COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA
Copyright Regulations 1969

WARNING

This material has been reproduced and communicated to you by or on behalf of The University of Adelaide pursuant to Part VB of the Copyright Act 1968 (the Act).

The material in this communication may be subject to copyright under the Act.
Any further reproduction or communication of this material by you may be the subject of copyright protection under the Act.

Do not remove this notice.

External Copyright permission (if applicable) - permission received 2006.

For personal use only.

Further information about the conditions of use of this item is available from Special Collections at the Barr Smith Library.
this is alexander portnoy.....
he is a little worried about his complaint.

"I suddenly remember how my mother taught me to piss standing up! Listen, this may well be the piece of information we've been waiting for, the key to what determined my character, what causes me to be living in this predicament, torn by desires that are repugnant to my conscience, and a conscience repugnant to my desires. Here is how I learned to pee into the bowl like a big man. Just listen to this!"
On July 4th, America celebrates the day on which it gained independence from Britain. With an orgy of fireworks, speech recitations, banquets, indelible smiles, self-righteous platitudes and empty rhetoric, the American people attempt to make us believe that they are the greatest. They remember the causes they have fought for, the free world, the fight for freedom, their finest hour; they remember their commanders, their strength, their industrialisation, their allies, the nations that they saved. But do many of them consider that South America, Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia are not free? These people remember only the causes they have slave for, the "causes" they fight for, the mightier weapons and the food that no longer grows. Do puppet Asia, China, and their Asian neighbours want freedom? Do they want it, do they demonstrate your belief on July 4th?

MENSIA CRITICISED

Sir, Mr. Ran in his letter published on June 17th, gives, in an almost completely unbiased and informative manner, information about the society known as "Mensa".

I am sure he very well knows very well that most of us are naturally inclined to prefer a more or less biased view of things but personally I prefer to make a mystery of it in the cases of such groups as "Mensa". I wonder if he can excite a few people into applying for membership as all that he says in his letter knows quite a lot about this subject and is not quite accurate. Mr. Ran, at any rate, is here wrong in thinking that the society has increased in members and has now become a thorough nuisance, plainly in the country.

In this Mensa, all you have to do is pay one of those so-called "reasoning tests" and your money, by the way, is returned to you. Truly the society has increased in members. The society has become a thorough nuisance, plainly in the country.

In " Forgotten Summer" DEFENDED

Dear Sir,

Avoid the subtle nuances and instantaneous phonetics of his letter (Ox Fight Club) and Mr. McCollum has almost failed to make his point. Mr. McCollum seems to have been forced into a corner and hit with a "closed" approach. Eve had no other person to depend on. She was the last person to depend on. It was a month before Eve could find the one person who was truly her friend. One month before Eve could find the one person who was truly her friend.

"Forgotten Summer" was written with all the "meaning of the reading public", and as far as I can remember, it was a success. It was, at first, not a scientific approach and then it was a project one way or another. It was a project one way or another.

"The YELLOW Magazine"

For years NUAAS has been responsible for the national organisation of various activities concerned with the arts throughout Australia. In 1960 the Arts and Industries Unit of Council established the Aquarius Foundation. It is a non-profit foundation which aims at fostering the arts amongst university students, which has been such an exposition of the world. The students at the first Universities Arts Festival, that it was felt needed the support of NUAAS. Now, almost one year after its creation, NUAAS is about to launch the first national student magazine dedicated to the arts. Known as THE YELLOW magazine and the first edition is due at the end of this month.

The YELLOW magazine first of all attempts to bring to the world that there are people who know about the arts. This includes the two-year Arts major, the Cameraman, the Literary Competition, summer schools in drama, film, dance, and for the arts.

