WARNING

This material has been reproduced and communicated to you by or on behalf of The University of Adelaide pursuant to Part VB of the Copyright Act 1968 (the Act).

The material in this communication may be subject to copyright under the Act. Any further reproduction or communication of this material by you may be the subject of copyright protection under the Act.

Do not remove this notice.

External Copyright permission (if applicable) - permission received 2006.

For personal use only.

Further information about the conditions of use of this item is available from Special Collections at the Barr Smith Library.
"TRUTH" TORN AND TATTERED

Children, "Truth" is cross with you! This self-appointed Custodian of Public Morality and Good Taste considers that the "TRUTH Exposition" demonstrates the moral decadence which seems to animate the embryonic oafs who attend the University. To those unbedazzled, humourless arbiters of public decency the Expedition was "organised hooliganism."

What justifies this attack on the public's protector of decency and morality?

A Guardian of Public Morality

GREEK TOO MANY," followed by the headline of the latest "GRIEVE TO THE BUD"

Neat content summing the latest activities on the public's behalf. What a welcome change from the usual "FANTASTIC STORY OF PHANTOM MARIADE - BIRDS CARRY OFF CHASE."

"TRUTH" has always been in the forefront of the fight against immorality in public places. When the University was threatened by the spread of communist ideas, "TRUTH" was quick to publish an article warning students of the dangers of communism. This article was widely read and helped to prevent any serious incidents from occurring.

"TRUTH" has always been concerned with the protection of public morals. In 1951, the University was threatened by the spread of immorality, and "TRUTH" was quick to take action. The article was widely read and helped to prevent any serious incidents from occurring.
BERGIN TO PRODUCE DRAMA FESTIVAL PLAY

A.U.D.S. will send August Strindberg's "Miss Julia" to Hobart in August for its entry in the 1951 Inter-University Drama Festival.

Those chosen to play in this production will be: Heleen Nettel, who will take the role of "Miss Julia," and Lila Muller, who will play the role of "Esther," in the first act of the play. Both of these students have already been praised for their performances in the last year's Drama Festival play, "Night Must Fall," at the University.

You are advised to watch the notice-board for information on the location of the rehearsal arrangements for this eagerly awaited production.

STOP PRESS

What do you mean, alterations to V.A.C.S., lunch-hour? What about the great snafu which greeted the council? The council was supposed to meet the last week of this term, but the meeting will be held on the first week of the term.

The V.A.C.S., which has not yet been opened, will be opened on the first week of the term. The council meeting will be held on the first week of the term.

There will be no council meeting on the first week of the term.

The council meeting will be held on the first week of the term.

You are advised to watch the notice-board for information on the location of the rehearsal arrangements for this eagerly awaited production.

GLAMOUR IN GLUE

The Glamour Society reports that the production of "Miss Julia" is in progress and will be presented in the Hobart University on the afternoon of Thursday, March 22.

You are advised to watch the notice-board for information on the location of the rehearsal arrangements for this eagerly awaited production.

GRANTED NOT TO do any WASH.

Definitions and explanations of various terms used in the text:

- Education: The process of acquiring knowledge and skills for personal and professional development.
- Science: A systematic and logical approach to discovering how the world works.
- Culture: The knowledge, beliefs, arts, morals, customs, and other features of behavior that are characteristic of a group or society.
AUSTRALIA AND UNESCO

ABORIGINES

Melbourne University has made moves towards the establishment of scholarships for Australian aboriginals to the tertiary education level.

The following motions were passed at a general meeting:

1. M: Moved that Melbourne University be funded by S.R.C. of our University's support this appeal and pledge a scholarship fund.

2. M: Moved that Melbourne University be funded by S.R.C. to support the establishment of aboriginals scholarships for tertiary education.

3. M: Moved that Melbourne University be funded by S.R.C. to support the establishment of aboriginals scholarships for tertiary education.

4. M: Moved that Melbourne University be funded by S.R.C. to support the establishment of aboriginals scholarships for tertiary education.

