SET-BACK FOR MUSSOLINI

Tuesday, 4th August, 1939

Vol. 9, No. 1

At a not too cordial meeting of New Day editors in the George Murray, the motion of introducing a Mussolini to the land of free was voted down by the following vote:

For: J. L. Guest (Ames, BD)
For: J. F.Whitlock (Wichita, KS)
For: S. E. B. Hargreaves (Newark, DE)
For: B. D. Cowell (Sierra Vista, AZ)
For: M. B. Davis (Ithaca, NY)
For: J. B. Jenkins (Bloomington, IL)
For: H. E. Smith (Hattiesburg, MS)
For: L. A. Aronson (Seattle, WA)

Against: J. L. Guest (Ames, BD)
Against: J. F. Whitlock (Wichita, KS)
Against: S. E. B. Hargreaves (Newark, DE)
Against: B. D. Cowell (Sierra Vista, AZ)
Against: M. B. Davis (Ithaca, NY)
Against: J. B. Jenkins (Bloomington, IL)
Against: H. E. Smith (Hattiesburg, MS)
Against: L. A. Aronson (Seattle, WA)

The substrata of the decision was a vigorous discussion of the present political situation in Europe, particularly in relation to Mussolini's policies in Italy and the recent invasion of Czechoslovakia. The motion was brought forward by Mr. Jenkins, who argued that Mussolini's aggressive policies were contrary to the principles of democracy and freedom, and that the introduction of a Mussolini to the land of free would undermine those principles.

The motion was opposed by Mr. Guest, who argued that the introduction of a Mussolini was necessary to provide a counterweight to the dictator's policies. Mr. Guest suggested that the introduction of a Mussolini would demonstrate the world's resolve to defend democratic values.

The motion was ultimately defeated, with a vote of 8 in favor and 8 against. The editors agreed to continue their discussions on the political situation in Europe and to keep a close watch on Mussolini's actions.
WHAT'S YOURS? MINE'S
A.M.S.S. ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING
GOOD, CLEAN FUN
The Mota had a very jolly annual general meeting in the last Thursday night. Dr. C. H. B. N. D. D. M. A. had arrived, and the mess was duly established. As the secretary's report showed it to be in a very good state, the mess was turned into a huge all-night party. The meal was enjoyed by all who attended, and the evening ended with a dance. The next meeting is scheduled for the following Thursday night.

COMMERCE A.G.M.
The annual general meeting of the Commerce A.G.M. was held on the last Thursday of the month at the University. The meeting was well attended, and the business was conducted in a very businesslike manner. The report of the treasurer was read, and the accounts were approved. The election of officers was conducted in a fair manner, and the new committee was chosen. The meeting adjourned at a very late hour, but all those present seemed to have enjoyed the proceedings.

AFFECTION, DOGS, ETC.
There is a certain kind of affection that a dog may show to a human being. It is based on the fact that the dog can sense the affection that the human being has for him. This affection is not based on any kind of learned behavior, but rather on an innate ability that the dog has to sense the affection of the human being. This ability is based on the fact that the dog can sense the emotions of the human being, and is able to respond to these emotions in a very natural way.

DEBUT TOUR
Armstrong's almost been a year for Armstrong. His debut tour of the United States was a great success, and he received an enormous amount of praise and acclaim. His performance was outstanding, and he captained his country with great glee and enthusiasm. The tour was a great success, and Armstrong received an enormous amount of praise and acclaim.

THE AUDIENCE seemed to regret the fact that Beethoven was almost as much a threat as he was at his original concert. He was not only given a rousing welcome, and the audience was happy to see him perform. The audience was delighted with his performance, and it is hoped that similar performances will be held in the future.

CONVENTIONS

The Editor—Dear Sir,—Your paper has published an advertisement of a series of conventions which it is proposed to hold. I am not surprised at the number of these conventions which are being advertised, as I have met many people who have been to conventions and who seem to think that they are the cure for all the ills of society. I am, however, disposed to differ from them.

We are, I shall not say my beloved, but in many ways my most trusted and respected friends. There are some people who think that conventions are the answer to all our problems, but I am of the opinion that they are not. I believe that conventions are a waste of time and money, and that they do more harm than good.

The object of a convention should be to bring people together, not to separate them. Conventions are often held for the purpose of discussing important questions, but in reality they are often used for the purposes of self-aggrandizement. The delegates are often more interested in their own positions than in the welfare of the nation. This is a serious matter, and it is one which we should not ignore.

Yours sincerely,

NON-LOQUENT

REQUEMACIES

To the Editor,—We do not have a poor fellow here, but a visitor in the parsonage one day. We were having tea and he came in and asked if he could have some. We said yes, and he sat down and ate his tea. Then he got up and said, "Thank you very much," and left.

It seems to me that the presence of a poor fellow in our midst is a matter of concern. I am sure that he is not a burden to us, but that he is a joy to us. He is a reminder of our own mortality and our own need for grace.

Yours sincerely,

VINCENT AMID

CONGESTION IN REFECTORY

Sir,—Though I am only a freshet, the conditions in the refectory are becoming intolerable. There are so many people in the refectory that it is impossible to sit down and eat in comfort. The noise and the confusion are unbearable. I have been asked to write to you about this matter, and I am doing so now.

The refectory is a place where people should be able to enjoy their meals in peace. It is a place where they should be able to think and reflect. But at present it is a place where people are forced to eat in a hurry, with no time to enjoy their food.

Yours sincerely,

FATUOUS.

LIBERTY ON BRAIN

The Editor—Dear Sir,—I understand that you are planning to hold a series of conventions in order to discuss the problems of our time. I should like to make a few suggestions as to how this might be done in a more effective way.

Firstly, I would suggest that the conventions be held at different times of the day, so that people from all walks of life can attend. Secondly, I would suggest that the conventions be held in different parts of the country, so that people from different parts of the country can attend.

I am sure that these suggestions would be welcomed by everyone, and I hope that you will take them into consideration.

Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM KNOBEL.

PHYSICAL FITNESS

COUNCIL AT WORK

The Council of Physical Fitness at the United States Naval Academy has recently been reorganized, and a number of changes in the officers of the council have been made. The Council of Physical Fitness was established in 1899, and its purpose is to promote the health and physical fitness of the midshipmen of the academy. The council is composed of members from all branches of the academy, and its meetings are held regularly to discuss matters of concern to the midshipmen's physical well-being.

ROWING NOTES

The University rowing team is scheduled to row on the Territorial Lake on Saturday. The rowers are preparing for the meet against the Ohio State University. The team has been practicing hard and hopes to have a good showing in the meet. The rowing regatta is one of the major events of the year for the University, and the team is working hard to prepare for it.