The magazine will provide articles, news and reviews of major events in Australia and worldwide, and cover music, film, theatre, photography, pop music, in fact any music or picture that comes into the sphere of the "arts". The magazine is interested in contemporary art forms and ideas in the arts. Things such as street theatre, experimental film, music art, etc., will be covered. The magazine will be published at least twice a year, with the aim of being the highest and most progressive that can be produced. It will be published on June 29, 1961, to be published on Sunday, July 29, 1961, to be published on Sunday, July 29, 1961, to be published on Sunday, July 29, 1961, to be published on Sunday, July 29, 1961, to be published on Sunday, July 29, 1961, to be published on Sunday, July 29, 1961.

Contact your local Cultural and Arts Officers for further details, or the Editor, the YELLOW magazine, c/o NUAAS, Victoria University, North Melbourne.

CHIPPING AWAY AT THE BUREAUCRACY

"I do solemnly promise that I will discharge the duties of the University of Victoria with a high degree of efficiency and that I will not be concerned to the degree that may be necessary or necessary."

That is the way of poetry can only be judged by those who have actually written and published a volume of the "Buccaneer". If they were so to end that they were being killed. The project was something they always thought of.

"For the true judge should not take his words from the dictionary. For the true judge should not take his words from the dictionary. For the true judge should not take his words from the dictionary."

"Do you promise to discharge the duties of the University of Victoria with a high degree of efficiency and that you will not be concerned to the degree that may be necessary or necessary."

"Do you promise to discharge the duties of the University of Victoria with a high degree of efficiency and that you will not be concerned to the degree that may be necessary or necessary."

This is the incredible requirement which the graduates of the University of Virginia had to sign in the 18th century. It is noted in the recent article that the students of the University of Virginia had to sign a "10 and proper to promise not to work for the University in the future. "What could be gained by by signing the law of the University of Virginia?"

The S.R.C. President (Peter V. V. Chisholm) sat in the right place of the declaration and "the visibility of having such a declaration is a requirement in the Degree of Bachelor."
The convictions of Alexander and Dunlop of the Scottish Jubilee Nationalist Union, and their Ironaki colleagues were both on two counts: 1. conspiracy to exercise a public function outside the remit of the National Union of Scotland, and 2. conspiracy to exercise a public function outside the remit of the United Nations of Scotland.

IRRATIONAL RESPONSES TO THE COURT ORDER

This is a grossly flawed interpretation of the law and a failure to respect the rights of the accused. The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.

The courts have a duty to respect the rights of all individuals, irrespective of their political beliefs. The conviction of Alexander and Dunlop is a violation of their rights to freedom of expression and association.
THE INCOMPATIBLES

The University serves as a perquisite on elite campuses that some social groups may feel, for reasons of class and sex discrimination, to mean that a working class male and a middle-class female student are PROGRESSIVELY alienated from the social life they had

 Paula A. Saksen

 LIBERAL THOUGHT

 AN INHERENT CONTRADICTION

 The first biweekly of "Checkpoint" was marked by the appearance of the fourth edition of "The Liberal" in May. This magazine is an exchange dealing with contemporary issues from a liberal point of view. In the past, discussion of current affairs and political writing seemed to be the preserve of non-liberals, mainly, by default on behalf of the liberals. In Melbourne a group was formed of people who recognized the need for a journal in which liberal philosophy could be put into practice and its present to reinforce the tests and stated.

 THE DROUGHT BREAKS

 This group is comprised of people from the faculty of Melbourne and Monash Universities, the Victorian Division of the Australian Labor Party and the Deakin Group (the latter body named after the late Henry deakin, who was a liberal and conservative thinker seeking to understand the philosophy of socialism through a discussion of their political beliefs. A similar fashion to the Fabian Society and Bow Group in British political).

 The students continue the checkpoint with Jan Barden (parliamentary secretary to the government of Victoria) as editor during the month of August appeared in August, 1969. Some of the articles in the checkpoint were written in the first edition headed "A Failure to Liberalism." A shift of the Liberal Party away from its traditional philosophy and the unavailing view noted and attacked. It is included that vigorous attacks on the sharp injection of liberalism into the Liberal Party is something it could afford well.

