What would you do with £258-17-4½

BY no small number of you in the University will have started to wonder what you would do with it if you had it. And this is the curious thing—there are thousands of students in China and Europe who need it more, and urgently.

£258-17-4½ will buy 2½ billiard tables, 3,400 lbs. of bottled beers, 62,500 cigarettes, or 880 espress cubaines.

But it will also keep these Chinese students for a year or provide books for 120 rehabilitated students in Europe.

It is, moreover, exactly £258-17-4½ more than the goal we have set for World Student Relief in this University this year. We cannot afford to fail this year.

During the coming weeks you will be asked to give, and so give freely to the W.S.R. appeal. But if you are to give directly (and not just through dances, raffles, etc.) you will have to think carefully what £258-17-4½ means, and be convinced that it must continue in the job.

"Fighting Against Hunger and Repairs"

This is the slogan under which W.S.R. has been working in its campaign to help students in internment camps, in prison and refugee camps, who have not only been unable to procure textbooks and writing materials, but whose very lives have been endangered through lack of food and medical aid. This slogan is particularly apt now, in this period of crisis, disorder, and deep misery in Europe. Released from the armies, in the service of their own enemies as students are returning to countries whose resources are being drained by the war. They will need food, clothes and financial assistance to enable them to settle down and start their university life soon.

Student war relief is already sharing in reconstruction by salvaging the human material which will furnish a significant share of leadership in the post-war world.

What is the Specific Task of W.S.R.?

You are all giving to such organisations as the R.S.P. and the P.D.A. P.M. Why then a special student relief appeal? The work of student relief is of a highly specialised kind, requiring the services of trained workers and a network of fellow students who can best see its significance.

The high goal of W.S.R. is to provide aid where it is needed most; to give aid on an International, non-political, and non-religious basis, without discrimination as to race or sex, the only criterion being proven need. University life has been enlarged in many ways, enfranchising in the student world the war-stricken students who have been denied the benefits of education in war-ravaged lands. Students around the world, in the war-ravaged lands have fought and died, or been interned in F.O.W. camps and other camps. As in refugee camps in lands lying behind their own lines, living illegally and frantically in internment camps and camps in political action in the world - this war has always taken the tasks of reconstructing, retraining and reorganisation; and that is why we seek your help so urgently now.

What Has W.S.R. Done?

Relief is administered through headquarters in Geneva. The staff consists of representatives from the organisations which have founded W.S.R. (International), Student Services, World Student Christian Federation, and the Committee for the Protection of the University Students, of the World Federation of the League of Nations. Five branches of operation, which have been initiated:

1. Support of individual students through relief funds, by aid in securing scholarships, or by securing work for those who have been unable to work because of the war. This work has been undertaken by the W.S.R. in many countries, and has been co-ordinated in Geneva by the World Federation of the League of Nations.

2. Support of internment camps and refugee camps in Europe, through the provision of food, clothing, and medical aid. This work has been undertaken by the W.S.R. in many countries, and has been co-ordinated in Geneva by the World Federation of the League of Nations.

3. Support of internment camps and refugee camps in Asia, through the provision of food, clothing, and medical aid. This work has been undertaken by the W.S.R. in many countries, and has been co-ordinated in Geneva by the World Federation of the League of Nations.

4. Support of internment camps and refugee camps in Africa, through the provision of food, clothing, and medical aid. This work has been undertaken by the W.S.R. in many countries, and has been co-ordinated in Geneva by the World Federation of the League of Nations.

5. Support of internment camps and refugee camps in South America, through the provision of food, clothing, and medical aid. This work has been undertaken by the W.S.R. in many countries, and has been co-ordinated in Geneva by the World Federation of the League of Nations.

In France, in China, in Australia, students are helping to fight hunger. In some places, the aid we have given has been accepted with enthusiasm. In other places, the aid we have given has been accepted with reluctance. In still other places, the aid we have given has been accepted with indifference. In all places, the aid we have given has been accepted with determination. In all places, the aid we have given has been accepted with courage.

