Prime Minister Sympathetic.

TO ASSIST MAWSON.

MELBOURNE, September 3.

A deputation, consisting of Professor David and Monsieur, and Dr. J. W. Barrett (who represented the anesthetic committee of the Hospital Board), waited upon the Prime Minister (Mr. Cook) this afternoon, and asked that the Federal Government should grant £2,000 to enable the anesthetic committee to proceed with the work of equipping the Government to bring back to Australia. The deputation was received by the Premier and his Chief Secretary, and the suggestion was given in reply that the Government would consider the matter and report to the deputation.

The deputation represented to the Premier that the contemplated introduction of anesthetic to the National Public Health Laboratory would be a great step forward in the medical profession of the country, and, if anesthetic were to be used in any hospital in the Commonwealth, the Premier was told that the Government would be expected to extend the same privileges to the National Public Health Laboratory.

In the course of the discussion, the Premier advised the deputation to continue their efforts in connection with the National Public Health Laboratory, and that, if the Government were to extend the same privileges to the National Public Health Laboratory, the deputation would be expected to extend the same privileges to the National Public Health Laboratory.

The Premier also advised the deputation to continue their efforts in connection with the National Public Health Laboratory, and that, if the Government were to extend the same privileges to the National Public Health Laboratory, the deputation would be expected to extend the same privileges to the National Public Health Laboratory.

The deputation returned to the National Public Health Laboratory, and, after consultation, advised the Premier that the deputation would continue their efforts in connection with the National Public Health Laboratory, and that, if the Government were to extend the same privileges to the National Public Health Laboratory, the deputation would be expected to extend the same privileges to the National Public Health Laboratory.
