EXTENDING THE UNIVERSITY

The Premier (Hon. A. H. Peake) and the University of Toronto have decided to extend the University by purchasing some land. This decision was made after considering the needs of the University and the potential benefits of the expansion. The land purchased includes several acres on the outskirts of the city, providing additional space for future development. The Premier, in his address to the Board of Governors, emphasized the importance of ensuring that the University remains at the forefront of education and research. He praised the University's contributions to society and expressed confidence in the organization's ability to meet the challenges of the future.

The Board of Governors approved the plan, and the necessary funds were allocated from the University's budget. The expansion is expected to enhance the University's capacity to accommodate more students and professors, as well as to facilitate new research projects. The community is excited about the prospects of this expansion, which will undoubtedly contribute to the University's prestige and reputation.
