THE UNIVERSITY OF ADELAIDE.

DEGREE EXAMINATIONS.

The following students passed in the examinations in the subjects on which they were examined for the ordinary degree of Bachelor of Arts at the annual examination in November, 1907:

ECONOMICS.

First Class:—Edgar F. H. S. Adams, Second Class:—None.

LINGUISTICS.

First Class:—E. S. J. Olive, Second Class:—None.

ARTS.

First Class:—John G. M. M. Adams, Second Class:—None.

SCIENCE.

First Class:—Arthur T. B. Adams, Second Class:—None.

PHYSIOLOGY.

First Class:—A. J. W. Whyte, Second Class:—None.

PHYSICS.

First Class:—H. W. T. B. Adams, Second Class:—None.

MATHEMATICS.

First Class:—H. W. T. B. Adams, Second Class:—None.

THE UNIVERSITY OF ADELAIDE.

On the retirement of Sir Charles Todd from the position of Deputy Postmaster-General of South Australia, last year, and from the position of Governor-Commander of the State of South Australia in the late year, which has only been occupied by his services for 15 years, the Government has found it necessary to propose to reorganize the Department of Postmaster-General.

The State of South Australia will thus suffer by the loss of a man of the greatest experience and integrity, and though his retirement is momentary, this event has come at a time when his services are sorely needed.

The Government therefore desire to express its appreciation of Sir Charles Todd's services, and to wish him all the happiness which this life can bestow.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS IN HARNESS.

For Sir Charles Todd has held the office of Postmaster-General of South Australia for sixty-five years, and has been a public servant for over sixty years.

In 1841, at the age of 25, he was appointed Postmaster at Port Adelaide, and has been in public service ever since.

The Government therefore desire to express its appreciation of Sir Charles Todd's services, and to wish him all the happiness which this life can bestow.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS IN HARNESS.

For Sir Charles Todd has held the office of Postmaster-General of South Australia for sixty-five years, and has been a public servant for over sixty years.

In 1841, at the age of 25, he was appointed Postmaster at Port Adelaide, and has been in public service ever since.

The Government therefore desire to express its appreciation of Sir Charles Todd's services, and to wish him all the happiness which this life can bestow.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS IN HARNESS.

For Sir Charles Todd has held the office of Postmaster-General of South Australia for sixty-five years, and has been a public servant for over sixty years.

In 1841, at the age of 25, he was appointed Postmaster at Port Adelaide, and has been in public service ever since.

The Government therefore desire to express its appreciation of Sir Charles Todd's services, and to wish him all the happiness which this life can bestow.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS IN HARNESS.

For Sir Charles Todd has held the office of Postmaster-General of South Australia for sixty-five years, and has been a public servant for over sixty years.

In 1841, at the age of 25, he was appointed Postmaster at Port Adelaide, and has been in public service ever since.

The Government therefore desire to express its appreciation of Sir Charles Todd's services, and to wish him all the happiness which this life can bestow.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS IN HARNESS.

For Sir Charles Todd has held the office of Postmaster-General of South Australia for sixty-five years, and has been a public servant for over sixty years.

In 1841, at the age of 25, he was appointed Postmaster at Port Adelaide, and has been in public service ever since.

The Government therefore desire to express its appreciation of Sir Charles Todd's services, and to wish him all the happiness which this life can bestow.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS IN HARNESS.

For Sir Charles Todd has held the office of Postmaster-General of South Australia for sixty-five years, and has been a public servant for over sixty years.

In 1841, at the age of 25, he was appointed Postmaster at Port Adelaide, and has been in public service ever since.

The Government therefore desire to express its appreciation of Sir Charles Todd's services, and to wish him all the happiness which this life can bestow.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS IN HARNESS.

For Sir Charles Todd has held the office of Postmaster-General of South Australia for sixty-five years, and has been a public servant for over sixty years.

In 1841, at the age of 25, he was appointed Postmaster at Port Adelaide, and has been in public service ever since.

The Government therefore desire to express its appreciation of Sir Charles Todd's services, and to wish him all the happiness which this life can bestow.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS IN HARNESS.

For Sir Charles Todd has held the office of Postmaster-General of South Australia for sixty-five years, and has been a public servant for over sixty years.

In 1841, at the age of 25, he was appointed Postmaster at Port Adelaide, and has been in public service ever since.

The Government therefore desire to express its appreciation of Sir Charles Todd's services, and to wish him all the happiness which this life can bestow.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS IN HARNESS.

For Sir Charles Todd has held the office of Postmaster-General of South Australia for sixty-five years, and has been a public servant for over sixty years.

In 1841, at the age of 25, he was appointed Postmaster at Port Adelaide, and has been in public service ever since.

The Government therefore desire to express its appreciation of Sir Charles Todd's services, and to wish him all the happiness which this life can bestow.