COMMONWEALTH OF AUSTRALIA
Copyright Regulations 1969

WARNING

This material has been reproduced and communicated to you by or on behalf of
The University of Adelaide pursuant to Part VB of the Copyright Act 1968 (the Act).

The material in this communication may be subject to copyright under the Act.
Any further reproduction or communication of this material by you may be the subject of copyright protection under the Act.

Do not remove this notice.

External Copyright permission (if applicable) - permission received 2006.

For personal use only.

Further information about the conditions of use of this item is available from  Special Collections at the Barr Smith Library.
CONGRESS FOR ADELAIDE
THOMPSON AND BOORD TAKE OVER

Next January the "Greatest Show on Earth" will pitch its tents in Adelaide for the first time in history. The 1931 N.I.A.U. Congress will be held at the Zine Corporation Camp, Largs Bay, and will be attended by over 300 students from all over Australia and New Zealand.

For ten days the Big Top will go up on the greatest event in Australian student life. Fresh from triumphs at Brighton (Vic.) in 1947, Somers (Vic.) in 1948, Talbot-le-H provided by number of the "On Do" editorial staff last Monday night for which he personally thanked me. After that I arranged with the "Vote No" supporters to withdraw their petition for a week, so that the referendum might be held in "On Do." I think he had to talk to Mr. Milhouse and his friend into writing a new "On Do" script, which, as one thing led to another, they couldn't resist. I asked him to let me have the script by Friday. I did not receive it. On Monday I made a point of asking him to leave it in the "On Do" box by 5 p.m., as the story had to be written up that night and taken to the printers at 8 a.m. the next morning. After work I made a special trip down to the S.R.C. office to pick up the case. It was waiting there. I then despatched a copy of the referendum story, together with the author's petition, which included some of our arguments. I then added a postscript from the University Secretary, making 30 lines in all for the "You" supporter. I gave 10 lines for their petition, which did not contain any arguments, and 10 lines to the author's petition, which was very reasonable, making a total of 50 lines.

"Don't Miss... The S.R.C. Acceleration Ball"
Two Big Bands
Two Big Floors
NEXT SATURDAY

LARGS CAMP—PART THEREOF

The proposal to give the Residential Colleges representation on the S.R.C. was defeated last week's referendum by 218 No votes to 178 Yes votes. Following the declaration of the poll, well-known St. Mark's College student Robin Milhouse made an outspoken attack on the editorial staff of "On Do" and upon the S.R.C. Executive.

He alleged that both of these groups had been generally obstructive to the Colleges' campaign and had interview with a number of the "On Do" editorial staff last Monday night.

Mr. Milhouse made the following statement:

LARGEST "ON "DIT" ATTACKED
MILLEHOUSE HITS OUT

"I am sorry we have lost that feeling that our case has been fairly put, and I am sure that the "Vote No" supporters to withdraw their petition for a week, so that the referendum might be held in "On Do." I think he had to talk to Mr. Milhouse and his friend into writing a new "On Do" script, which, as one thing led to another, they couldn't resist. I asked him to let me have the script by Friday. I did not receive it. On Monday I made a point of asking him to leave it in the "On Do" box by 5 p.m., as the story had to be written up that night and taken to the printers at 8 a.m. the next morning. After work I made a special trip down to the S.R.C. office to pick up the case. It was waiting there. I then despatched a copy of the referendum story, together with the author's petition, which included some of our arguments. I then added a postscript from the University Secretary, making 30 lines in all for the "You" supporter. I gave 10 lines for their petition, which did not contain any arguments, and 10 lines to the author's petition, which was very reasonable, making a total of 50 lines.

"Don't Miss... The S.R.C. Acceleration Ball"
Two Big Bands
Two Big Floors
NEXT SATURDAY

LARGS CAMP—PART THEREOF

The proposal to give the Residential Colleges representation on the S.R.C. was defeated last week's referendum by 218 No votes to 178 Yes votes. Following the declaration of the poll, well-known St. Mark's College student Robin Milhouse made an outspoken attack on the editorial staff of "On Do" and upon the S.R.C. Executive.

