THE BITER BIT

Last week the freshers had their say; they told us what they thought of the 'Varsity and some of the people in it. And now the rest of us have our say. Nearly every faculty is represented, nearly all years. And so, fresher, read here what they think of you.

Bill Solly, grand old man of science, was sitting behind a huge meal in the Refectory and quite willing to give us his ideas. "Don't forget the Freshmen," he said, "the Freshmen are the life and soul of any university. They are the future of the university."

Gordon, another old man, said, "I think the Freshmen are the most important people on campus. They are the ones who will make or break the university in the future."

Nancy, who is a fourth year student, said, "The Freshmen are the ones who will make or break the university in the future. They are the future of the university."

Viv. Houd and George Morias.

Don Bead, Med. V. - A motley crew, some still appear to be withered. "What will you do to help?" "The same as we were for me - nothing!" Don thought the more candidly seemed to be taking the place in their stride and was pleased to see they were more relaxed at the A.M.A.'s. A.D. up, of the sports clubs, "The Med Freshmen!" "Can't pick "em. Good to have the reserves back."

When asked what he thought of the latter it, "Oh, I'm sure Specie. ASSC, paying travelling expenses of its teams. Don said we couldn't expect it to do anything.

Helen Cashmore - Drury codes thought Freshmen weren't much the same every year, but that this year's were taking more than the usual interest in different social activities. "They don't come into the library with such deadly earnest expressions as they have in the last two years. Now there is not such a necessity to get through it or be kicked out." Helen was disappointed that they didn't come down to the Ref at night, even though it is open! Hope that they would take more interest in the various clubs, especially the Arts Assn.

George Morias was studying the notices-board in the Refectory. He said the Freshmen were a rather decent lot and had paid their membership fees, which was more than some of his peers had done. He thought the girls were O.K., but quite outnumbered. When we mentioned clubs, he said, "Freshmen in general could take greater interest in all the clubs, especially the Athletics and Football." He thought the Commencement Ball was over-rated.

Nancy, though she liked for course (she got a few credits last year), and thinks "Unl. life isn't any," will be jubilant glad when she gets through. "Negligent sort," she thinks the majority of people, especially girls, do not take much interest in sport, particularly (as she stated) as there are ample opportunities. Nancy also deplores the fact that some faculties have lectures in the afternoon. "The Refectory is fair," she said, "but I would like to be able to buy a milk-shake and ice-cream. Also the movie rental is lousy, but I realize that is the same everywhere."

Her friends, who helped her through the interview, suggested there should be larger group meals in "Oh, Dit."

Mary Monday. - The University has a very lovely collection of buildings, but I think a lot could be done to improve the life inside them. It is, admittedly, primarily for work, but surely some people could cooperate in trying to make the University a more group of students and teachers. At present there is a great deal of distinction and exclusiveness between the various Faculties, which should not exist, except for a little friendly rivalry.

The Refectory is even now sadly overcrowded, and a new floor seems to me to be a satisfactory answer. It would improve dinner too, as well as fitting in with the rest of the Refectory block. The food is good, but I think we would welcome a little more variety in the cake and flour battery style.

SPECIAL REQUEST—AN EDITORIAL

I have been told that this paper needs an editorial. Why?

"Well, it gives class," they say, "Does "Oh Did" need class? Don’t answer that!!

It very probably does need class. But I cannot see that any editorial of mine would solve the problem. I see no way that an editorial will serve any useful purpose if I write it only because it has to be written, or only because it will solve the problem. I believe an editorial is just for what it is to be a real need.

I feel that I still want to see an editorial every issue, we’ll be glad to sign you up as Assistant Editor, so everything will be legal. (We have had to warn some committee people to count words and others to look at stamps on envelopes.)

NATIONAL UNION NEWS

THIS IS IMPORTANT

The National Union cares for you. It affects you and it cannot succeed without you. And if it does not succeed, you are the one that will suffer.

N.E.A.U.S. and International Organizations

Last year the S. J. Jones was appointed as a delegate to the International Convention of the S. J. Jones. This year he has been appointed a delegate to the National Union. As such he will represent the interests of the students in the National Union.

The Jones’ Report

A letter from S. J. Jones contains the following information: The report of the committee was awaited anxiously at the Brattle Conference in April by all. Every morning when Hopkins Lo Ber- ton, the general secretary, entered the room there was an expectant shout: "Is it here?" Hopkins would look glum and shake his head, and the Members would gather down further into its several seats. But one day the longed-for report arrived. Unfortunately little action was taken in consequence of what was implied, and as the matter was referred to the individual units.

University Regiments

It was stated that the University Militia Regiments should be revived. At present they would take voluntary military training in the summer months. In pre-war years, the Militia Regiment was divided into three units of the Militia.

NATIONAL UNION MAGAZINE

Contributions are called for a magazine to be published by the National Union. Contributions should be sent to the editor of the magazine, Mr. B. W. Watson, before June 30, 1945.

