TROPICAL RESEARCH

During recent years medical opinion has been substantially revised on the question of the relation of climate to disease among Europeans. The Commonwealth is vitally interested in the subject. The White Australia policy by which we are committed makes it imperative that every reasonable effort be made to improve the health of our inhabitants. A determined effort must be made to settle the tribe in their latitudes. Largely as the result of the uncertain country Dr. Queensland and South Wales, something is being done in the direction of tropical medicine. In Australian, and there is little doubt that the Australian Association for the study of tropical in the north will develop into a centre of practical work. The Commonwealth desires it as a matter of great importance that we should have the physiological study of tropical disease.

Tropical Research.

A meeting of about 30 representatives was held on Tuesday afternoon to consider the possible value of some of the facts of tropical medicine in the memory of the late Mr. John Creswell. Mr. John N. Smith, President of the Royal Agricultural and Horticultural Society and the Adelaide Chamber of Commerce, in an informal address, said that a memorial fund had been established for a memorial pavilion or new scoring board and that the new build the Commonwealth for a memorial pavilion or new scoring board.