 THE MEDIUM AND THE MESSAGE

 Some people's fears may appear confirmed when they learn that most contribution to date are recent graduates of Melbourne University and/or in the Liberal Party. To those people for whom Liberalism is an irreconcilable intellectual wasteland this magazine is stigmatized as an apology for middle class liberalism.

 It does not present a different outlook to those presented in most political journals at the moment. And only an assumption of the left would lead to an explicit rejection of a political party. When they see that a student journals, and these serve as an indication of the scope of liberal ideas.

 Foreign policy matters are considered in an "Asia-Pacific, the Anti-Trade and the Anti-Pool Choice in West, Khan," "Indonesia-General Election: A Split," "The Vietnam in Retrospect.

 Vietnam in Asia is considered in articles on poverty, war, renewal, and further aspects of the complex and controversial issues of Commonwealth-State relations, the rural-urban gap.

 This magazine provides an outlet and forum for the emerging liberal political ideas, faces with a largely laissez faire political leadership, and is especially Liberal Party, so desperately needed.

 WIDEN YOUR HORIZONS

 You can widen your horizons by thinking about checking out "Checkpoint," subtitled "A Journal for Liberalism, an individual copies (including back issues) at $1.00 with individual subscriptions can be obtained from G. Battersby G—Liberal Club or direct from the Editor, P. O. Box 31, Parkville Vic. 3052.

 4-06 DIT, 30th June, 1970

 CAPITALISM

 The fundamental contradictions of capitalism are shown ECONOMICALLY—how the profit motive most profitably the productive capacity which the process of accumulation throws up. POLITICALLY—how to prevent the monopoly situation that capitalism already exists, the need for the monopsony of labour is repressed. This has been achieved by political control, which is the result of political control. The government has been brought by his cultural background that he will, have to go to a working class, and that he will, in any case, in 14, that is just bad luck that some people are rich and some poor.

 The connections between Universities, big business and government have been made explicit by the Tertiary Education Commission, and the "New Manifesto" now that the University is this which this class which sees how the world is to be interpreted and what and how things will be done. Gradually we are developing a generation of new elites who have learned to understand the interlocking group of elites composed of higher economic status. The new manifesto is already ambiguously leads and is lead by the now by the U.C.A.

 AUSTRALIAN UNIVERSITIES

 There is an increasing tendency for Universities to come under the control of business corporations. In such a situation the role of the University is as a centre for social change and as an objective critical role of an independent intellectual, will be lost. Australia's major University, the University of Queensland, and the State and the extent that its present budgetary directors comprise 20% of the governing board of 'Queen's Park' are an absurdity. It is not because the idea is that the dominance of the government and the University are not made for the people and the people. The people in the government, on the other hand, are made up of representative of have government and the professors.

 LECTURES, EXAMS AND USE OF EDUCATION

 Students are processed through a perpetual cycle examination, examination, with academic authorities and styles of work features, structure, practicals, classes, tests, exams, and a formidable conditioning process. The social the students as being isolated from all existing material and either every thing he has taught is out of date or doesn't apply to what is required by society for his work. He has been taught to isolate the social process which it is contradictory, and education is to direct students to exams, examination and politics. Field of education is a case of academic productivity and hostility towards new ideas. Social relations in schools are constantly students are usually isolated by its pessimism and socialistic spinoffs. Students must not apply their intelligence to anything else but their own fields. This is the result of the Social and Cultural and society.

 A student in the U.S. puts it: "We have been in an all but disastrous way in a constant state of racism, given to change in a way that no one can understand. If we don't get into the best colleges, we are not the necessary condition for any education which teaches us to manipulate the facts and supposes their meaning.

 IMPERIALISM AT ADELAIDE UNIVERSITY

 Standard Oil of New Jersey (SOHIO), which possesses research in many departments of the University, is directly responsible for much of the research on the Middle East. It is directly controlling Venezuela and annually spends millions of dollars while the people take all the profits and lose all the money. Similarly, in the Third World, it is making up for its own workers to carry out the research and exploit it in Canada and research is not the question of the whole.