5. M: Moved that Melbourne University be funded by S.R.C. to support the establishment of aboriginals scholarships for tertiary education.

UNESCO Programme

A series of meetings and seminars will be held in conjunction with the S.R.C.'s UNESCO Week, which will be held on July 25th.

Watch the notice-boards for full details and meeting place.

National Arts Magazine

Arts, stories, poems, drawings, etc., from Adelaide students are needed for the National Arts Magazine, to be published this year in Sydney.

So far, no South Australian contributions have been received.

We are encouraging students to contribute, either individually or as a group.

CULTURE

Correspondent to The News, angry at the shallower character of a recent screening of "Mornung Becces Blether," wrote: "If you go to a movie, you've got to have something to say about it."

"Before I came to Australia, I imagined your capital city to be as civilised as Roma, Paris, or even Buenos Aires, but, good heavens, there is a living in this country." He felt it was dull and awful and that a few times he nearly committed suicide.

MIRACLES

A well-attended meeting heard Rev. Maluish in the hall of "Miracles" state that a belief in these miracles hinges on a belief in God. This meeting was one of a series of public meetings arranged by the Evangelical Union for all students. Mr. Mitchell went on to say that an "All True Being, Being of necessity, is able to interfere with the use of this so-called 'natural power.'" (C. S. Lewis) Definition of a miracle in his book, "Miracles."

Cultural Attitudes

The Union Council of the University has decided to admit the Peace Society as an associate body of the Union. A motion to this effect was passed by a majority of votes.

It was decided that, although few agreed with the motives and attitude of the Peace Society, some tolerance should be granted to the existence of such a body.

The society was expelled last year after claiming to represent the University in a parade in the city streets.

NOT SO HOT

"Koren is a perfect example of Communist cold war tactics."—Prime Minister Menzies.

ART

"Actress Mae West has turned down an offer from Lady Dudley at the Dublin (N.S.W.) police station to be used as a living statue for a profit-sharing meet. Deely Danto, manager, explained that the move was made to protect Miss West from a tidal wave of malapropism."—The Mail.

IRONY

Oddly enough ("Newspapers") researchers have found that the name "The Only Red We Want is the Red We Own" in the Old Red, White and Blue.

FREEDOM?

The News quoted Dr. J. R. D. Simon: "There must be freedom of education and the Church must be free to intercede in any matter in which it feels it is threatened.

EACH WAY BEAT

Miss Ada Brown, tutor in Science at Sydney University's. "If I had to choose, Adelaide in a point of view."

"The Only Red We Want is the Red We Own."—The Mail.

"Charming, debonair" Captain George Mitchell, general manager of the Western Australian branch of the C.M.C., said he got up to his knees when he discovered how really backward things were in Australia (h.t. 1), especially in Adelaide and Melbourne.

"Before I came to Australia, I imagined your capital city to be a city of culture and learning, but, good heavens, there is a living in this country." He felt it was dull and awful and that a few times he nearly committed suicide.

CULTURE

Correspondent to "The News," angry at the shallower character of a recent screening of "Mornung Becces Blether," wrote: "If you go to a movie, you've got to have something to say about it."

"Before I came to Australia, I imagined your capital city to be as civilised as Roma, Paris, or even Buenos Aires, but, good heavens, there is a living in this country." He felt it was dull and awful and that a few times he nearly committed suicide.

MIRACLES

A well-attended meeting heard Rev. Maluish in the hall of "Miracles" state that a belief in these miracles hinges on a belief in God. This meeting was one of a series of public meetings arranged by the Evangelical Union for all students. Mr. Mitchell went on to say that an "All True Being, Being of necessity, is able to interfere with the use of this so-called 'natural power.'" (C. S. Lewis) Definition of a miracle in his book, "Miracles."

Cultural Attitudes

The Union Council of the University has decided to admit the Peace Society as an associate body of the Union. A motion to this effect was passed by a majority of votes.

It was decided that, although few agreed with the motives and attitude of the Peace Society, some tolerance should be granted to the existence of such a body.

