How Lieut. Ninnes and Dr. Morts Died.

Polar Mortality.

Provisional Escape of Dr. Mawson.

SYDNEY, March 8.

A wireless message received from Professor David from Dr. Mawson's vessel Adelie Land, via the Aurora arrived on January 15. All the three men were healthy and well, and Dr. Mawson on December 4 were 600 miles south of the east coast of Adelie Land. The weather was clear, with wind from the east-south-east of the winter quarters. Lieut. Ninnes, with angina, was sent to bed, while Dr. Mawson and both the men have been suffering from dyspepsia and other symptoms, and both the men have been suffering from dyspepsia and other symptoms. The situation is critical, and it is feared that the men may not survive. The men are in good spirits and are keeping up their usual activities.

M.J. FISCHER

Mr. J. Fisher

DIH also passed her first year for the degree of Master of Science, and secured second-class in the second-year course. Mr. Fisher is the possessor of a highly promising voice, has a very fine beard, and Madame Minna Fisher, the son of Mr. Fisher, who has been a great help to the Miss Fisher, the Miss Fisher.

Mr. Harold Parsons.

Mr. Harold Parsons, of Miss Fisher, well-known cellist of the Conservatorium staff, has been granted a year's leave of absence to enable him to continue his musical studies in Europe. He will depart for London in a few weeks, and expects to return by the end of the year. He has already made arrangements for his studies in the Conservatorium of Music in Paris.