He alleged that both of these groups had been generally obstructive to the Colleges' campaign and had interview with a number of the "On Do" editorial staff last Monday night.

Mr. Milhouse made the following statement:

LARGEST "ON "DIT" ATTACKED
MILLEHOUSE HITS OUT

"I am sorry we have lost that feeling that our case has been fairly put, and I am sure that the "Vote No" supporters to withdraw their petition for a week, so that the referendum might be held in "On Do." I think he had to talk to Mr. Milhouse and his friend into writing a new "On Do" script, which, as one thing led to another, they couldn't resist. I asked him to let me have the script by Friday. I did not receive it. On Monday I made a point of asking him to leave it in the "On Do" box by 5 p.m., as the story had to be written up that night and taken to the printers at 8 a.m. the next morning. After work I made a special trip down to the S.R.C. office to pick up the case. It was waiting there. I then despatched a copy of the referendum story, together with the author's petition, which included some of our arguments. I then added a postscript from the University Secretary, making 30 lines in all for the "You" supporter. I gave 10 lines for their petition, which did not contain any arguments, and 10 lines to the author's petition, which was very reasonable, making a total of 50 lines.

"Don't Miss... The S.R.C. Acceleration Ball"
Two Big Bands
Two Big Floors
NEXT SATURDAY
...a common fellowship...

On the wall of Hart House, University of Toronto, is to be found this dedicatory inscription:

"The prayer of the founders is that this House may serve, in the generations to come, to the highest interests of this university, its students, its fellows. The students, its staff, its visitors, and its friends will find in Hart House a true home, a place of hospitality, of welcome, of open doors, of fellowship. As the Hart House of the past has been the home of Hart House of the future. And in our time, as in the past, may Hart House be a symbol of the best that the University can offer its students, its alumni, its friends. Amen."

New N.U.A.U.S. Dept. Formed

At the annual N.U.A.U.S. Council meeting in Sydney in December, the new Department of Agriculture was formed. It was felt that the questions of University Finance, the new Commonwealth Welfarism Scheme, Research and Research Grants, and Future Age Scholarships were all of such vital importance to Australian students as a whole that this branch of N.U.A.U.S. work should be placed in a separate executive body.

All Australian Universities are facing financial crisis. The Universities are being asked to pay more and more to the universities. The Commonwealth Welfarism Scheme is being held up for lack of funds. The research schemes are all being cut back. The University of Melbourne and the University of Sydney, in the last few months, have been in a controversy over the question of financial assistance to the new University of Tasmania.

The spirit of adventure in education is not alone. It is the spirit which shall make Australia great. The University of Sydney, on May 12-13, will inaugurate a new department of education. The University of Melbourne, on May 12, will also inaugurate a new department of education.

The spirit of adventure in education is not alone. It is the spirit which shall make Australia great. The University of Sydney, on May 12-13, will inaugurate a new department of education. The University of Melbourne, on May 12, will also inaugurate a new department of education.

BLUEPRINTS AT BELAIR

A political conference to discuss "Blueprints for Democracy" has been arranged by the Leagues of the three political clubs in the University of Melbourne, Belair, next week.

The conference is for all who would like to discuss or merely listen to the ideas of the various political groups. The aim of the conference is to give all students an opportunity to express their opinions and to gain a better understanding of the problems which we must face in the future.

As Australians, being a young and growing country, has been primarily concerned with the materialistic development of both

GAMMA RAYS IN CAV.

Parts of the famous Cavi- dian Laboratory or Cambridge University, have been used in the construction of the new building of the Cambridge University Science and Technology College. The new building is designed to house the Gamma Ray Research Institute, which has been set up by the Government of the United States.