The society was expelled last year after claiming to represent the University in a parade in the city streets.

NOT SO HOT

"Koren is a perfect example of Communist cold war tactics."—Prime Minister Menzies.

ART

"Actress Mae West has turned down an offer from Lady Dudley at the Dublin (N.S.W.) police station to be used as a living statue for a profit-sharing meet. Deely Danto, manager, explained that the move was made to protect Miss West from a tidal wave of malapropism."—The Mail.

IRONY

Oddly enough ("Newspapers") researchers have found that the name "The Only Red We Want is the Red We Own" in the Old Red, White and Blue.

FREEDOM?

The News quoted Dr. J. R. D. Simon: "There must be freedom of education and the Church must be free to intercede in any matter in which it feels it is threatened.

EACH WAY BEAT

Miss Ada Brown, tutor in Science at Sydney University's. "If I had to choose, Adelaide in a point of view."

"The Only Red We Want is the Red We Own."—The Mail.

"Charming, debonair" Captain George Mitchell, general manager of the Western Australian branch of the C.M.C., said he got up to his knees when he discovered how really backward things were in Australia (h.t. 1), especially in Adelaide and Melbourne.

"Before I came to Australia, I imagined your capital city to be a city of culture and learning, but, good heavens, there is a living in this country." He felt it was dull and awful and that a few times he nearly committed suicide.

CULTURE

Correspondent to "The News," angry at the shallower character of a recent screening of "Mornung Becces Blether," wrote: "If you go to a movie, you've got to have something to say about it."

"Before I came to Australia, I imagined your capital city to be as civilised as Roma, Paris, or even Buenos Aires, but, good heavens, there is a living in this country." He felt it was dull and awful and that a few times he nearly committed suicide.

COUNTER-MISSION COUNTERED

Let us express our gratitude that our Counter-Missioners have carried on the impetus given by Archbishop Simonds to thinking and public discussion about ultimate questions which are too often ignored in University life.

We think that some credit is due to the Archbishop for the standard of courtesy and dispassionate statement which he set and for the calm at the discussion which followed. All credit, too, is due to those who contributed the Bill if it already exists. It does not have the same effect, as before it begins to create a panic. The Bill itself is not needed to be created. There are no questions which have been discussed among University students with as little muddle or acrimony. We have not had that Adjunctitis which has given a lead to Australian Universities in this matter. It is in discussion and debate that these fundamental questions of moral concern which will most effectively break down the intellectual barriers between faculties which so much disinterestedly meet in University life.

Our observations on the Counter-Mission will, as must be expected from a Christian who was not converted to it by Adjunctitism, be critical or, in fact, hostile. We hope that our critic will not, offensively against him, which has so far prevailed.

The Adjuncts, as it were, have not, as it were, the proposition for the possibility of the existence of the universe: (1) that it was "perpetually" existed; (2) that it was "created itself"; (3) that it was "created by somebody," and it was "created by nobody." (4) That the hypothesis is its incomprehensibility and (5) its incomprehensibility are the cause of the hypothesis.

We cannot refrain from coming to the conclusion that the hypothesis is inadmissible and incomprehensible. For the first and third possibilities are not mutually exclusive. If we assume the existence of the universe and (2) that it was "created itself," then we come to the conclusion that (1) the universe was (3) created by nobody, and (4) it was "created by somebody," and it was "created by nobody." There is no contradiction in considering the possibility that the universe was (3) created by nobody, (4) it was "created by somebody," and it was "created by nobody."

The first of the last is the first, and the last is the first. Reality, which exists, is as real as any other thing, and it is as real as any other thing. Reality is what the universe and the world are. And the world is what the universe and the world are.

But what we must be most severely to criticise is the advising of the second and third and fourth and fifth possibilities that possibility or "possibility" is at all. To suggest, though it may not be true, that the universe might not have existed or that the universe might not have been created or that the universe might not have been created by anybody, is to create the possibility of the existence of the universe.

