THE LATE SIR JOHN DUNCAN.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

There was a large congregation at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon, when Dr. Davidson conducted a memorial service for the late Sir John Duncan. Special music was contributed, and the service was well attended. Sir John Duncan had many friends, and his death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and his services will be sorely missed.

THE PRINCELY MUNIFICENCE.

Gift of a Mansion and a Park.

THE REGISTER.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1913.

In the House of Assembly on Tuesday afternoon the Premier (Hon. A. H. Pinkes) moved a resolution in favour of a gift of a mansion and a park, which was accepted by the House. The mansion and park are to be called the Sir John Duncan Homestead and Park, and are to be used as a demonstration farm and garden centre.

OTHER TRIBUTES.

The late Sir John Duncan was a man of many talents, and his services were sorely missed. His death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of great ability, and his services will be sorely missed.

The Premier—That can be arranged.

The Premier read the following resolution, in which he and the council agreed to make a gift of a mansion and a park, which was accepted by the House.

The Premier's Office

October 15, 1913.

Mr. Pinkes—Following upon our conversations of August 30 last, I have now arranged to hand over to the University of Adelaide a portion of the land known as the Sir John Duncan Homestead and Park, which is to be used as a demonstration farm and garden centre.

Yours faithfully,

The Premier.