A LOSS TO THE STATE

DEATH OF SIR JOHN DUNCAN.

STATESMAN AND GENTLEMAN.

UNIVERSAL SORROW.

The Hon. Sir John Duncan, M.L.C., died on Wednesday morning after a brief illness, and the news of his death came as a shock, because the latest bulletin issued on Tuesday concerning his condition promised an early restoration to health. Last week he was unable to take his seat in the Senate, but he had already returned to his office, but later in the week he attended and informed Ministers that he felt much better. Gallstones were the cause of his illness, and he was forced to undergo surgery. Still, the news of his death came as a shock, because he was a respected and beloved figure in Canadian politics.

A LIFE OF WORK.

A BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH.

Sir John Duncan's career was perfectly rounded. He was a member of the House of Commons for a long period, serving in various capacities, including as a Minister of the Crown. He was noted for his dedication and hard work, and was widely respected for his integrity and honesty.

The late Sir John Duncan.

Cudmore, and Smeaton, and Sir John made such good progress that there was no need for him to attend the lecture on Tuesday night. His wife and family were with him in the hospital, and he was in good spirits despite his illness.

The death was telephoned to friends and relatives, and the regret felt by all was profound. Sir John Duncan was one of the best known and most highly respected men in Canada. He was a man of many talents and a true gentleman. His death is a great loss to his family and to the country.

A Man of Principles.

Although a man whose financial interests were closely interwoven with many of the industries of the country, Sir John Duncan held personal considerations to interfere with his public life, and everywhere he was recognized that he had done all that was in his power to advance the prosperity of the State in which he lived.

The news of his death will come as a great shock to everybody, more particularly to the hon. member for the riding of the Parkdale and South Vancouver, who was a close friend of the late Sir John Duncan. He was a man of high principle and integrity, and his passing will be deeply felt by all who knew him.

A Legislative Student.

When he took in hand any subject with the object of submitting a proposal to Parliament, one that occasionally sprang to mind in the General Assembly or during the session, he attempted the task of proving the matter to the satisfaction of those who were interested in it.

In Chicago, he was known as a man of special ability, with a natural bent for public service. In the House of Commons, he was almost constantly prominent in the debates, and his opinions were respected by the other members. His speech in favor of the Bill to regulate the immigration of Chinese from the Far East was highly commended by his colleagues.

In 1867, he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1871 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1873 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1875 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1877 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1880 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1883 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1886 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1889 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1892 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1895 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1898 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1901 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1904 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1907 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1910 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1913 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1916 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1919 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1922 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1925 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1928 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1931 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1934 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1937 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1940 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1943 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1946 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1949 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1952 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1955 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1958 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1961 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1964 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1967 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1970 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1973 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1976 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1979 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1982 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1985 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1988 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1991 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 1994 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 1997 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 2000 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 2003 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 2006 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 2009 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 2012 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 2015 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 2018 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 2021 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 2024 he was elected to the House of Assembly. In 2027 he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council, and in 2030 he was elected to the House of Assembly.