The Rhodes Scholarship.

A DISTINGUISHED CAREER.

A meeting of the Rhodes Scholarship Selection Committee was held on Monday morning at Government House, New York, for the purpose of awarding the Rhodes Scholarships for the academic year 1904-1905. The committee consisted of three members: Mr. G. K. Murray, Professor of Chemistry at the University of Pennsylvania; Mr. C. S. Bridge, professor of mathematics at the University of Michigan; and Mr. W. B. Murphy, professor of physics at Johns Hopkins University. The selection was made on the basis of merit, and the committee recommended the following three students for scholarships: Mr. E. R. Robinson, of Yale University; Mr. J. B. Adams, of Harvard University; and Mr. W. H. Davis, of Princeton University.
