Higher Commercial Education.
Government Interference Resisted.

The Adelaide Chamber of Commerce recently resolved in a meeting that its members were not aware of any interference by Government with the conduct of the Chamber's Commercial Examinations, and that it did not desire such interference. The Chamber's examinations were conducted with a view to the selection of the best men for the various commercial positions, and it was desirable that the examinations should be conducted on the same principles as those of other educational institutions.

MUSICAL NOTES.

By Miss E. M. H. "Nan." The useful and entertaining article on "Music and the Practical Musician" by Miss E. M. H. "Nan." was received with much interest. It was a most valuable contribution to the study of music, and was well worth the attention of all those who were interested in the subject. It was evident that Miss E. M. H. "Nan." had a thorough knowledge of the subject, and that she was well fitted to write on the subject with authority.

The article was published in The Musical Times, and was highly commended by the editors. It was a most valuable contribution to the study of music, and was well worth the attention of all those who were interested in the subject. It was evident that Miss E. M. H. "Nan." had a thorough knowledge of the subject, and that she was well fitted to write on the subject with authority.

The article was published in The Musical Times, and was highly commended by the editors. It was a most valuable contribution to the study of music, and was well worth the attention of all those who were interested in the subject. It was evident that Miss E. M. H. "Nan." had a thorough knowledge of the subject, and that she was well fitted to write on the subject with authority.

The article was published in The Musical Times, and was highly commended by the editors. It was a most valuable contribution to the study of music, and was well worth the attention of all those who were interested in the subject. It was evident that Miss E. M. H. "Nan." had a thorough knowledge of the subject, and that she was well fitted to write on the subject with authority.

The article was published in The Musical Times, and was highly commended by the editors. It was a most valuable contribution to the study of music, and was well worth the attention of all those who were interested in the subject. It was evident that Miss E. M. H. "Nan." had a thorough knowledge of the subject, and that she was well fitted to write on the subject with authority.