Catherine Helen Spence Scholarship.

The announcement that the late Miss Catherine Helen Spence had bequeathed to the South Australian government £1,000 for the establishment of a scholarship to aid students of women of any religious or political belief who have been five years residents of South Australia, and have obtained a position from the Board of Censorship, was received with the best feelings of gratitude and admiration. A copy of the regulations governing the award of the scholarship has been obtained and published in the Register for application.

REGISTRAR.

Catherine Helen Spence Scholarship.

--The League of Nations and Reduction of Armaments.--

The Emperor of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, speaking of the League of Nations, recently said that unless it was created in a real League of Nations, there could be no League of Nations. He cited the examples of the League of Nations and the British Empire as models for what a League of Nations might achieve. He also spoke of the need for a League of Nations that could truly guarantee the freedom and independence of nations.

--The League of Nations and Reduction of Armaments.--

The Emperor of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, speaking of the League of Nations, recently said that unless it was created in a real League of Nations, there could be no League of Nations. He cited the examples of the League of Nations and the British Empire as models for what a League of Nations might achieve. He also spoke of the need for a League of Nations that could truly guarantee the freedom and independence of nations.

--The League of Nations and Reduction of Armaments.--

The Emperor of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, speaking of the League of Nations, recently said that unless it was created in a real League of Nations, there could be no League of Nations. He cited the examples of the League of Nations and the British Empire as models for what a League of Nations might achieve. He also spoke of the need for a League of Nations that could truly guarantee the freedom and independence of nations.

--The League of Nations and Reduction of Armaments.--

The Emperor of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, speaking of the League of Nations, recently said that unless it was created in a real League of Nations, there could be no League of Nations. He cited the examples of the League of Nations and the British Empire as models for what a League of Nations might achieve. He also spoke of the need for a League of Nations that could truly guarantee the freedom and independence of nations.

--The League of Nations and Reduction of Armaments.--

The Emperor of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, speaking of the League of Nations, recently said that unless it was created in a real League of Nations, there could be no League of Nations. He cited the examples of the League of Nations and the British Empire as models for what a League of Nations might achieve. He also spoke of the need for a League of Nations that could truly guarantee the freedom and independence of nations.

--The League of Nations and Reduction of Armaments.--

The Emperor of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, speaking of the League of Nations, recently said that unless it was created in a real League of Nations, there could be no League of Nations. He cited the examples of the League of Nations and the British Empire as models for what a League of Nations might achieve. He also spoke of the need for a League of Nations that could truly guarantee the freedom and independence of nations.

--The League of Nations and Reduction of Armaments.--

The Emperor of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, speaking of the League of Nations, recently said that unless it was created in a real League of Nations, there could be no League of Nations. He cited the examples of the League of Nations and the British Empire as models for what a League of Nations might achieve. He also spoke of the need for a League of Nations that could truly guarantee the freedom and independence of nations.

--The League of Nations and Reduction of Armaments.--

The Emperor of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, speaking of the League of Nations, recently said that unless it was created in a real League of Nations, there could be no League of Nations. He cited the examples of the League of Nations and the British Empire as models for what a League of Nations might achieve. He also spoke of the need for a League of Nations that could truly guarantee the freedom and independence of nations.

--The League of Nations and Reduction of Armaments.--

The Emperor of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, speaking of the League of Nations, recently said that unless it was created in a real League of Nations, there could be no League of Nations. He cited the examples of the League of Nations and the British Empire as models for what a League of Nations might achieve. He also spoke of the need for a League of Nations that could truly guarantee the freedom and independence of nations.

--The League of Nations and Reduction of Armaments.--

The Emperor of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, speaking of the League of Nations, recently said that unless it was created in a real League of Nations, there could be no League of Nations. He cited the examples of the League of Nations and the British Empire as models for what a League of Nations might achieve. He also spoke of the need for a League of Nations that could truly guarantee the freedom and independence of nations.

--The League of Nations and Reduction of Armaments.--

The Emperor of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, speaking of the League of Nations, recently said that unless it was created in a real League of Nations, there could be no League of Nations. He cited the examples of the League of Nations and the British Empire as models for what a League of Nations might achieve. He also spoke of the need for a League of Nations that could truly guarantee the freedom and independence of nations.

--The League of Nations and Reduction of Armaments.--

The Emperor of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, speaking of the League of Nations, recently said that unless it was created in a real League of Nations, there could be no League of Nations. He cited the examples of the League of Nations and the British Empire as models for what a League of Nations might achieve. He also spoke of the need for a League of Nations that could truly guarantee the freedom and independence of nations.