PROSH PREVIEW

In a crowded little card-fune somewhere closer to heaven than the George Street Newsstand, an odd and assorted little band of螺on this year's Pulls Committee have been entertaining three girls who are amongst some special guests for Prosh. These special guests for Prosh will be from the latest James Bond movie 'Casino Royale'.

SEDUCTIVE

While all the girls are experts in the art of karate, only three are in fact true sex bombs who have banded together to offer feminine charm rather than bare breasts in their solicitation drives. Their costumes are authentic 007 costumes and are the result of the committee's attempt to make the girls more attractive to potential buyers. The costumes are said to be inspired by the movie "Casino Royale" and are designed to look like the character played by Daniel Craig. The girls are dressed in matching outfits and are seen carrying replica 007 guns and wearing matching accessories.

SEXUALLY INCLINED

If Prosh could get a number of women to admire them at the airport, they would become the talk of the town. This is because the girls are not only attractive but also very talented in their job. They have been seen performing karate moves on stage and in public places, which has drawn a lot of attention. The committee is planning to include their performance in the parade to promote Prosh and make it more exciting for the attendees.

PRE-PROSHER

What a way to go! 3,000 students, over 1,000 gallons of beer, a concert and a casino royale fun set. The big question is how to make this happen. The committee is working on a plan to ensure that the event goes off without a hitch. They are discussing various ideas, including hiring professional event planners, setting up a crowd control system, and ensuring that all the necessary permits are obtained. The goal is to provide a safe and enjoyable experience for all attendees while also raising money for Prosh.

PRANG

Considering that almost no effort has been made to promote Prosh, this year's Pulls Committee should consider taking a page from the past and incorporating some new ideas. They could organize a trivia night, host a karaoke contest, or even create a social media challenge. These initiatives could help attract more students and make the event more engaging. The committee should also consider reaching out to local businesses to sponsor the event, which could help offset some of the costs. In addition, they could consider offering a variety of food and drink options to cater to different tastes and preferences.

PROSH HOP

Hoping to take advantage of the summer season, the committee is planning to host a “Hop” event with a beach theme. This could include a live band, dancing, and a photo booth. To make it even more fun, they are considering organizing a scavenger hunt around the campus. The committee should also consider hiring a professional DJ to keep the music going and ensure a good atmosphere.

COLLECTIONS

We mustn't of course forget that the main (1) purpose of PROSH is to raise money for charity. This year's collection box is larger than ever (over last year's effort) and to achieve this, a number of collection boxes have been ordered. Over the years, a number of factors have emerged as being important for the successful selling of the paper. A great deal of effort has been devoted to ensuring that the collection boxes are placed in areas where the students are likely to frequent. In addition, the students have been encouraged to wear distinctive clothing to help attract attention. By following these strategies, the students have been able to raise a significant amount of money for PROSH.

THE RAG

It has been emphasised by the rag editors that the deadline posters (given out with the rags this year) are very important since they correlate with the front page of the rag. It is also emphasised that the rag should be planned in conjunction with the main event on Thursday night, and displayed prominently when selling the rag on Friday.

077 birds will act as housekeys at the Prosh Hall and every major event during the week will feature them, both on campus and off. The Wednesday lunchtime the Prosh fashion parade will highlight the costumes (prosh editors suggest a possible full complement of 077 birds will be collected at the Adelaide Airport at about 10.00 a.m. on Friday (1st).)

BIRDS PULLING

On Thursday night the Pre-Prosh Prang at Port Adelaide will be visited by the Casino Royale birds who will be found pulling the beer for a quarter of an hour or so. They will also be available for all associated services to any listener. Youngsters, let us hope just one, at least some of them will also feature at the Hop, the Breakfast and in the Procession, on Prosh Day itself. We must again point out that whilst these girls are gorgeous, they are experts in the finer points of self-defense and as such we cannot accept any responsibility for any injury sustained, particularly at the Prang where judgment tends to become rather clouded. Pictures of the girls appear in this special edition of ON DIT and we hope that we may have wetted your appetites enough to get your support with Prosh this year.

THE RAG

Join the casino royale fun set.

BALL

A high class show to start Prosh Week. With 5½ hours of great food and dancing plus two bands and a floor show, anything goes at what is obviously the ball of the year. A Casino Royale theme, so girls, dress to kill.

REVUE

Wednesday to Saturday nights relax and enjoy yourselves at the Revue. With a pop-art theme and three months of rehearsals even law students can't fail to produce a super show. It's worth 70c to see them make fools of themselves. Tickets at John Martinis, Union Office and the door. Bookings will be heavy, so don't miss out.

PRANG

The biggest show of its kind in Australia, it is a disquieting insomniac booze-up — so make sure you're there. Admittance at the door.

PRE-HOP

B.B.Q., beer and go-go girls at legendary Carlaw. A must before you stagger to the psychedelic hop. Buy your tickets from the SRC Office, grab your bird, get in early and get in.

HOP

Drift into the world of psychedelia with SIX reality way out bands, decorations and lighting effects that will convert the refectories into fantasia. Two jazz bands for the cats upstairs. A fitting way to finish Prosh and at 50c you can't afford not to go.

PROSH ELECTIONS

The following were the results of the recent postal ballot for 12 General Representatives of the 22nd SRC, which will meet for the first time next week.
