ELDER CONSERVATORIUM.

The second students' concert of the session will be given on Monday evening, July 6, when a varied program of vocal and instrumental music will be presented. Admission tickets at 6d. for the single concert may be obtained at the office of the Foundation students are also notified that July 14 will be the Conservatorium half-term, and are invited to make early application for admission.

EXTENSION LECTURES.

The record of Professor Jethro Brown's interesting courses of lectures on "The underlying principles of modern legislation" will be given at the University this evening, when the professor will deal particularly with the questions of humanitarianism, social equality, religious thought, and the modern science of politics. The public is cordially invited, and space is abundant in our advertising columns.

ECONOMIC LECTURES FOR THE PEOPLE.

The Premier said that he had been unable to procure tickets for the University lectures, but that the lecturer had been most cordial in his efforts to meet the demand. The lecture was to be given on Wednesday, July 10, at the Royal Court, and the price was to be 2s. 6d. for the general public, and 1s. 6d. for students. The lectures were to be given in the University Hall, and the admission was free to all who wished to attend.

THE UNDERLYING PRINCIPLES OF MODERN LEGISLATION.

On the evening of Tuesday, July 8, Professor Jethro Brown delivered the second of his University extension lectures on "The underlying principles of modern legislation." The lectures dealt with the increasing consciousness of the rights of individuals and the demand for a new code of human rights, and the new ideals of good government. The lectures were well attended, and a general discussion followed.

PRIZES FOR MUSIC.

In connection with the new scheme of public examinations in music to be brought into operation by the University of Adelaide and Melbourne in September, it has been resolved to award two bursaries—one worth £20 and the other £10—for each of the following subjects:—Female and male violins, female and male violas, female and male cellos, and male and female cellists. The prizes are to be awarded to the students who shall be judged to have made the greatest progress in their respective classes.

MODERN LEGISLATION.

At the University of Adelaide on Tuesday evening, Professor Jethro Brown gave the first of his University extension lectures on "The underlying principles of modern legislation," and the course will be concluded on Friday, July 11. The lectures are to be delivered in the University Hall, and admission is free to all who wish to attend.

NEW POLITICAL ECONOMY.

The Premier said that the Government was now in a position to announce that the scheme for the establishment of a new political economy that was being considered by the Government had been approved by the House of Representatives. The scheme was to be based on the principle that the wealth of the country should be distributed among the people, and that the State should be the agent for the distribution of wealth. The Premier said that the scheme was being considered by the Government, and that it would be brought before the House as soon as possible.

The Premier also mentioned that the Government was now in a position to announce that the scheme for the establishment of a new political economy that was being considered by the Government had been approved by the House of Representatives. The scheme was to be based on the principle that the wealth of the country should be distributed among the people, and that the State should be the agent for the distribution of wealth. The Premier said that the scheme was being considered by the Government, and that it would be brought before the House as soon as possible.