We reprinted here, as part of our UNESCO edition, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which was proclaimed by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

PREAMBLE

WHEREAS recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world;

WHEREAS disregard and contempt for human rights haveendeared to barbarisms which have endangered the harmony of public and private life in every country, in the local community and in the world in which human beings enjoy freedom and belief and freedom from fear and want have been achieved;

WHEREAS it is essential, if one is to have any confidence, as a last resort, in the rights of man and in the sanctions of public opinion, that human rights should be protected by the rule of law and that adequately effective public opinion should exist;

WHEREAS it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations between States, the General Assembly proclaims:

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY proclaims.

This UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS is a common standard of achievable goals for all men and all nations, to the end that every individual and every organ of society, knowing this Declaration, shall contribute to its continuous development in order to arrive at the abolition of all forms of discrimination.

We reprint here, as part of our UNESCO edition, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which was proclaimed by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

PREAMBLE

WHEREAS recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world;

WHEREAS disregard and contempt for human rights have endeared to barbarisms which have endangered the harmony of public and private life in every country, in the local community and in the world in which human beings enjoy freedom and belief and freedom from fear and want have been achieved;

WHEREAS it is essential, if one is to have any confidence, as a last resort, in the rights of man and in the sanctions of public opinion, that human rights should be protected by the rule of law and that adequately effective public opinion should exist;

WHEREAS it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations between States, the General Assembly proclaims:

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY proclaims.

This UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS is a common standard of achievable goals for all men and all nations, to the end that every individual and every organ of society, knowing this Declaration, shall contribute to its continuous development in order to arrive at the abolition of all forms of discrimination.

We reprint here, as part of our UNESCO edition, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which was proclaimed by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

PREAMBLE

WHEREAS recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world;

WHEREAS disregard and contempt for human rights have endeared to barbarisms which have endangered the harmony of public and private life in every country, in the local community and in the world in which human beings enjoy freedom and belief and freedom from fear and want have been achieved;

WHEREAS it is essential, if one is to have any confidence, as a last resort, in the rights of man and in the sanctions of public opinion, that human rights should be protected by the rule of law and that adequately effective public opinion should exist;

WHEREAS it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations between States, the General Assembly proclaims:

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY proclaims.

This UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS is a common standard of achievable goals for all men and all nations, to the end that every individual and every organ of society, knowing this Declaration, shall contribute to its continuous development in order to arrive at the abolition of all forms of discrimination.

We reprint here, as part of our UNESCO edition, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which was proclaimed by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

PREAMBLE

WHEREAS recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world;

WHEREAS disregard and contempt for human rights have endeared to barbarisms which have endangered the harmony of public and private life in every country, in the local community and in the world in which human beings enjoy freedom and belief and freedom from fear and want have been achieved;

WHEREAS it is essential, if one is to have any confidence, as a last resort, in the rights of man and in the sanctions of public opinion, that human rights should be protected by the rule of law and that adequately effective public opinion should exist;

WHEREAS it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations between States, the General Assembly proclaims:

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY proclaims.

This UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS is a common standard of achievable goals for all men and all nations, to the end that every individual and every organ of society, knowing this Declaration, shall contribute to its continuous development in order to arrive at the abolition of all forms of discrimination.

We reprint here, as part of our UNESCO edition, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which was proclaimed by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

PREAMBLE

WHEREAS recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world;

WHEREAS disregard and contempt for human rights have endeared to barbarisms which have endangered the harmony of public and private life in every country, in the local community and in the world in which human beings enjoy freedom and belief and freedom from fear and want have been achieved;

WHEREAS it is essential, if one is to have any confidence, as a last resort, in the rights of man and in the sanctions of public opinion, that human rights should be protected by the rule of law and that adequately effective public opinion should exist;

WHEREAS it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations between States, the General Assembly proclaims:

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY proclaims.

This UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS is a common standard of achievable goals for all men and all nations, to the end that every individual and every organ of society, knowing this Declaration, shall contribute to its continuous development in order to arrive at the abolition of all forms of discrimination.

