friends, and then be cured of it, too, if it is taken in time.

How long do you think it is on the average before a person realizes he has T.B. in Victoria, that centre of Measles, amongst those under 14 years of age is THREE YEARS!

What chance has the student then, when he is a student of only 17 months of age?

Tuberculosis Can Be Cured If——

Only it is discovered in the early stages, and do the thing as EXAMINED REGULARLY and you will not feel ill or get sick.

The doctor who takes you all over, listens scrupulously through the stethoscope, and then says, "You are as fat as a hog, not a bit of T.B. about you." is talking through the back of his neck. He means that what he has heard is noise, consistent with no T.B. as known. If you think this is the case, keep up your activities, and in this way only, can we stamp out T.B. altogether.

The opportunity is there, in every case, to stop enough of the disease to make up to 9 out of 10 of T.B. patients.

Those who do not know are the ones who spread it.

Therefore, for your own sake, advise everyone to go to a doctor.

Of course, if you can afford to pay for the more careful service from one of the 3,000 you do not do it. It will really repay you.

The very least that you should do is to go once a year, at least to a doctor, and in contact with T.B., go ever so slightly, or more often, at a frequency which can be arranged.

In the way only, can we stamp out T.B. altogether. The opportunity is there, in every case, to stop enough of the disease to make up to 9 out of 10 of T.B. patients.

Ask anyone at the Adelaide Hospital. They will direct you to the T.B. Clinic, or take the drive from Port Road, and it is the first building on the right—a new one, of brick.

The exact address of this is Eton Street, and has been appointed and co-operate, for they themselves have the ideals, and also are in the self group which T.B. most often occurs.

This is the first step in the campaign to detect disease early, and to prevent its spread. Do your bit in it.

And for your own sake, as for that of others, Play Safe.

WHY PROFESSOR WOOD JONES RETIRED

The resignation of Professor F. Wood Jones from the Chair of Anatomy in the University of Adelaide, has caused considerable interest in Adelaide, and Professor Wood Jones, formerly of the University of Sydney, has been in residence in the capital at the end of this year, to take the Chair of Anatomy at the University of Melbourne, where the medical student body doubles the number of students, and where, it is believed, the number of new students will be increased.

As a result, Professor Wood Jones is leaving to take up a similar post in Sydney, and the University of Adelaide has been left with a considerable load of work.

The government of the University has now appointed Professor Wood Jones as the new Chair of Anatomy, and the government has already been in contact with Professor Wood Jones to discuss the matter.

The government has also been in contact with Professor Wood Jones to discuss the matter, and the government has already been in contact with Professor Wood Jones to discuss the matter.

No wonder the Melbourne "Argus" described the offer to the University of Adelaide as "a shot in the dark." The Melbourne "Argus" might have had in mind the resignation of Professor Wood Jones from the Chair of Anatomy in the University of Melbourne, as the Melbourne "Argus" has noted that the resignation of Professor Wood Jones has been accepted by the University of Melbourne, and the government has already been in contact with Professor Wood Jones to discuss the matter.

ST. MARK’S COLLEGE

For the first time for two years the college, with the help of the Annmary Langat, has won a football match, and as a result, the Adelaide University has been featuring the fates of its more honourable members.

In spite of the fact that our annual luncheon has not been attended by us, we have been dispossessed from our work on two occasions in the last week, one under Mr. King’s two comebacks, and the other under the half of the new song, and later, when the nerval frame of Mr. Whitty’s temperature caused certain fatal harm of our members out of their rooms.

The college “s-crew” have arrived with uplift spirit the R.C. committee one for tomorrow, second time unfortunately at a letting session.

The roar of “San Francisco” recalled, of all the “Pride With Me” Thursday night, when the first practice of the college’s “work” was held in the Commons Room. We regret that the college has no expression.

Community Part SLAging

The new Fellowship Young Books have arrived, and will be given their first sitting at Tuesday, (36th), at 12:50 p.m., in the Lady Smith Hall. Roll call, followed by prayer and singing of “Nearer My God to Thee.”

Graduate Co-operation

At a recent meeting of the UNCG, Mr. T. H. MacMillan, M.A., who was a graduate of the University of Edinburgh, suggested that this association might be of considerable interest to the graduates of St. Mark’s College. The secretary was asked to investigate the idea.

THIEVES IN THE NIGHT

As I was walking the North Tar- ranu, the other night, on my way to a dance at the Refinery, my little grey cat, Mabel, was stolen. I had placed her in the basket of my bicycle, hoping to return for her after the dance. I returned home about 11 o'clock, and found the basket empty. I immediately ran around the neighborhood, and placed posters on all the streets. However, I have not been able to find my little grey cat. If anyone has seen her, please let me know. Thank you.

MELBOURNE CRITICISM—AND AN OFFER

The following letter has been received from John F. Smith, a well-known Melbourne critic, and offers an article for the Melbourne Review for the summer of 1937. The offer is most welcome, and we are looking forward to the article on the subject of Australian literature.

MELBOURNE, June 27, 1937.

It is that time of year when many of our colleagues are attending to the end-of-year doldrums. I have been reading Smith's recent collection of poems, and I must say that I am impressed. The poems are full of life and vitality, and I believe that they will be well received by our readers. I would be grateful if you could arrange for the publication of the collection in the Melbourne Review.

Yours sincerely,

POLITICAL ECONOMY SCHOOL AT VICTOR HARBOR

The school this year, held over the weekend of June 30-July 2, was poorly attended by visitors. Among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Neale, Mr. and Mrs. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Flood, and Mr. and Mrs. Good.

The first three papers presented were all on the topics of political economy, and they were well received by the audience. The fourth paper, by Dr. Smith, was on the subject of current events, and it was appreciated for its fresh perspective.

In conclusion, I would like to say that we have enjoyed another successful year at the Political Economy School at Victor Harbor.

Yours sincerely,
