A CHAT WITH THE EXAMINER.

[By Musicians.]

The results of the Trinity College examinations conducted in this city, on Tuesday, are published to-day. The examination took place in South Australia. Mr. Charles Edwards, the examiner, has received much praise from those who attended the examination, for the fairness and justice with which he conducted it. He has always been very careful to see that the examinations were properly conducted, and that no undue advantage was taken by any candidate.

The examination was held in the Trinity College, and was conducted by Mr. Edwards. The subjects were of different kinds, and were divided into two groups: the first group consisted of pieces from the Standard of Musical Progress, and the second group of pieces from the Advanced Standard of Musical Progress. The examinations were held in several rooms, and took place on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Edwards has given much attention to the preparation of the examination, and has taken care to see that the papers were properly graded. He has also given much attention to the correction of the papers, and has taken care to see that the candidates were fairly treated.

The results of the examination have been published to-day, and the candidates have been notified of the same. The examination was conducted with much care and attention, and the candidates have been fairly treated.