We reprint here, as part of our UNESCO edition, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which was proclaimed by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

PREAMBLE

WHEREAS recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world;

WHEREAS disregard and contempt for human rights have endeared to barbarisms which have endangered the harmony of public and private life in every country, in the local community and in the world in which human beings enjoy freedom and belief and freedom from fear and want have been achieved;

WHEREAS it is essential, if one is to have any confidence, as a last resort, in the rights of man and in the sanctions of public opinion, that human rights should be protected by the rule of law and that adequately effective public opinion should exist;

WHEREAS it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations between States, the General Assembly proclaims:

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY proclaims.

This UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS is a common standard of achievable goals for all men and all nations, to the end that every individual and every organ of society, knowing this Declaration, shall contribute to its continuous development in order to arrive at the abolition of all forms of discrimination.

We reprint here, as part of our UNESCO edition, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which was proclaimed by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

PREAMBLE

WHEREAS recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world;

WHEREAS disregard and contempt for human rights have endeared to barbarisms which have endangered the harmony of public and private life in every country, in the local community and in the world in which human beings enjoy freedom and belief and freedom from fear and want have been achieved;

WHEREAS it is essential, if one is to have any confidence, as a last resort, in the rights of man and in the sanctions of public opinion, that human rights should be protected by the rule of law and that adequately effective public opinion should exist;

WHEREAS it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations between States, the General Assembly proclaims:

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY proclaims.

This UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS is a common standard of achievable goals for all men and all nations, to the end that every individual and every organ of society, knowing this Declaration, shall contribute to its continuous development in order to arrive at the abolition of all forms of discrimination.

We reprint here, as part of our UNESCO edition, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which was proclaimed by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

PREAMBLE

WHEREAS recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world;

WHEREAS disregard and contempt for human rights have endeared to barbarisms which have endangered the harmony of public and private life in every country, in the local community and in the world in which human beings enjoy freedom and belief and freedom from fear and want have been achieved;

WHEREAS it is essential, if one is to have any confidence, as a last resort, in the rights of man and in the sanctions of public opinion, that human rights should be protected by the rule of law and that adequately effective public opinion should exist;

WHEREAS it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations between States, the General Assembly proclaims:

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY proclaims.

This UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS is a common standard of achievable goals for all men and all nations, to the end that every individual and every organ of society, knowing this Declaration, shall contribute to its continuous development in order to arrive at the abolition of all forms of discrimination.
Poem

WRAPPED in my robe of darkness, and walking alone and aloof
Through the blazing jungles of the city streets by night,
I stalk in silence through the surging crowd.
I look into the myriad faces as they hurry along,
I peer intently, dreamily, far into their eyes.
With a smile upon my lips which tells them that I know
Their every thought upon that night as, pleasure boundled
They make their way along the roasting streets.
And when do we see them smile and knowing gaze
They drop their eyes and blood burns in their cheeks.

EBYCTER

SCIENCE BALL

The Final Flutter

REFELECTORY - SATURDAY, AUGUST 11
Dancing, 8 p.m. - 12 Midnight.
Sugary, Nocturnal.

AUSTRALIAN BROADCASTING COMMISSION presents
THE BRILLIANT INTERNATIONAL VIOLINIST
ODNOSOFFEODNOSOFFEODNOSOFFEODNOSOFFEODNOSOFFEODNOSOFFEODNOSOFFE
TOWN HALL - THURSDAY, JULY 26, 8:15 p.m.
Assistance Artist: RAYMOND LAMBERT
DO NOT MISS HEARING THIS ASTOUNDING VIOLINIST
Prams at Allarons.

The MYSTERY of THE BOW TIE

without interference and to seek, receive and impart, information and ideas through means and regardless of frontiers.

ARTICLE 21 (1) Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.

ARTICLE 22: Everyone, as a member of society, has the right to social and cultural life and to participate in cultural, scientific, educational, cultural, and artistic life.

ARTICLE 23: Everyone has the right to work, to free choice of employment, to just and favorable conditions of work and to protection against unemployment.

