On Friday evening, at the Prince of Wales Theatre, University, Mr. J. Russell Bunting, President of the University of Adelaide, delivered a lecture on "Commercial Lure to University Students." His lecture was well attended and was received with interest. Mr. Bunting emphasized the importance of commerce as a factor in the development of trade and commerce. He stated that the future of commerce was closely linked with the education of students and other members of the business community. He also discussed the importance of the trade union movement and its role in promoting the interests of workers.

The lecture was well received and the students seemed to appreciate the practical advice given. Many students expressed their gratitude for the lecture and stated that they would use the information gained in their future careers. The lecture was a great success and it is hoped that more such lectures will be organized in the future.