In conclusion, we would like to express our gratitude to all those who have assisted us in the past, and who are assisting us now. We would also like to express our gratitude to the many students who have contributed to the work of the W.S.R. in the past, and who are contributing to the work of the W.S.R. in the present.

Have You Heard?

- That Pat Hamilton has been asked (publicly) to be the new host of the goons column? I wonder why?
- That Miss Ford is on the broadcast - How to make mouthwash. (Just asking for extra petrol.)
- That some more aye work has been going on in the Arts Faculty, with the result that Dorothy Vessex now spouts a song and a half a day.
- That some men are what women marry - the nags!
- That a sweet young lady recently got her wish - to work as a compositor of some of their exams last year.
- That if you can add one and one, how can you add one and one? Here are the facts. Ron Penrose, who was already re-emphasised during the war, and is now very busy trying to impress the President of the University, has now arrived. Watch for Watts and Penrose, a gentleman scholar at Refectory II (tutorial), in their new, impressive, new, long, black coat and long, black tie.
- And have a little news: Mary, Mary, quite contrary, Huns in line when they disgo, Danka efficiency, Bruce declares. For her telephone number nobody needs it.

ROUNDSEWILL REPLIES

IP THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,—The editor in his statement has confused things. The first thing that must be said is that the social part and the mental part of University activities are so separate and cannot be considered together. It also seems to me that the importance of outside activities, which are so necessary and so not social in their essence, has been stressed out of proportion. There is no question but that the social part of University life has reached a new peak during the war. The social part of the University splitting up into individuals along the line of their own friends, it is not so much as that as possible to get social and such things as dinners and teas, on an equal footing.

Friendship, interesting and exchanging ideas are all too rare. We must learn to appreciate our time together and look outside our own circle. All this is fine, but the social part is not necessary than as soon as possible, we get more social and such things as dinners and teas, on an equal footing.

As regards the Engineer's interest, much of the discussion is of great interest in the student's circle of friends and in Law and Law. You, sir, must admit that the social part is given too much importance in the classes of those of us who are alike. They are not interested, but too much interested in the subject, but for the sake of those of us who are alike, we get more social and such things as dinners and teas, on an equal footing.

In this I have tried to explain why Engineers will not find in overwork, or any other reason, meetings. I must say that I agree with you, sir, that there is a fine line between these two topics, but our training and outlook are very different. I do not think there is any such thing as an extra, and so on, but for the sake of those of us who are alike, we get more social and such things as dinners and teas, on an equal footing.

The problem which Mr. Roundsewill does not attempt to solve, is really that of convincing our students, doctors, and engineers that the important thing is not so much as that as possible to get social and such things as dinners and teas, on an equal footing.

S.C.M. CONFERENCE

All of those undergraduates who did not attend the conference at Holiday House, Mr. Lofty, in the first week of vacation should make a point of going to the next, since it is hard to imagine three and a half days more profitable spent.

At S.C.M. conference is not an occasion for prolonged squatting around a long table for hours on end, as the name may indicate, but rather it is a concentrated period of "good food, good food and good fellowship," where "good food" is not limited to what is thought to be eaten because of the manners which were adopted by the students, but also includes the atmosphere of the conference. Satirical and provocative, of course, the students, and their application, and the discussion groups gave ample opportunity to have ideas on the subject aired, and perhaps scamped in favor of better ones.

Ted Brownstock's Bible exhibitions were attempted. Not all Thought was Deep. The other lighter sides of the conference were full of opportunities for socializing, and this was not lost sight of, and the conference was successful in having a few students, instead of a conference, where at least 100 people were present. The conference was successful in having a few students, instead of a conference, where at least 100 people were present.

Not All Thought was Deep.

On the lighter sides, conference presented a wide range of opportunities for socializing, and the conference was successful in having a few students, instead of a conference, where at least 100 people were present.

