Mr. CONEYBERGER discussed the efficiency of the education department and stressed the need for improved educational facilities. He advocated the establishment of a system of regional secondary schools, which would provide students with better opportunities for advancement.

The commission recommended that the education department should be required to conduct annual inspections of all schools. This would ensure that the quality of education remained high and that all students received a fair education.

The commission also suggested that the government should provide more funding for schools to purchase necessary equipment and materials. This would help to improve the overall quality of education and ensure that all students had access to the resources they needed to succeed.

In conclusion, Mr. CONEYBERGER emphasized the importance of investing in education and called for urgent action to improve educational facilities and opportunities for students.
