CONFERECE OF MUSIC TEACHERS

ADDRESS BY PROFESSOR DAVIES.

At the invitation of Professor Harold Davies, Mus. Doc., a large number of music teachers assembled at the Elder Conservatorium on Monday when the Conference was inaugurated. The idea of bringing metropolitan and country teachers together, especially in the case of those from the Conservatorium. A reception and address was held in the Conservatorium, and dinner was provided. The Conference was opened by Dr. Davies, who described it as a "musical feast." The sessions were held in the Conservatorium, with discussions and recitals, as well as to vocal and instrumental teachers. There was a "chamber music" group, which gave a chamber music concert. On Tuesday, the Friday evening, the famous quartet of Miss Edith Salter, Miss B. R. Davies, Miss E. F. Mill, and Miss B. D. Gill, played Beethoven's quartet in C major. The quartet was followed by a recital of solo music, which included works by Mozart, Beethoven, and Schubert. The evening ended with a reception at the Conservatorium, which was attended by a large number of teachers and students.

Dr. Harold Davies.

The conference adjourned for afternoon tea, which was provided in one of the rooms of the Conservatorium. Later in the afternoon, the program continued with a series of lectures and workshops. One of the highlights was a lecture on the "history of music," delivered by Dr. Davies.

Music as Education.

Professor Davies, who was received with applause, delivered a fine lecture on "The place of music in education." He said it would perhaps be more helpful to address his audience on "The place of music in human life." His lecture was received with enthusiasm, and the audience was left with a deeper appreciation of the importance of music in our lives.

The Conference concluded with a final address by Dr. Davies, which was met with enthusiastic applause. The Conference was a great success, and it is hoped that similar conferences will be held in the future.