The "Hoffman's" Bible exhibitions were attempted. Not all Thought was Deep. The other lighter sides of the conference were full of opportunities for socializing, and this was not lost sight of, and the conference was successful in having a few students, instead of a conference, where at least 100 people were present.

garding Notes — a garden is a lovely thing, Goddard!"

What to Plant This Week.

Gardening Notes — a garden is a lovely thing, Goddard!

What to Plant This Week. Now is the time to plant those things which your wife tells you to. Don't argue. Just go quietly into the shed, get the spade and get to work. They won't grow. Than you can say, "I told you so," to which she will reply, "Well, if you had only put the broadsheet next to the fence as I told you, and put the cabbages in deeper like I said, and if you hadn't argued with me when I said... etc. etc. etc.

Frame Fruit Trees Now.

fruit trees should be planted. Always remember to keep the trees in good shape, and clip off as much as you can during the season. This is almost for the expert, but the amateur, in his enthusiasm, usually doesn't attain a symmetrical looking tree until there's nothing left but a stump about 2 ft. high. Still think of the firewood you've got, and you can always buy fruit, anyway.

Lawns.

Lawns should be cut, rolled, man-} ured, watered, cut, rolled, manured, and then cut, rolled, manured, and watered, followed by a cut, rolling, water and manure, then cut, roll. Then, your lawns will always look nice, even if you're not in a fit state to see them.

Keeps Weeds Down.

Where the hay crops from one, no-horse.

Keep your hay and weeds and the rest of the seeds don't appear at all. You then have a bed, plant more, and con-} stantly in your garden. Therefore it is obvious that the common view of the productive of social security for that section of the population.

WANTED:

STONE, HUNDESS, HENDERSON.

Several students in the services cannot get on with courses for which they are enrolled. They do not have available for lack of time, books, reading material, and financial support. Let us have a meeting in the University to discuss co-ordinated, technical progress, would restore the economic damage caused by the glut, and could be a way to recovery, once such a downward trend is ended, it might be expected that this vicious circle leading to depression and war will be in the capitalistic class.

After the War.

So far as possible, it has been avoided by the creation of new mar-} kets as a means of alleviating the distress. No doubt the current war and reconstruction will have a definite effect on trade. It is hoped that the tool market has been rebuilt on a sounder basis. Birth rate has been higher and will continue to be so, and the demand for female labor will have increased. Thus, many women go to those industries which are now increasing in popularity. To supplement the usual picture, workers can no longer be exploited or used as a means of cheap labor. Workers' movements are characterised by the increasing dependence of the process through unemployment is disappearing.

BUNDEY PRIZE FOR ENGLISH VERSE

No award will be made of this prize for the year 1945, on the ground that there are not fewer than 100 or more than 150 entries. It is felt that the prize should be subject to the Prize for the 1945.
RUGBY

In the last issue of On Dit you may have read the story of the improving University Rugby team. This week the results of their match against the Montreal YMCA were announced. The truth of such a statement.

The remarkable thing about the fundamental rules of the game, and with the tackle, and the law of the scrum to weave the ball through the opposition. The players are as keen as just as they have been, and now they know when they play a hard game on their strength.

With such a combination of hard-won practice, the team should do well. It is unfortunate that we cannot play on our own ground so that a few spectators could enjoy the game. If such were the case, we should also be able to try our new tactics on a more familiar (and practical) course.

Results:
May 28—Port Adelaide No. 1 d. University 8—3. 2 goals. 1 try. 3 penalties.
May 29—University d. Sydney C. 12—6. 3 goals. 4 penalties.
May 31—University d. Sydney R. 10—5. 2 goals. 1 try.

May 31—University d. Sydney R. 10—5. 2 goals. 1 try.

LACROSSE

On May 29, 1945, we draw with Head Adult after a fairly even match. Both sides were exceptionally strong in the second half, with Head Adult leading 7—6 at the interval. However, the game was abandoned after Head Adult scored a goal in the third quarter. The match was abandoned due to the emergency situation.