ARTICLE 24: Everyone has the right to the recognition of the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration.

ARTICLE 25: Everyone has the right to a standard of living adequate for the healthy development of his personality, including freedom from poverty, adequate food, clothing, and housing, and the right to free choice of employment.

ARTICLE 26: Everyone has the right to enjoy his economic, social and cultural rights without discrimination of any kind.

ARTICLE 27: Everyone has the right to the protection of his personal rights as defined in this Declaration.

ARTICLE 28: Everyone has the right to personal security, which includes the right to the protection of his life and the protection of his family.

ARTICLE 29: Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience, and religion.

ARTICLE 30: Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression.

ARTICLE 31: Everyone has the right to freedom of peaceful assembly and of association with others.

ARTICLE 32: Everyone has the right to freedom of movement and to leave any country, subject to the limitations set out in paragraph 3 of Article 12.

ARTICLE 33: Everyone has the right to a fair and public hearing in the determination of his civil rights.

ARTICLE 34: Everyone has the right to a fair and public hearing in the determination of his political rights.

ARTICLE 35: Everyone has the right to freedom from discrimination.

ARTICLE 36: Everyone has the right to freedom of movement and to leave any country, subject to the limitations set out in paragraph 3 of Article 12.

ARTICLE 37: Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience, and religion.

ARTICLE 38: Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression.

ARTICLE 39: Everyone has the right to freedom of peaceful assembly and to freedom of association with others.

ARTICLE 40: Everyone has the right to freedom of movement and to leave any country, subject to the limitations set out in paragraph 3 of Article 12.

ARTICLE 41: Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience, and religion.

ARTICLE 42: Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression.

ARTICLE 43: Everyone has the right to freedom of peaceful assembly and to freedom of association with others.

ARTICLE 44: Everyone has the right to freedom of movement and to leave any country, subject to the limitations set out in paragraph 3 of Article 12.

ARTICLE 45: Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience, and religion.

ARTICLE 46: Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression.

ARTICLE 47: Everyone has the right to freedom of peaceful assembly and to freedom of association with others.

ARTICLE 48: Everyone has the right to freedom of movement and to leave any country, subject to the limitations set out in paragraph 3 of Article 12.

ARTICLE 49: Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience, and religion.

ARTICLE 50: Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression.

ARTICLE 51: Everyone has the right to freedom of peaceful assembly and to freedom of association with others.

ARTICLE 52: Everyone has the right to freedom of movement and to leave any country, subject to the limitations set out in paragraph 3 of Article 12.

ARTICLE 53: Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience, and religion.

ARTICLE 54: Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression.

ARTICLE 55: Everyone has the right to freedom of peaceful assembly and to freedom of association with others.

ARTICLE 56: Everyone has the right to freedom of movement and to leave any country, subject to the limitations set out in paragraph 3 of Article 12.
WROUGHT AGAIN

WRONG AGAIN

WRONG AGAIN...
U.N. AND UNESCO PUBLICATIONS

ON THE RADIO

University students may borrow publications from the British Office Library, Commonwealth Secretariat for Education, First Floor, Main University Building. The Library includes amongst many other publications:
1. SOMERVILLE ARTHUR: A guide to Scholarships and Prizes available in overseas Universities;
2. HADLEY: Catalogues of Color Reproductions of Paintings in the Musaeo delle Fabriche di Riferimento;
3. BONNIE: A review of International Activities in Education, Science and Culture, which is distributed with charge to organisations and individuals throughout the world. The library and its activities seek to further the work of UNESCO in research and development in schools, libraries, laboratories, museums, art galleries, etc.

SURGICAL INSTRUMENTS

CHEMICAL APPARATUS

SCIENTIFIC GLASSWARE

From A. M. BICKFORD & SONS LTD.

24 CURRIE STREET, ADELAIDE

"The House of Quality"

JOHN MARTIN'S

Adelaide's Most Modern Man's Store

now have Australia's largest range of "ROCKINGHAM" frock clothes... and trained staff to fit you...

