S.R.C. CALLS MEETING
Students to Vote

The Secretary of the Students' Representative Council (Miss Helen Northey) has been instructed by the S.R.C. to convene a Special General Meeting on Wednesday, May 2, at which the public will express opinions on the attitude taken by the Council on the wearing of Academic Dress.

A petition demanding that a general meeting be held, signed by about forty students, was received by the S.R.C. About ninety per cent of the students were from the Faculty of Medicine.

The petition was presented to Prof. R. R. W. W. Ward, M.R.C.S., Secretary of the Council, who handed it to Miss Northey. The petition demanded that the Council support the student's demand that the wearing of Academic Dress be abolished. The petition was signed by about forty students.

SIR EDMUND SPEAKS MILITARY TRAINING?

To dominate the world—a bloody, violent, undemocratic and lawless job—sir edmund everard speaking in support of the Commonwealth Recruiting Drive.

Students of this University can exercise a trevausious influence in the community. The importance of their part in showing how to think straightly cannot be overestimated. Australians do not wish to face another war, but we have the responsibility to face facts. Since we are isolated from the rest of the world, we are learning to suffer, to be courageous, and to realize the dangers that confront us.

Against the Western Powers Sir Edmund Eberhard, Sir John Emery and Sir John Morgan were each under armed and equivalent. We must not be complacent. It is not enough to say that we have had a good peace. We must be prepared to meet the dangers that lie ahead.

A military alliance was established, and the Charter of the United Nations was finally signed.

SIR EDMUND ON COMIT

"Consideration is clearly energy gambit," said Mr. Casey, MHR. "It is a matter of first-class interest in the world if and when they created a good deal of anxiety that University students should be subject to the study of this particular subject.

In giving a short history of Commonwealth and American collaboration in the world, Mr. Casey pointed out that the University of Melbourne was the first to be used for any activities. "We have the great advantage of the Melbourne University," he said. "It is an excellent place for students to study."
EAST VERSUS WEST

CANDIDATE HECKLED

"Australia is not at present threatened with war," Mr. Eddie Robertson, Communist candidate in the forthcoming election, told those present at a recent Socialist Club meeting.

Mr Robertson opposed that defence preparations are necessary if a country's peace is threatened, and he does not believe that Australia is in this position. In fact, he said, if they were pressed with that militaristic spirit which we condemned in Japan.

Both Russia and China have been as denounced by war as just another method by which the capitalist system is enforced.

I do not believe that the Communist system ever will be successful. They say "barged down to the bottom," but I am not willing to fight them. I am "flying with fire" when I suggested the extension of fighting to the Japanese mainland, and only trying to save lives for America by opening a second front in Okinawa to secure victory.

Curiously, Robertson stated that he and his party would not use war and the position of the worker by playing up the position in the community, so that the profits might be shared by all.

At the beginning of the question, Robertson said, cannot be fought by the workers, can be won by the workers and the working class in their struggle for freedom and peace.

Ho Ho, Casey

ARTS LETTER

A number of letters have been coming to attention in recent years to the University, and we feel it is time to raise the question of the Art Faculty in this college.

The fact is that the Arts Faculty has been neglected and it is time we took a stand against this neglect.

Francis Roy Thompson's current exhibition of Landscapes and Knoles at John Morgan's is interesting. In that it falls rather short of being a gift to the public, and is significantly short of the previous exhibition which, although it did not vie with the artist's earlier work, was more in keeping with his standard of excellence.

The exhibition seems to be a collection of work that is not fully developed or complete. Many of the paintings are unfinished, with the artist's signature and date visible. The exhibition does, however, offer some interesting pieces, particularly in the landscapes and watercolors. The colors are vibrant and the compositions are well thought out. The artist's signature and date are visible on each piece, offering a glimpse into the artist's thought process and the evolution of his work.

In conclusion, although the exhibition does not reach the level of excellence of the artist's earlier work, it still offers some interesting pieces that are worth a visit. YO, HO, HO!

"As the mad scum of things"

There always, always something to laugh at in life, something to laugh at in life, so let's laugh at it. Let's laugh at life, and make it our hobby. Let's laugh at life, and make it our hobby. Let's laugh at life, and make it our hobby.

The writer, who possesses a unique sense of humor, documents the outrageous antics of the locals, which are often the cause of much amusement. The writer's descriptions are so vivid that one can almost hear the laughter of the locals as they recount these absurdities.
