It was decided several days before the Melbourne University Senate convened on the motion of Sir George Dromgold, a representative of the Federal University, that the University should be associated with the proposed Federal University of Technology in Australia and give lectures on subjects in the field of science. It was considered that this would be necessary for the University to have access to the facilities of the Federal University of Technology and that it would be possible to attract more students. The Senate decided to appoint a committee to investigate the possibility of this association.

Mr. W. A. Horn, of Wimbeldon Park, London, has sent to the Editor of the Sydney Medical Journal an appreciation of Sir Edward Stirling, the former medical colleague of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

The University Council met on 30th June and accepted the resignation of Dr. J. R. Wilton, the new Professor of Mathematics, due to the personal reasons of his wife.

The University held a special meeting of the Senate to consider the recommendations of the committee appointed to investigate the proposed association with the Federal University of Technology. The Senate decided to proceed with the association.
