‘VARSITY AND THE PUBLIC
ANOTHER CONVERSATION

Most readers probably remember the University Conversations of 1936—but not to what extent, and no as a serious gesture and no as a marked success. As a means of bringing the public to the Varsity it was unique. Why not have a similar attempt now?

For those who don’t remember, and who only have an inkling of what the Conversations of 1936 were, the campus was held at the University at all excepted times, and for two days (including a Monday) the University and all its works were open to the public. The Science school turned all its works and the Anatomy building was utilized for the public school and the Music students produced plays, and the French cinema was linked in. For the first time ever the Varsity Debating Society put on a play at the University and it was seen by a public audience. The sensitive and modern, and there was a great deal to do in the Eider Hall. The plays were rehearsed. Several of the teaching staff gave lectures. The general impression was good. The musical productions were well received. Several of the teaching staff gave lectures. The general impression was good. The musical productions were well received.

GREAT SUCCESS.

Most people were amazed at the number of students totally immersed in the Varsity who were staying at the university, and the Varsity students were novel and interesting. It was a great shock. It showed that people were interested in the Varsity and a lot of them had a great interest in it as a cultural asset and not as a means of social and economic status. The Varsity was never seen before. They were appreciative of it. The Varsity was always seen as a cultural asset and not as a means of social and economic status. NEW BOTANY BUILDING

PLANS AND

Arrangements for the Botany Building, for which Dr. G. E. Wood has been temporarily acting and for which a site has been chosen, have been successful. The building is now ready for the University Council to inspect. Students are now being prepared for the new building.

VARIETY IS THE SPICE OF LIFE

The new building is not only to be used for the Botany Society, but also for the students of the University. The building is to be open to the public, and the students will be able to use it for their own purposes.

SITE FIXED

Site fixed: Dr. G. E. Wood has been temporarily acting and will continue to act until the new building is ready for use. The building is to be open to the public, and the students will be able to use it for their own purposes.

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF ANDREW CARNEGIE

Andrew Carnegie, the Scottish industrialist and philanthropist, was born on August 25th, 1835. He was one of the most successful entrepreneurs of the 19th century. Carnegie's fortune was built through his work in the steel industry, and he became one of the wealthiest people in the world. After retiring from business, he turned his attention to philanthropy, establishing a foundation that bore his name. The foundation provided funding for schools, libraries, and other educational institutions around the world. Carnegie's life and work continue to be studied and celebrated today.

THE NAZI CREED: CHINESE OPINION

One of the most discussed recent issues is the relationship between China and Germany. The Chinese government has consistently condemned German aggression and has expressed support for the Allied countries in the war. However, China has also been careful not to enter the conflict directly. This political stance has been the subject of much debate and speculation. Recently, there has been an increase in cooperation between China and Germany, as both countries seek to strengthen their economic and cultural ties.

INTER-VARSITY SPORT FOR THE VACATION

The second vacation in the time for the building of most sporting inter-varsity, and this year is no exception. Students are to be encouraged in no fewer than seven sports in concert with the other University, and evidence of the interest is apparent in the early entries. The first week of the vacation the hockey and lacrosse will be played and also the boxing and tennis. The cricket will take place during the second week and the soccer during the third.

The Inter-Varsity games are being entered into by the following teams:

- Cricket: Cambridge University
- Hockey: Oxford University
- Football: Cambridge University
- Tennis: Oxford University
- Boxing: Cambridge University
- Lacrosse: Oxford University

These teams will play against each other in the scheduled matches.

FREEDOM FOR SPEECH

Thought which is not divided against itself cannot exist. Therefore, a necessity for diversity in thought is present, which is necessary by agreement to increase knowledge. Communication and thought are complex processes, and in the confusion of these processes, the necessity for diversity remains.

In this useful and necessary business our generation is very actively engaged. And we may welcome its activity, with only one reservation. The intelligent but frail and even opinionated, often exists in the present life, and in the form of the present, the necessity for diversity exists.

The only way to secure this freedom is by education and understanding. The only way to secure this freedom is by understanding the purposes of thought.

NOWHERE is the doctrine of equality more rampant than in America. I am not sure, but a happy one of intellectuals, but it produces also a cross-legged multitude of fantastic

'VARSITY SUCCESSFUL IN ADVERSE CONDITIONS

D. C. MENZIES, EDITOR.
MARGARET COWELL, REPORTER.

For the first time for quite a while we have no A Grade looser to report. That is, of course, excepting our hockey team, which still has yet to record a win. Another exception is the baseball team, but that was set to go against the Maroons on this date. What it did to go against them is anyone's guess. The hockey team were again, as usual, our industrious, and their enthusiasm was contagious for many of the other teams. We learned that they were the most consistent performers, and that the scoreless victory was no accident. However, the lacrosse team lost, but still managed to win a couple of games. The best was against the University of Toronto, and the worst was against the University of Western Ontario. The Ontario team was led by their star forward, who scored three goals in the game. The Maroons, on the other hand, were led by their star goalie, who made several outstanding saves. The game was a close one, and the final score was 5-4 in favor of the Ontario team. The Maroons' goalie was outstanding, making several difficult saves. The Ontario team was led by their star forward, who scored three goals in the game.
