THE REGISTER

The morning of the 13th of March last, the Annandale Medical Man was called in haste. Mr. E. F. Turner, surgeon to the hospital, Dr. J. G. G. C. Cooch, surgeon, Dr. J. F. M. Hamilton, surgeon, and Dr. W. H. McKinnon, the staff, who had all returned from the morning's duties. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was Dr. W. H. McKinnon, the staff, who had all returned from the morning's duties. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention.

The Register March 13, 1879

THE REGISTER

The morning of the 13th of March last, the Annandale Medical Man was called in haste. Mr. E. F. Turner, surgeon to the hospital, Dr. J. G. G. Cooch, surgeon, Dr. J. F. M. Hamilton, surgeon, and Dr. W. H. McKinnon, the staff, who had all returned from the morning's duties. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention.

THE REGISTER

The morning of the 13th of March last, the Annandale Medical Man was called in haste. Mr. E. F. Turner, surgeon to the hospital, Dr. J. G. G. Cooch, surgeon, Dr. J. F. M. Hamilton, surgeon, and Dr. W. H. McKinnon, the staff, who had all returned from the morning's duties. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention.

THE REGISTER

The morning of the 13th of March last, the Annandale Medical Man was called in haste. Mr. E. F. Turner, surgeon to the hospital, Dr. J. G. G. Cooch, surgeon, Dr. J. F. M. Hamilton, surgeon, and Dr. W. H. McKinnon, the staff, who had all returned from the morning's duties. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention.

THE REGISTER

The morning of the 13th of March last, the Annandale Medical Man was called in haste. Mr. E. F. Turner, surgeon to the hospital, Dr. J. G. G. Cooch, surgeon, Dr. J. F. M. Hamilton, surgeon, and Dr. W. H. McKinnon, the staff, who had all returned from the morning's duties. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention.

THE REGISTER

The morning of the 13th of March last, the Annandale Medical Man was called in haste. Mr. E. F. Turner, surgeon to the hospital, Dr. J. G. G. Cooch, surgeon, Dr. J. F. M. Hamilton, surgeon, and Dr. W. H. McKinnon, the staff, who had all returned from the morning's duties. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention.

THE REGISTER

The morning of the 13th of March last, the Annandale Medical Man was called in haste. Mr. E. F. Turner, surgeon to the hospital, Dr. J. G. G. Cooch, surgeon, Dr. J. F. M. Hamilton, surgeon, and Dr. W. H. McKinnon, the staff, who had all returned from the morning's duties. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention. The patient was in the last stages of consumption, and was refused further medical attention.