UNIVERSITY OF ADelaide.

CENTRE FORMED FOR ADENIDE.

The Council of the Adelaide University having considered the advisability of forming a centre or one or more centres for the furtherance of their objects in the Colony of Adenide, the Register (Mr. E. H. Hodgson, M.A., M.B. Chir.) and the Council (the principal of the Institution on Friday evening, the Council of the Institution of Science and the University of Adelaide under the direction of Mr. H. N. Johnson, B.A., M.B. Chir. (acting secretary), and Mr. H. S. W. Ayliffe, B.A., M.B. Chir. (acting treasurer), having been duly elected representatives of the University of Adelaide, etc.) passed over a good and wholesome attendance of heads of departments, and a large number of students was present.

Mr. Hodgson said that the Council of the University had decided to form a centre for the University of Adelaide in Adenide, and that the centre would be opened on Monday next. The centre would be opened on Monday next and would be called the University of Adelaide Centre, and would have the object of furthering the education of students in Adenide and of bringing the University of Adelaide and the University of Adenide into closer contact with each other.

The centre would be open on Monday next and would be called the University of Adelaide Centre, and would have the object of furthering the education of students in Adenide and of bringing the University of Adelaide and the University of Adenide into closer contact with each other.

The centre would be open on Monday next and would be called the University of Adelaide Centre, and would have the object of furthering the education of students in Adenide and of bringing the University of Adelaide and the University of Adenide into closer contact with each other.

The centre would be open on Monday next and would be called the University of Adelaide Centre, and would have the object of furthering the education of students in Adenide and of bringing the University of Adelaide and the University of Adenide into closer contact with each other.

The centre would be open on Monday next and would be called the University of Adelaide Centre, and would have the object of furthering the education of students in Adenide and of bringing the University of Adelaide and the University of Adenide into closer contact with each other.

The centre would be open on Monday next and would be called the University of Adelaide Centre, and would have the object of furthering the education of students in Adenide and of bringing the University of Adelaide and the University of Adenide into closer contact with each other.