"SHADOW AND SUBSTANCE"

The Author. Paul Vincent Carroll was born near Dundalk, County Louth, Ireland, in 1900. The over-sensitive son of a poorly paid schoolmaster in a parish school, the struggles of his youth affected him deeply. He became a schoolmaster and was engaged in the profession at Glasgow for many years. Most of his plays were written for, and performed by, the Abbey Players; noted among these plays were "The Watched Pot," "Things that are Caesar's" and "The White Steed." "Shadow and Substance" received the award of a scroll from the New York Drama Critics' Circle in 1937.

The Play. "Shadow and Substance" is a thoughtful and very human play which stems from the Abbey Theatre where it was first performed in 1934. It is a deeply felt story about religion and education in one of the hill towns in County Louth, Ireland. The action centres in the living-room of Canon Skerrett's parochial house, and is concerned chiefly with the complicated pattern of the struggle between the formal religion of the proud continental, stern, but lonely, Canon, the anger of a young schoolmaster against the benumbing control of education by the clergy, the ignorance and violence of the people of the parish, and the spiritual uplift and beautiful simplicity of the Canon's servant, Brigid, who believes in the love of man, and mystically in the love of the saints.
