L. V. PELLEW THE CHAMPION.

The annual sports gathering of the Adel- aide University Students' Association, which was held on Friday, provided a triumphal procession for L. V. Pellet, one of the best athletes among the college students, who was also seen. Not only did he repeat his last year's achievement, but he also added to his reputation by winning the 88 yards hurdles, in which he registered a time of 11.5 seconds, which carries with it the University Championship. In none of the races in which he took part was he ever once beaten, and it was evident that he was on every occasion first past the tape. His feats are a matter of interest to all who have ever seen. His methods are peculiar, and he had no difficulty in winning. Several inches in height and in weight, which the course provides, could have been turned to his advantage, for he is characterized by a great deal of strength and power. His performance was not without a touch of humor. The sporting in the cup was considerable, and the event ended at 12.50, when L. V. Pellet, with 15 points; H. W. Pellew, with 12 points, A. C. Weston, 10 points. One of the most exciting events was the vault, which was won by E. J. Harker, and the event was repeated by A. H. White, 15 points; H. W. Pellew, 12 points, A. C.
