UNIVERSITY LECTURE TO WORKERS.

The president of the Trades and Labor Council (Mr. T. Ryan) told the delegates last night that some time ago the question of getting University professors to address the council on industrial matters had been raised. Professor Jethro Brown had told him that he intended to lecture at the University on "Syndicalism." He asked if he could address the Trades and Labor Council on the subject if he could induce the University Council to agree to that course. Mr. Ryan said the professor had intimated later that he would be prepared to deliver the lecture on December 2. The report was received, and the offer of Professor Brown was accepted. The hope was expressed that this would be only the first of a series of lectures on industrial subjects. The secretary to the council is to let the unions know of the lecture.

—Miss Kleinschmidt's Career.—

The latest report of the Serena Trust gives interesting particulars concerning its asset—Miss Clara Kleinschmidt. The directors state:—The amount now standing at the credit of the company is £279. It is proposed to reserve £100 out of this to carry on the company, the balance (£179) to be spent in the further education and professional debut of Miss Kleinschmidt. This balance has already been remitted to London for that purpose. During the period under review Miss Kleinschmidt completed her studies at the Royal College of Music, and obtained her A.R.C.M. degree, with 31 marks above the ordinary pass. Since then she has been studying at Cologne, Germany, under Professor Schulz-Doenburg, who was one of the head teachers at the Conservatoire Cologne until he formed a private school of opera of his own. He described Miss Kleinschmidt as the most talented pupil he ever had, and predicted a great future for her. Unfortunately, the professor died on the eve of his intended introduction of Miss Kleinschmidt to agents in Berlin, with a view to securing a professional engagement for her in grand opera. Miss Waite has, in consequence, gone to Berlin with Miss Kleinschmidt, and a further report on the position and Miss Kleinschmidt's prospects may be expected shortly. Miss Kleinschmidt's student days are now nearly ended, and it is hoped that she will soon make a successful debut.

Professor G. C. Henderson, a member of the Adelaide Public Library Board, was, at the meeting of that body on Friday, granted 10 months' leave of absence. Professor Henderson is about to visit Europe, and will not return till towards the end of next year. He mentioned that while away he intended to make historical researches in the interests of the board and the University. It was decided that the board should ask the Government to grant Professor Henderson an honorary commission to enquire into the collection, classification, and storage of archives.

UNIVERSITY COUNCIL ELECTIONS.

From "M. A."—The generality of these elections resolves itself into either re-appointment of the resigning members or co-operation of those of whom the members of the council approve. It is only on very rare occasions that any new blood is admitted. The fault of this lies partly—perhaps mainly—with the members of the senate, who fail to attend the meetings in any adequate proportion. The meeting on Wednesday next is of significant importance, since for the first time a woman graduate has accepted a nomination for a seat on the council. This is a new policy, and is therefore one on which it is desirable that the voice of the senate should be distinctly heard. If that shall be the case, and its decision shall run counter to my own opinion, I shall contentedly accept the position that the time is not yet ripe for such an alteration of existing practice. Personally I think the time has come for women to have seats on the governing body of the University. Long ago its portals were freely opened to both sexes, it has already a large number of women graduates, and has some hundreds of women undergraduates. In these circumstances it seems to me to be desirable, if not indeed imperative, that they should have some of their own sex in the council; and, if I may venture to suggest it, the council should meet a reform which sooner or later is bound to come, not with indifference, still less with opposition, but by so modifying present regulations that three or four of its seats shall be filled by women. As one who was admitted ad eundem at the foundation of the University, and who has watched with interest its wonderful progress, I shall hail the adoption of this reform as opportune and prudent.
