S.A. MUSICAL scholarship

MERLE ROBERTSON WINNER

A brilliant young student of Mr. William Silver has won the South Australian Musical Scholarship. After three years of study at the Royal Conservatory of Music, Robertson, a twenty-two-year-old girl, was the successful competitor. The Scholarship, which is open to students who have shown musical aptitude as four years of age, has been intended to improve the musical education of the State. The late G. C. J. Stevens and Dr. B. Schober, who have been director of the Conservatorium of Music and the late Dr. E. C. Steiner, have been active in the promotion of music in South Australia. Miss Robertson has made public appearances at the State Library and the Royal Musical Society, and her performances have been highly appreciated. She has been an active member of the orchestra, and her performances have been highly praised.
