Mr. W. F. Whyte, the director of the Adelaide University, has stated that it is desirable that increased facilities be made available to students to continue their studies at the University. The Adelaide University, he pointed out, had a number of senior students who had left the University for various reasons. He suggested that the University should provide a special course for these students, which he believed would be beneficial to both the students and the University.

Mr. Whyte also mentioned that the Adelaide University was currently facing financial difficulties, and he appealed for increased funding from the government. He emphasized the importance of education and the need to continue providing quality education to students.

The Adelaide University, he said, was committed to providing a high-quality education to its students and was working to improve its facilities and resources. He encouraged students to continue their studies and to make the most of the opportunities available to them.

In conclusion, Mr. Whyte expressed his belief in the power of education and its ability to change lives. He urged the government to support the Adelaide University and to recognize the importance of providing quality education to all students.
