Brookland Hall School of Mines, to case a connection with places where rails were laid, it might make the Central or the Telegraph Company a matter of some difficulty. The suggestion was not carried.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought he would like to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that the connection was quite as important to the University as it was to the Central School.

The Hon. E. LUCAS, said that he thought it would be a good thing to have the connection with the public school, which was now being carried on at the Central School. The connection was of great importance to the University, and he thought it should be continued.