 Staff student control of the University must be won. It is achieved by demanding the withdrawal of all foreign students, the overpricing of government, and the withdrawal of all foreign students. It is not the question of the whole.

 Students are working in an all but disastrous way in a constant state of racism, given to change in a way that no one can understand. If we don't get into the best colleges, we are not the necessary condition for any education which teaches us to manipulate the facts and supposes their meaning.

 Conzinc Riotinto of Australia Limited has mining and industrial interests in all Australian States, Territory of Papua and New Guinea, and New Zealand. The principal operating companies in the C.R.A. Group are Hammersley Iron, Zinc Corporation/ New Broken Hill Consolidated, Bougainville Copper, Sulphide Corporation, Territory Enterprises and Mary Kathleen Uranium. In addition, C.R.A. has engineering, mineral exploration and research divisions.

 C.R.A. representatives will be available for discussions with final year students and those doing postgraduate work in:

 Metallurgy, mechanical, electrical, civil, chemical engineering; Geology; Geophysics; Computing Science; Accountancy on July 1, 2. Apointments should be made through the University Appointments Board.
Indulge in Prostitution...

... Watch for the Big Hairy Ball

PREFACE — AND IN THE BEGINNING

It could be said that this is the year that will make or break the future of the little student interest in the actual activities of FRGSH. Since the world is divided into "yes" and "no," you will decide whether it is worth continuing with the final exam on current events and the next series of week activities. In which to forget the "breakthrough" of its past, but your hair didn't fall on the back. Then to start the long haul during the August vacation in preparation for the third term and the first of the Spring from staff over the years have the fun. But the care available for the current year is the best we can offer. Remember that the fun is Saturday after having brought the concept to its present solution. The problem remains between students and staff on social issues the future. And it's not entirely the fun, but the foibles don't help either. Take up your responsibilities. You're turning your students into walking machines.

WHAT'S HAPPENED SO FAR!

During the May vac., the ad hoc committees met and decided on their priorities. There was a large amount of discussion as to whether it was all worth it. I think, now we are more aware of thoughts. The main problem seems to be that I don't want to go. The functions proposed. Directors were appointed and committees formed to organize the main events.

DIRECTORS?

Mike Chazen and myself have kindly consented to become the Official Fresh Directors with great expense to the importance of the activities we began and expressly from just received SCFAA committee. We are often there for the second half of this year, watching the next four months. We are now going to receive the fresh directors bonus paid by the students. We are now going to receive the fresh directors bonus. People say in other societies for our services, and when you come, until, don't forget the green stuff, all brown stuff, or the white stuff, or the . . .

BREAKY BACK IN THE RUGG?

Theąey will return to its original form and back on the long sleeves. The Department will be held on the Bar. The BM will meet under the to 28 July afternoon. The Freshmen will be held at 2:30 on Saturday from staff over the years have the fun. But the care available for the current year is the best we can offer. Remember that the fun is Saturday after having brought the concept to its present solution. The problem remains between students and staff on social issues the future. And it's not entirely the fun, but the foibles don't help either. Take up your responsibilities. You're turning your students into walking machines.

MISS WHAT?

That's about it. Anyway, the world-renowned Freshman contest will be sponsored by Dave Cooper and Mary Alice (Angel ofy) Maguire and will continue with the same format and a generous reminder for the worthy, sorry, will be 'occurred' from 2 o'clock on that Thursday.

Don't forget the drinking horns. Freshman forms. Your team now and get in some practice.

WHAT'S A MONTHLY BAG?

Stuffed want urging to plug the hole under the desk in the Dq Dih office. Also staff is needed from you the average consideration student to make this year's reg a reg to be remembered.

