MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

[By Bohemia.]

The Elder Conservatorium of Music is resuming its regular course of examinations. The names of 20 students have been handed in for the course of study, which, in the first instance, will consist of the study of counterpoint, fugue, and ensemble work. The main examination will take place on Friday, the 14th of June, at the Conservatorium, and will comprise exercises in counterpoint, fugue, and ensemble work. The examination will be conducted by Mr. J. H. B. G. Shaw and Mr. T. G. Shaw. The names of the students who will be examined will be announced in due course.

THE COURSES IN COMMERCE.

HISTORY AND PROSPECTS.

[By the Registrar of the University.]

A course of commerce at the University of Tasmania has now been arranged. The course is designed to provide a comprehensive study of the various aspects of commerce, covering subjects such as trade, finance, and business management. The course will be launched in the academic year 1921-22 and will be open to students from all parts of the Commonwealth.

There is every reason to suppose that many persons engaged in commerce will find the examinations of the several stages in the course of study to be of the greatest possible utility. It is hoped that a number of students will participate in the examinations, which will be held on the 14th of June. The examinations will be conducted by the examiner, Mr. T. G. Shaw, and will cover the work of the course for the year. The courses will consist of the study of business law, business ethics, and business administration, and will be open to students from all parts of the Commonwealth.

There are many persons who have been engaged in commerce for a number of years, and who have found that the examinations of the several stages in the course of study have been of great service to them. It is hoped that a number of students will participate in the examinations, which will be held on the 14th of June. The examinations will be conducted by the examiner, Mr. T. G. Shaw, and will cover the work of the course for the year. The courses will consist of the study of business law, business ethics, and business administration, and will be open to students from all parts of the Commonwealth.