All those who came to last year's political conference, or who have any interest in the subject, will find that the conference will be an excellent opportunity to discuss the problems which we must face in the future.

As Australians, being a young and growing country, has been primarily concerned with the materialistic development of both

Celebrate the END of TERM at . . .

The S.R.C. Acceleration

Music: Perkins & Bodenoch

Refectory

Saturday, May 13, 8 p.m.

Double Tickets: / at the S.R.C.
FOOTLIGHTS CLUBS' BARNSTORMING

This year's committee of the Footlights Club is now in all senses but six. These six members have un- doubtedly become institutions, though by whom they have been instituted is a matter of some conjecture. Miss Doreen Maund and Misses Gaster and Lean are the Lucky Prize Winners for 1950.

At the annual general meeting held in the George Murray Hall on Friday, April 30, the University in general and Fresher's in particular, was a very pic- turesque affair. On the dress committee, and also an in- accurate figure of a scale, or a new compound affront which Mr. David Barnes was in the chair, and the above remarks therefore cannot apply to that institution.

The President made a short introductory speech, the usual least favourite feature of which was to ring through the Treasurer's reply the audience had to force a laugh at this. An unsuccessful attempt was made by the Do IT group to have the Treasurer's report taken as read by the Secretary. But he, more- over, was not asked to do so; and he did—without, it seems, any. The tenor of his report was more or less along the lines that it was impossible to give a show for charity without the Press giving a financial loss with present high prices. The Treasurer, Mr. F. L. F. Hoult, who reported for the 1949-50 season, said: "The Australian crew, which was the main feature of the season, has to be a serious effort to give a show."

CELEBRATE END-OF-TERM . . .

The S.R.C. presents

The Acceleration Ball

Step On The Gas!

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 8 p.m.

DUBBLE TICKETS . . . / . . . AT THE S.R.C.

Step On The Gas!

MISCHROSCOPES

Mecanical Stages, Hemometers & Hemoectrometers by the world's leading manufacturers.

Convenient financial arrangements for Students.

WATSON VICTOR LIMITED

"Watson House"

228-230 NORTH TERRACE, ADELAIDE

Step On The Gas!

WATSON VICTOR LIMITED

"Watson House"

228-230 NORTH TERRACE, ADELAIDE

Step On The Gas!
ON LIBERTY — MARK II

The Price of Liberty in eternal Vigilance. But what is this liberty without which no man is free? In which of his works libels or peremptory threats are made upon the sacred grounds? It is instanced that this duty should be performed. It is not that task is subversive of the civil order.

"War and revolution are as yet the final bettor because of different interests. In both there is so much of doubt and force to make us engage in, or else peace and peace, without which the fruits of much blood and suffering will be denied to us and with bad personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or personal or persona}

W.E.A. ROOMBOOK

The contemporary art programme

The reconstructed committee of the Contemporary Art Society (C.A.S.) has now announced its programme for 1960. The success of the series of "Poppies" will be continued in a similar fashion, and the results of the competition for young artists will be announced. The programme is as follows:

1. "Abstract Art" — exhibition of modern abstract art, including works by notable contemporary artists. This exhibition will be held in November at the Royal Academy of Arts.
2. "Sculpture" — exhibition of contemporary sculpture, featuring works by well-known sculptors such as Henry Moore, Barbara Hepworth, and Alexander Calder. This exhibition will be held in December at the Hayward Gallery.
3. "Prints and Drawings" — exhibition of contemporary prints and drawings, including works by emerging artists. This exhibition will be held in January at the Tate Gallery.
4. "Performance Art" — a series of events exploring new forms of performance, such as dance and theatre. This series will be held throughout the year at various venues.

The programme is designed to provide a platform for emerging artists and to encourage the public to explore new forms of contemporary art. The Contemporary Art Society is committed to supporting the arts and promoting the work of contemporary artists. The programme will be announced in more detail in future issues of the Society's newsletter.