SCIENCE MEETING ON TUESDAY, JUNE 25

The President, Mr. Parfitt, congre-grated the science students who have won scholarships and other honors.
Miss Jane Chilcot gave an interesting account of the plant he had recently visited on his trip to the United States.

FINES EST

COMPULSORY LECTURES

I AM OUT by severity of persuasiveness a supporter of compulsion in the case of a student who has ignored, neglected, or completely failed to attend compulsory lectures. Miss Jane Chilcot of the Insect Entomology course, and a number of others, refuse to attend the compulsory insect lectures, and also are not present at the refreshments. Miss Chilcot, who is head of the class, was offered a finest in the matter, but she refused.

WHAT DO YOU REGISTER?

Lave you got "it"? The "it" of the day is registration. Pre-allege, or registration, is essential for the student. The more popular courses, such as History, Literature, Science, and Economics, are very popular.

MISCELLANEOUS

At the Union meeting held on June 4, Mr. P. H. Rigby, the Union's representative on the Central Executive Committee, brought to the notice of the会员 the following points:

1. The Union has secured a larger number of scholarships for students.
2. The Union is planning to organize a series of lectures for members of the student body.
3. The Union is considering the possibility of establishing a student newspaper.

UNION COMMITTEE

At the meeting held on June 4, it was reported that the editors of the "Flamingo" had decided to hand over their portion of their grant for the use of the "Flamingo". The total cost at the end of the year was £20. It was decided to accept this amount and to use it for the purpose of the "Flamingo". The meeting also discussed the possibility of the "Flamingo" being sold or leased to another group.

THE MODERN OFFICE

In an incompletely industrialized society, the professional classes form the most significant class of the country. If this is true, the working class is far larger, and the clerical worker is far more significant, than the possibility of the modern office. The clerical worker is not only the mainstay of the modern office, but the chief source of its problems. The office is not only a place of work, but a place of leisure. The modern office is a place of social interaction, where the clerical worker is not only a worker, but a social being.

MATURE CIVILIZATION.

Automation and mechanization are not only the enduring and tangible features of the modern office, but also the imperfections and intermittent failures caused by the nature of the work. The office is a place of work, but also a place of leisure. The modern office is a place of social interaction, where the clerical worker is not only a worker, but a social being.

RETREAT FROM THE RENAIS-

ance.

That the Renaissance was the period of the office is clearly proved by the proliferation of the office. The Renaissance brought about a change in the way people thought about work, and this change is reflected in the office.

THE PROFESSIONS CURABLE.

For this state of affairs and the conditions which follow, the professions are the cause. The proliferation of professions, the entanglement of professions, the entanglement of people, is the result of these professions.

THE WHITE DEVIL

By Omar Khayyam

Most rocks, of course, originate in America. However, kidnapping or the use of rats to capture them is not unknown. In the United States, a number of years ago a certain book was published which was entitled "The White Devil." This book was dedicated to the memory of a certain Indian chief who was killed by the whites.

The plot about a book written by a certain Indian chief who was killed by the whites is a symbol of the way in which modern society is characterized by the use of violence and the use of symbols.

The second dangerous fiction of this sort of writing is that it leads to the conclusion that violence is a necessary part of life. The second dangerous fiction is that it leads to the conclusion that violence is a necessary part of life.

TRAPOR—OR-BEI

Carl von Ossietzky died on May 4, 1938, in Germany. He was a good person, and was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1938, while in prison, for his "peaceful propaganda" on behalf of the German democratic movement. His works have been translated into many languages, and his influence is felt throughout the world. He was a great writer, and his works are a source of inspiration to all who seek to understand the world and its problems. FINE WINS IN FOOTBALL, RUGBY, HOCKEY

INTER-FACULTY SPORT

Last Wednesday saw the first of this year's interfaculty sport, when two league matches were played. Medicine and Dentistry continued to defeat Law 21-0. Medicine and Dentistry showed a high standard of attack, and whilst the lawyers were still trying to get their game together, the former were already well on the way to victory. Medicine and Dentistry thus have a good chance of winning the championship this year.

FOOTBALLERS DEFEAT TOP TEAM

The best men of the year were seen as the fight on Saturday, when we saw the top men, Settlement Centraux by 3-0. The whole team played excellent football, and apart from漂亮的李子，no one was able to get a goal. The match was hard to single out any one player.

The first half was very exciting, Settlement holding an advantage of two goals at the interval. The second half seemed a great change and the lawyers were unable to get forward. The lawyers played a fine game of football, and at times seemed to be in the lead, but unfortunately they were unable to score. Settlement thus had a good win, and showed that they are the team to beat this year.
