The Attorney-General's Bill, to be introduced to-day, to provide for the admission of women lawyers to the Bar in South Australia, as now affecting only one lady student of law at the University—Miss Florence Jones, who is the only girl taking the course there. Miss Jones, who is 21 years of age, finished her B.A. course in March, and her B.A. degree. She will be enabled to complete the law course in three years. She intends to begin the necessary three years of service after graduation. Before entering the University, Miss Jones attended the Adelaide School for Girls, and at the age of 17 entered the University. Miss Jones lived several years in Western Australia, but was born in this State.

The University Grant.

At the meeting of the Education Committee of the Council of the University (Sir S. J. Way) said that the grant of £10,000 to the University was the first step in the formation of the Council, since the first report had been presented to Parliament, the University council, and professors, who wished to thank the Government for the increased grant of £20,000. It would be of great assistance, said Sir S. J. Way, towards the future of the University, and the increase in the number of students. He hoped, however, that when the University was an expanding institution, the increased grant would be of very great assistance to the University and the cause of higher education.

Women Lawyers.

From “Fairfax”:-I am pleased to see in the Register that the Government is about to inaugurate a policy of encouraging the education of women. It is a policy that is long overdue, and the fact that it is now to be adopted is a matter of great satisfaction to the women of this country. The Register has always been in the forefront of the women's movement, and it is only right that the Government should follow its lead. The Register has always been in the forefront of the women's movement, and it is only right that the Government should follow its lead. The Register has always been in the forefront of the women's movement, and it is only right that the Government should follow its lead.

THE ESPOERANTO CONGRESS.

The First in Australia.

The first Esperanto congress to be held in Australia will be officially opened by the Hon. G. H. Barnes, M.P., on Friday, March 24, at 2 p.m. The congress will be held at the Adelaide University on Monday, Thursday, and Friday. The congress will be attended by delegates from all parts of the world, and the total number who will take part is estimated at 200. Australia is presumably the last country in the world where Esperanto has been made compulsory, but it is to be hoped that the movement will spread. In most parts of the States there are occasional meetings of Esperanto clubs, but it is to be hoped that the congress will result in the formation of a permanent Esperanto society in each State. It is to be hoped that the congress will result in the formation of a permanent Esperanto society in each State. It is to be hoped that the congress will result in the formation of a permanent Esperanto society in each State. It is to be hoped that the congress will result in the formation of a permanent Esperanto society in each State.

The Esperanto language is founded on the French language, and is derived from it in its basic structure. It is a language that is easy to learn, and is therefore suited to the needs of the modern world. It is a language that is easy to learn, and is therefore suited to the needs of the modern world. It is a language that is easy to learn, and is therefore suited to the needs of the modern world.

Ministers' CORRESPONDENCE.

FOREIGN EXCHANGES.

PRESST EXCHANGES.
Proposed Exchange with the MacGill University.

It was decided at a meeting of the Cheshire Education Committee on Monday that the Director of Education should communicate with the MacGill University, Montreal, to ascertain whether arrangements could be made by which students holding Cheshire county scholarships, in engineering or similar subjects, could be transferred to that university for the latter portion of their university course, the MacGill University recognising the first portion of their course at a university here towards the period required for its degrees.

"This action of the Cheshire Education Committee is symptomatic of a growing movement," said Mr. G. R. Parkin, the organizing representative of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust, to a "Daily News" representative yesterday. "At present I know that there are between forty and fifty English students studying at the MacGill University. Young Englishmen who intend to practise their professions in Canada find it to their advantage to pursue some part of their course on Canadian soil. The local knowledge which they acquire gives them a good send off in their work, and apart altogether from that, it is well known that the MacGill University has the finest engineering equipment in the world.

"Next year," continued Mr. Parkin, "an Imperial University Conference will be held in London, at which one of the main topics to be discussed will be the provision of machinery by which reciprocity throughout the various universities of the Empire may be established."