During the past 20 years few men have been more active in the struggle for university reform than Mr. T. Ryan, the Member for the District of Torrens. He was recently appointed Chairman of a Royal Commission (of which he is a permanent member) to inquire into the University question. In that capacity he has been called University Commissioner for the University of South Australia, which was succeeded by the University College of the very same name that has been decided upon after a conference held at the University of South Australia and the University College of the University of New South Wales.

The announcement was made with considerable amount of interest." observed Mr. Ryan, "Now that the government has decided to establish the greatest need in the education system of South Australia is the establishment of a university.

To do away with that university college, and the college system, is not a simple task. There is a greater demand than ever for the establishment of a university college. In fact, the majority of their revenue is derived from State taxation. So far as my knowledge goes, South Australia has never been more prosperous. The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia.

The question of supervision, then, is of the utmost importance. I ask the government to consider it carefully. The government of South Australia now possesses 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

Yes, that is the case. South Australia has never been more prosperous. The government of South Australia now possesses 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.

The University College in my district has been in existence for over 50 years, and it is the greatest need in the education system of South Australia. If the government would take this land and divide it into farms, and if the government would give the people of South Australia 50,000 acres of land in Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland, they will be able to cultivate it, and the government will be able to find the land. They have these colleges, and they have these farms, and they have these land grants.