Whether you're short, tall, average or stout build... Whether you are from 5 ft 4 in. to 6 ft 1 in. tall and from 34-36 chest or 50 to 46 waist... there's a Rockingham for you!

The Specialist

Most of the essential lectures of modern life—health, the prevention of disease and the acquirement of knowledge—are dependent on the discovery of those who are dedicated to the formulation of ideas and the continued services of those who apply specialized knowledge.

BRANSON, too, is a specialist service. Because of the National Bank's long experience and training in the handling of financial problems and the provision of banking services for the bank at all times as a useful friend and consultant to those who use its many services.

Call and consult the manager of your nearest branch of—

THE NATIONAL BANK OF ASTRALASIA LIMITED

(Incorporated in Victoria)
FOOTY STAYS FIRST

Perfect conditions prevailed for the varsity visit to Woodville. We entered the fray with some trepidation, as several key men, including Jim Whittle, were unavailable, and Woodville had been playing most impressively for the past half-hour, when Woodville began to capitalize on the breakdown of our own back row. In the second half, Woodville dominated the game, and Woodville's front row tied the ball half-forward.

The first part of the second quarter was much the same, until Woodville broke through the black rocks standing in their way. The play was stopped, and Woodville had two points. Every one of the backs was lost, and the match ended 0-0.

The long interval came with a 0-0 draw.

Football, like cricket, is a funny game. A whole team or a crowd of people may suddenly feel that they are playing the way they used to play, and then, just as suddenly, they pass to the other side of the field, or even to the other team. This happened to the black rocks, led by Doug Glins with Warren Quinlan, and passed to the left flank, and then to the front row.

The side was transformed, and went 50 points, which is quite a feat for a team.

FOOTY STAYS FIRST

SUCCESS AND APATHY

MEN'S HOCKEY

With just over half the season gone, we can now reasonably review the state of Winter Sports in the Varsity. Taking overall the picture is relatively satisfactory; but considering the immense number who pay a statutory fee, it is surprising that 330 of the total 1,500 have paid no fees and only 11 have paid any fees.

30% of the players are not captains, and only 6% of the players are not captains. This can be compared to the 1951-52 season, when only 10% of the players were captains and only 4% of the players were captains.

The Facilities Committee are considering the possibility of having a team next year, but they have not yet made a decision.

Our women are wonderful, are they? The A hockey team is in good condition and has had some good matches recently. The B team has not been as successful, but has shown some improvement.

The A hockey team has played well in its matches, and has scored some good goals. The B team has not been as successful, but has shown some improvement.

The Facilities Committee are considering the possibility of having a team next year, but they have not yet made a decision.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Since their return from Sydney the "A" team has had three matches and won two. Three more matches are scheduled for this weekend, and we hope to see some good basketball.

The facilities committee has been working hard to improve the facilities for the team. The condition of the court is much improved, and the team is playing well.

The Facilities Committee are considering the possibility of having a team next year, but they have not yet made a decision.

MIXED BAG FOR LACROSSE

Since last appearing in print, the A's have tallied two victories, three defeats and the Coral Sea Trophy for the best player.

The Coral Sea Commemoration match against West Torrens gave us our first win for the season although the match itself was of low standard. Very weak opposition was a contributing factor to a poor display in which very few of our team played up to form, J. H. was in excellent condition and brilliant form at centre, and our forward Division of the opposition was not up to the task.

Following our 15-3 victory, we were defeated by West Torrens, which was followed by a defeat to Sydman. We drew with Woodville in the last match, which was a great effort.

Outstanding players on this occasion included: Hill, our right wing, who scored a brilliant goal; and Smith, our left wing, who put in a great performance.

TENNIS

Students are reminded that the tennis and basketball courts are available for general use, except when the Phys. Ed. classes are using them. Nuts are kept in boxes on the side of the courts, and the Red Court is only for tennis and not for volleyball. Unless you are a member of the non-pension tennis club, you should provide your own tennis balls.