ATTACKS APATHY, LAZINESS

At a meeting of the Combined Students’ Committee, held last Wednesday, the chairman Dave Sangster accused the members of the committee of apathy. He then said:

"The Frosh Reunion was very successful and went well, but there were a few things—the enthusiasm shown by most of the following. Most of you could have attended the last meeting—those of you who did, voted for the affair as conducted. If you thought it would be too much trouble, you would have voted against it. I voted for the affair as conducted.

"You have some problems that are of great importance to you. Some of you think that being on this committee is a great honor. Some of you think that being on this committee is a great honor. Some of you think that being on this committee is a great honor. Some of you think that being on this committee is a great honor. Some of you think that being on this committee is a great honor. Dr. E. W. Brown gave an address of welcome to the new members of the society, expressing the hope that their days might be long to the society (i.e., longer than one year), but in reality, the opposite would be true.

Dr. E. W. Brown outlined the advantages of belonging to the society and the activities that would be pursued. He emphasized the importance of the society in advancing the field of dentistry and the need for continued support.

The meeting adjourned, and the members were encouraged to attend future meetings to support the society's mission.

Mittagong Conference 1946

At the beginning of this year the Australian Student Christian Movement organized for its five years at "Fremantle," Mittagong, New South Wales. Some of us are still recovering from it, and if you see a noisy crowd crowding round some maps, they'll probably be some taken in Mittagong. These reminded us of the fun and fellowship we had at the conference, and that it was ships we formed. But what made us realize that a long day was not merely the "good time" we had, and the thinking students from all over Australia with whom we could converse notes on anything under the sun, but the broadening of our own experience which resulted from the addresses and the contacts of our fellow students, could testify by their lives to truths which we believe.

The theme of the Conference "Beyond Trajedy." Moving addresses on "Beyond Trajedy" by Mr. H. G. Williams, of Sydney, and Mr. N. H. Williams, of Melbourne. Mr. R. G. Williams, of Sydney, and Mr. N. H. Williams, of Melbourne.

The truth of the theme was brought home to us by the concluding session of the Conference, in which we heard the student's report of how the conference had been experienced by a number of different groups, and how it had affected their lives.

No one of us will forget the after-meeting which followed the final session when the leaders of the group in front of the students, who had been present throughout the Conference, led us in a worthy and inspiring song, "Beyond Trajedy." His purpose, and his realism, his sincerity, and his enthusiasm, made us realize that we are not alone in our struggles, and that we can face any challenge with confidence, knowing that we have the support of a great truth that is beyond Trajedy.

The conference was well attended, with a large number of students present, and the discussions were lively and stimulating. The final session was particularly memorable, with many students expressing their gratitude for the opportunity to participate in such a meaningful event.

The conference was a great success, and the students present were very grateful for the opportunity to attend. The experiences and lessons learned at the conference will undoubtedly have a lasting impact on the lives of the students present, and we look forward to the next conference with great anticipation.

Just Arrived! BROWN & PEARCE, 227 North Terrace

rab's Smith is a very good library, but very distracting. I think many people will find it difficult to work with people continually passing and moving about.

In conclusion, I would like to suggest that the trip to Mt. Buffalo be removed. Many of us missed that trip at school owing to war restrictions, and I am sure it would be well patronized now.

We found Jill Nield working feverishly in the Organic Chem. lab. She seemed to enjoy her job and was quite helpful. Weairea-L is doing well, but seems to be struggling a bit with the material.

CRICKET

Cricket for 1945-46 has finished and Variety finished in its usual place—a little lower than halfway down. Both the A’s and B teams had only two other teams below them in the pennant list. The C’s, only formed at the beginning of the year, have yet to be defeated, and have won two matches outright.

The A’s bat first against Glenlyon and reached 200, after being 8/100. Halbert got a century, while Good was unlucky to be dismissed at 20 when his score stood at 49. Both and Booth got 20 in a last-wicket stand for the A’s. Variety’s batsmen, with Bond in his top form for the season, and at 211 by the close of play, would have scored over 200 if the score had not been cut off. Then Kennedy and Butler got back into the Variety bowling and mainly due to their efforts, Glenlyon finished with 0/266, Beall with 0/46, but the best figures were

The W’s had Glenlyon back in the pavilion for 115—Williams got 4/26 and Otton 3/51. Glenlyon were then at the end of the day, Variety, with 8/30, looked in a pretty good position. Rodger had got 4/30. On the second day, however, Variety lost their batting wickets for 20 and finished 1 runs behind.

The B’s bat first against the Bowls Club and, by the end of the day had already won their match. Variety finished with 242 and the Bowls Club with 215. The game was mainly responsible for bundling Variety’s batting out. Variety, at 4:20, Blox completing a useful double with 12, and Lockett 65. Scott went for 115 in the 2nd innings and Variety were out.
