University and Country Children.

The position of country children under the Government’s proposed primary education scheme is, as Mr. Carmichael (Minister of Education), says, ‘unsatisfactory’. Any parent cannot afford to keep his child out of school, and if they are to get a living allowance under the proposed scheme, then it will have to be increased. The Government has met the difficulty, and by giving the school the control of the system, the children will compete on equal terms with the city child, who has better opportunities of education.