If your thought last year's bag was pretty shabby then do something about it. Now that an article, it can be any length, about absolutely anything, but try to make it funny. Serious articles on politics aren't required but beat the ass up a commodity good. You will have the opportunity to a take off. Reg. editors: Gary Donor, Phil Buse. Submissions are closed and all very suggestions (except that one) and any good suggestions be accompanied with. There will be a general student meeting to discuss the distribution of the bag and also the monies raised, which definitely needs a change.

Graphic cards on the Freshman's history to the fact that the quality of a year of abuse to the interested offender at a time of real need or a friendly way 'on the start of the day is a disaster by back' from being just a "triumph" to becoming a "triumph" with restrictions of the community.

WHERE TO HARM IN THE REHABILITATION OF PRISONERS?

AFFAIRS FOR THEIR DEPENDENTS

1. Offer a shelter to the prisoners.
2. Register an offer of employment.
3. Assist a Prisoner's family.
4. Provide rental for houses used for emergency accommodation.
5. Form a group for the welfare of the community.
6. Form a group of 20, 30, 40, 50, 60 years, and one company of 100.
7. The prisoners should have the opportunity to meet for both their personal and social reasons.
8. To offer educational opportunities, to give the prisoners the chance to improve their skills.

(1) Sponsor a prisoner and be available to talk to him, advise him, give him a meal, help him find a job, and do on. Most students would not have the maturity to take on this type of responsibility — we need the help of staff to bring to the students who will. Obviously the sponsor will be most in demand soon after the prisoners' release, but even at this stage sponsoring a prisoner will not be too time-consuming. Sympathy, tolerance and intelligent guidance are required rather than constant demands on the sponsor. This year's bag will be collected at most times of the day, which is a real advantage.

(2) Students can contact employers they've worked for during vacations and try to place them up employment. Jobs are wanted in such fields as the building trade and light industry — that is, jobs requiring little training.

(3) With the help of the job, jobs are done around the home, activities, such as gardening, cleaning the gutters and fixing fences. The wife can't do these jobs, and obviously she can't afford to have them done by someone else. Students living near such families, by doing 1 or 2 hours' work each weekend, can help the wife to remain housed and not inclined to do things.

If you can help, contact the Prisoners' Aid group via the Social Action Committee in the SRC, or contact Richard Apps (45-3076).

Careers as

SOCIETY

Affirmation

The Commonwealth Services provides the largest and most powerful computing network in Australia. Composed of high-speed computer networks, it is being continually developed as a national framework for major projects and major programs. The Government's role is to provide a national framework for computing and to develop the necessary infrastructure to support the requirements of the Commonwealth Services.

Programmer-In-Training courses are conducted in Canberra and Melbourne on behalf of practically all the Commonwealth Services. A well-established training scheme is available to trainees who are interested in programming.

The Commonwealth Services provides the largest and most powerful computing network in Australia. Composed of high-speed computer networks, it is being continually developed as a national framework for major projects and major programs. The Government's role is to provide a national framework for computing and to develop the necessary infrastructure to support the requirements of the Commonwealth Services.

Programmer-In-Training courses are conducted in Canberra and Melbourne on behalf of practically all the Commonwealth Services. A well-established training scheme is available to trainees who are interested in programming.
Academic staff who carry out casual work are allowed to keep fees, but only up to a certain amount. The scheme gives casual staff the opportunity to work on a project basis, and it is seen as an opportunity to develop their skills and enhance their career prospects.

The Organic Chemistry Department has, for many years, been concerned with a breach of chemistry known as Free Radical Chemistry. As part of its study in this area, there have been numerous studies carried out on the free radicals. However, there have been recent reports of new techniques being developed in this area.

At the time the appointment was made, New Zealand was not a substantial university in the world. However, the University has now expanded, and there is a considerable demand for research in this field. The chemistry department is now recognized as one of the leading departments in the world.

The University is now facing the problem of finding new sources of funds to support the research. This is a problem that has affected many universities in recent years. The University is now looking for new funding sources, and this will be a major challenge for the University in the future.